

SPECTRUM

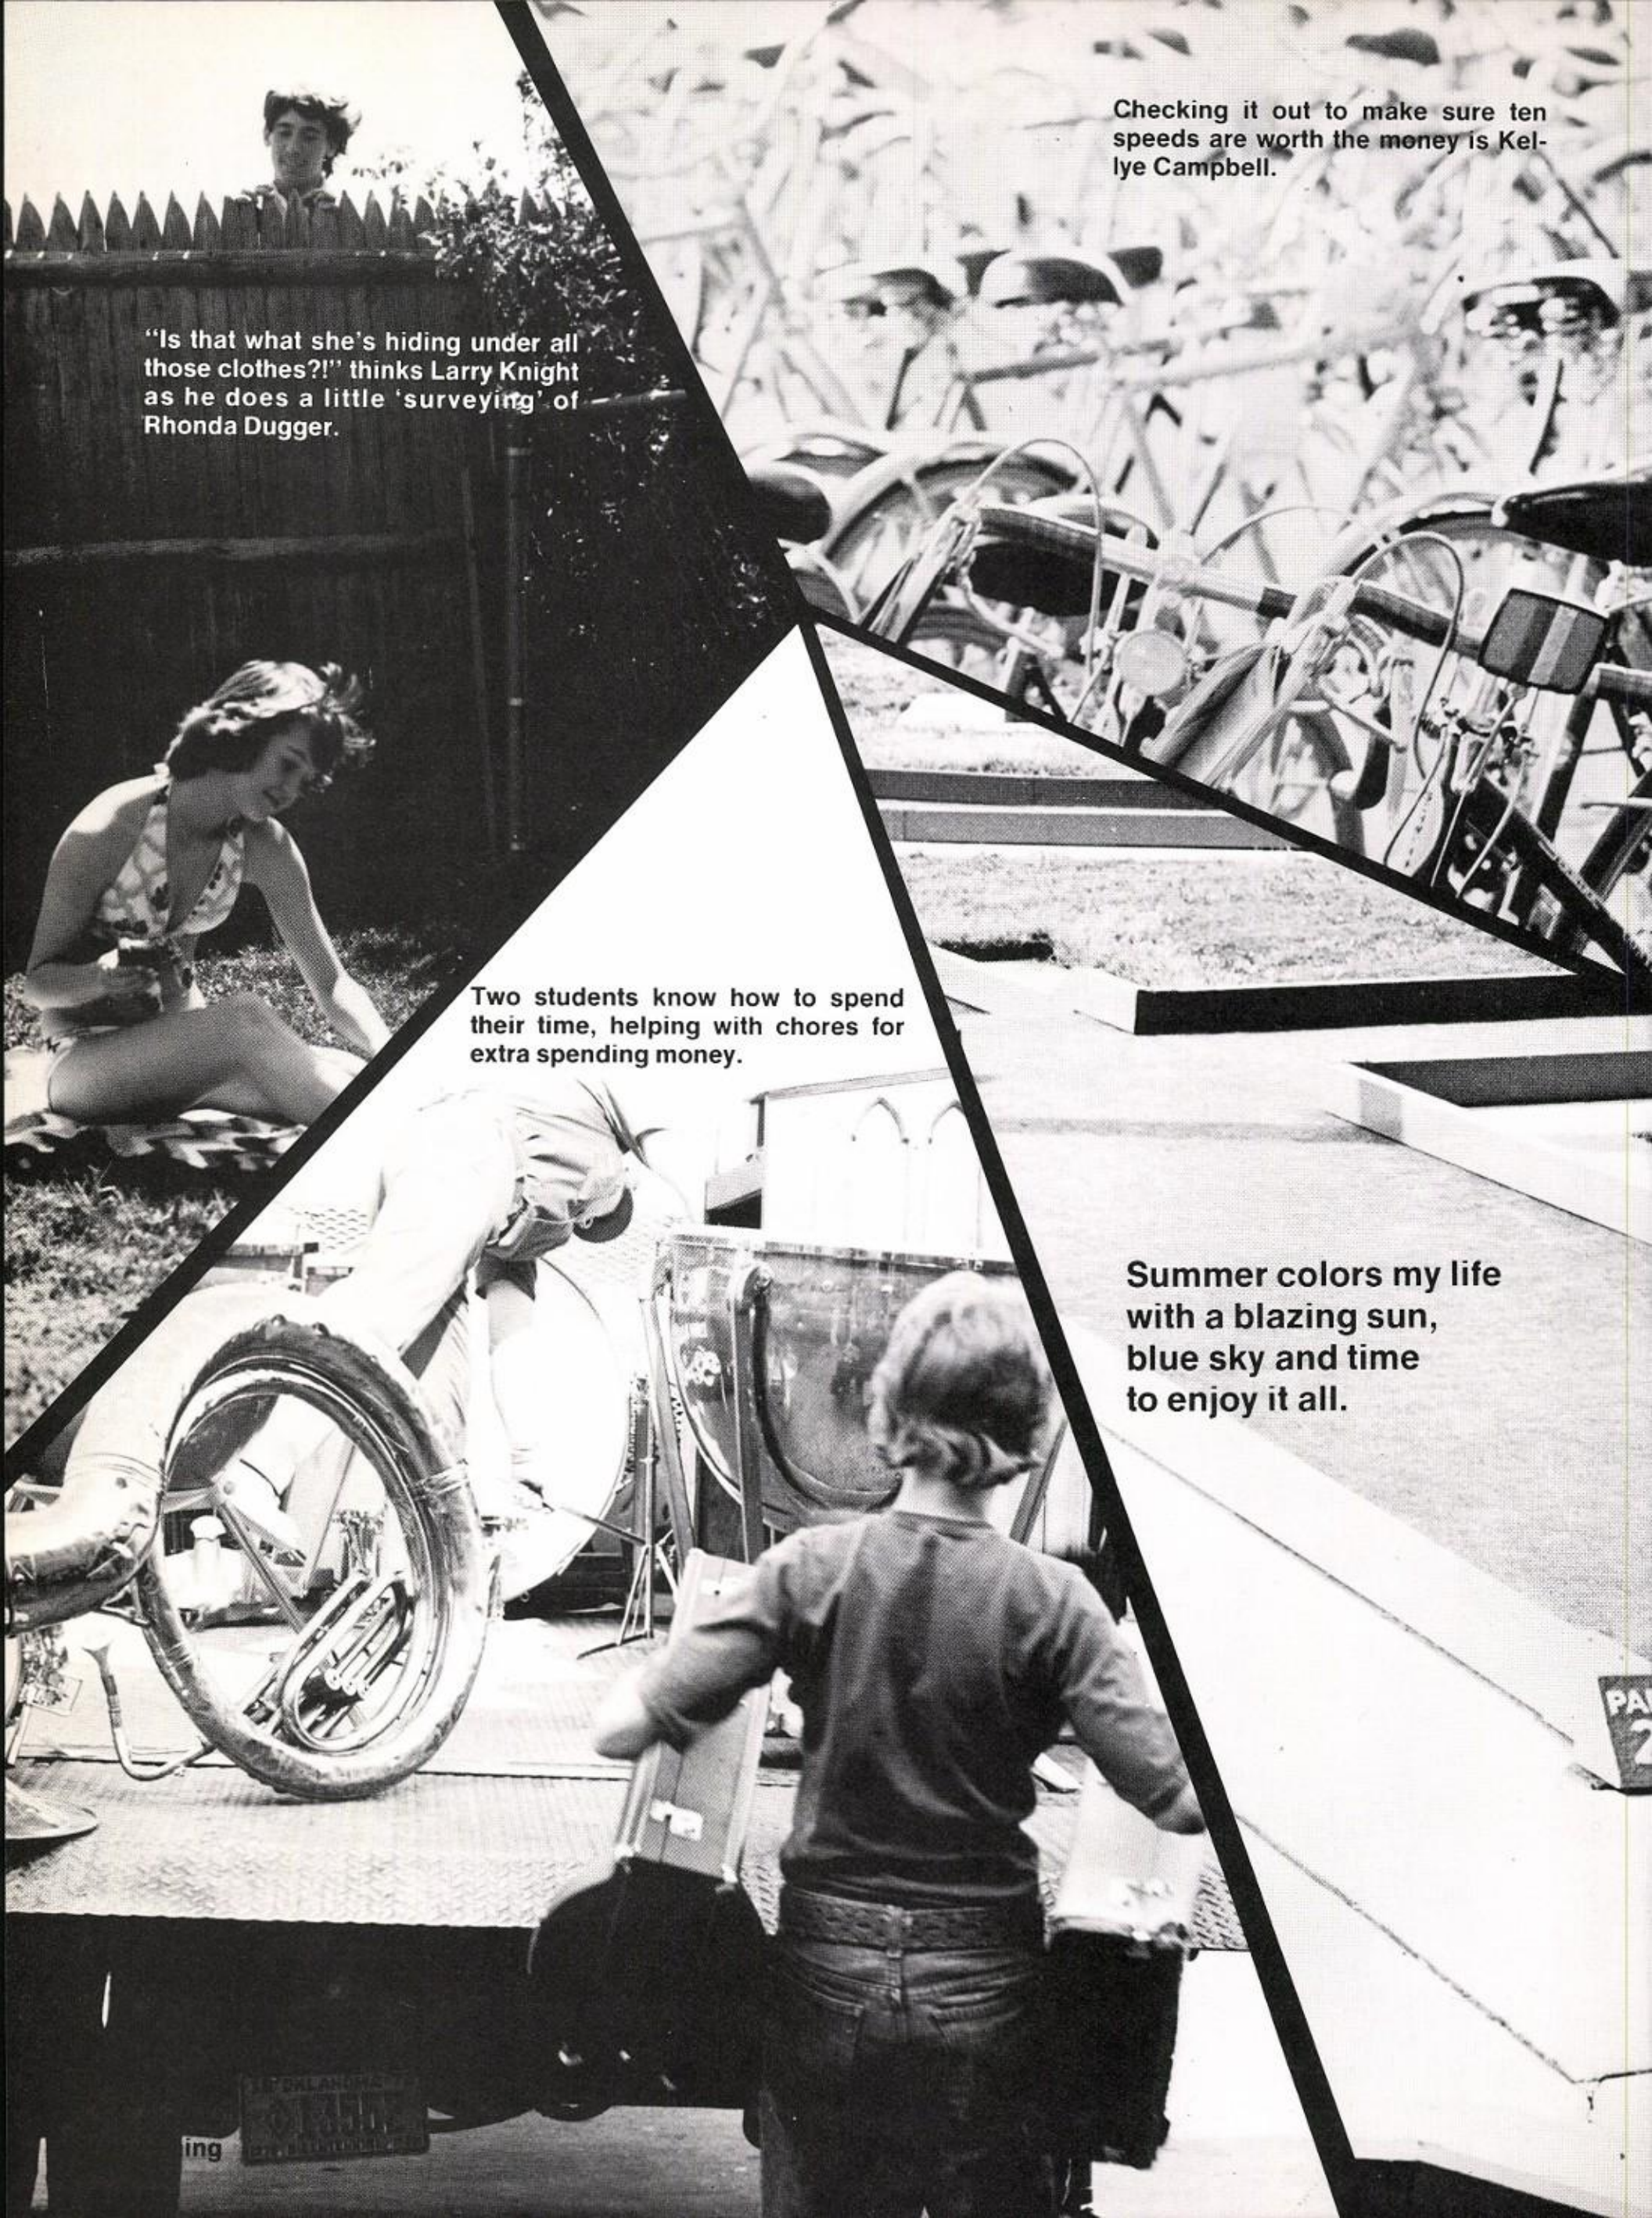

1977 GENERAL

I project a spectrum of images.
I have gone the range from socialite to outcast.
I have learned not to let my image of myself be distorted by what others see.
In my eyes the images unite into one . . . me.

1977 GENERAL
Published by the yearbook staff of U. S. Grant High School
Oklahoma City, Oklahoma 73119
Volume 24

Checking it out to make sure ten speeds are worth the money is Kelye Campbell.

"Is that what she's hiding under all those clothes?!" thinks Larry Knight as he does a little 'surveying' of Rhonda Dugger.

Two students know how to spend their time, helping with chores for extra spending money.

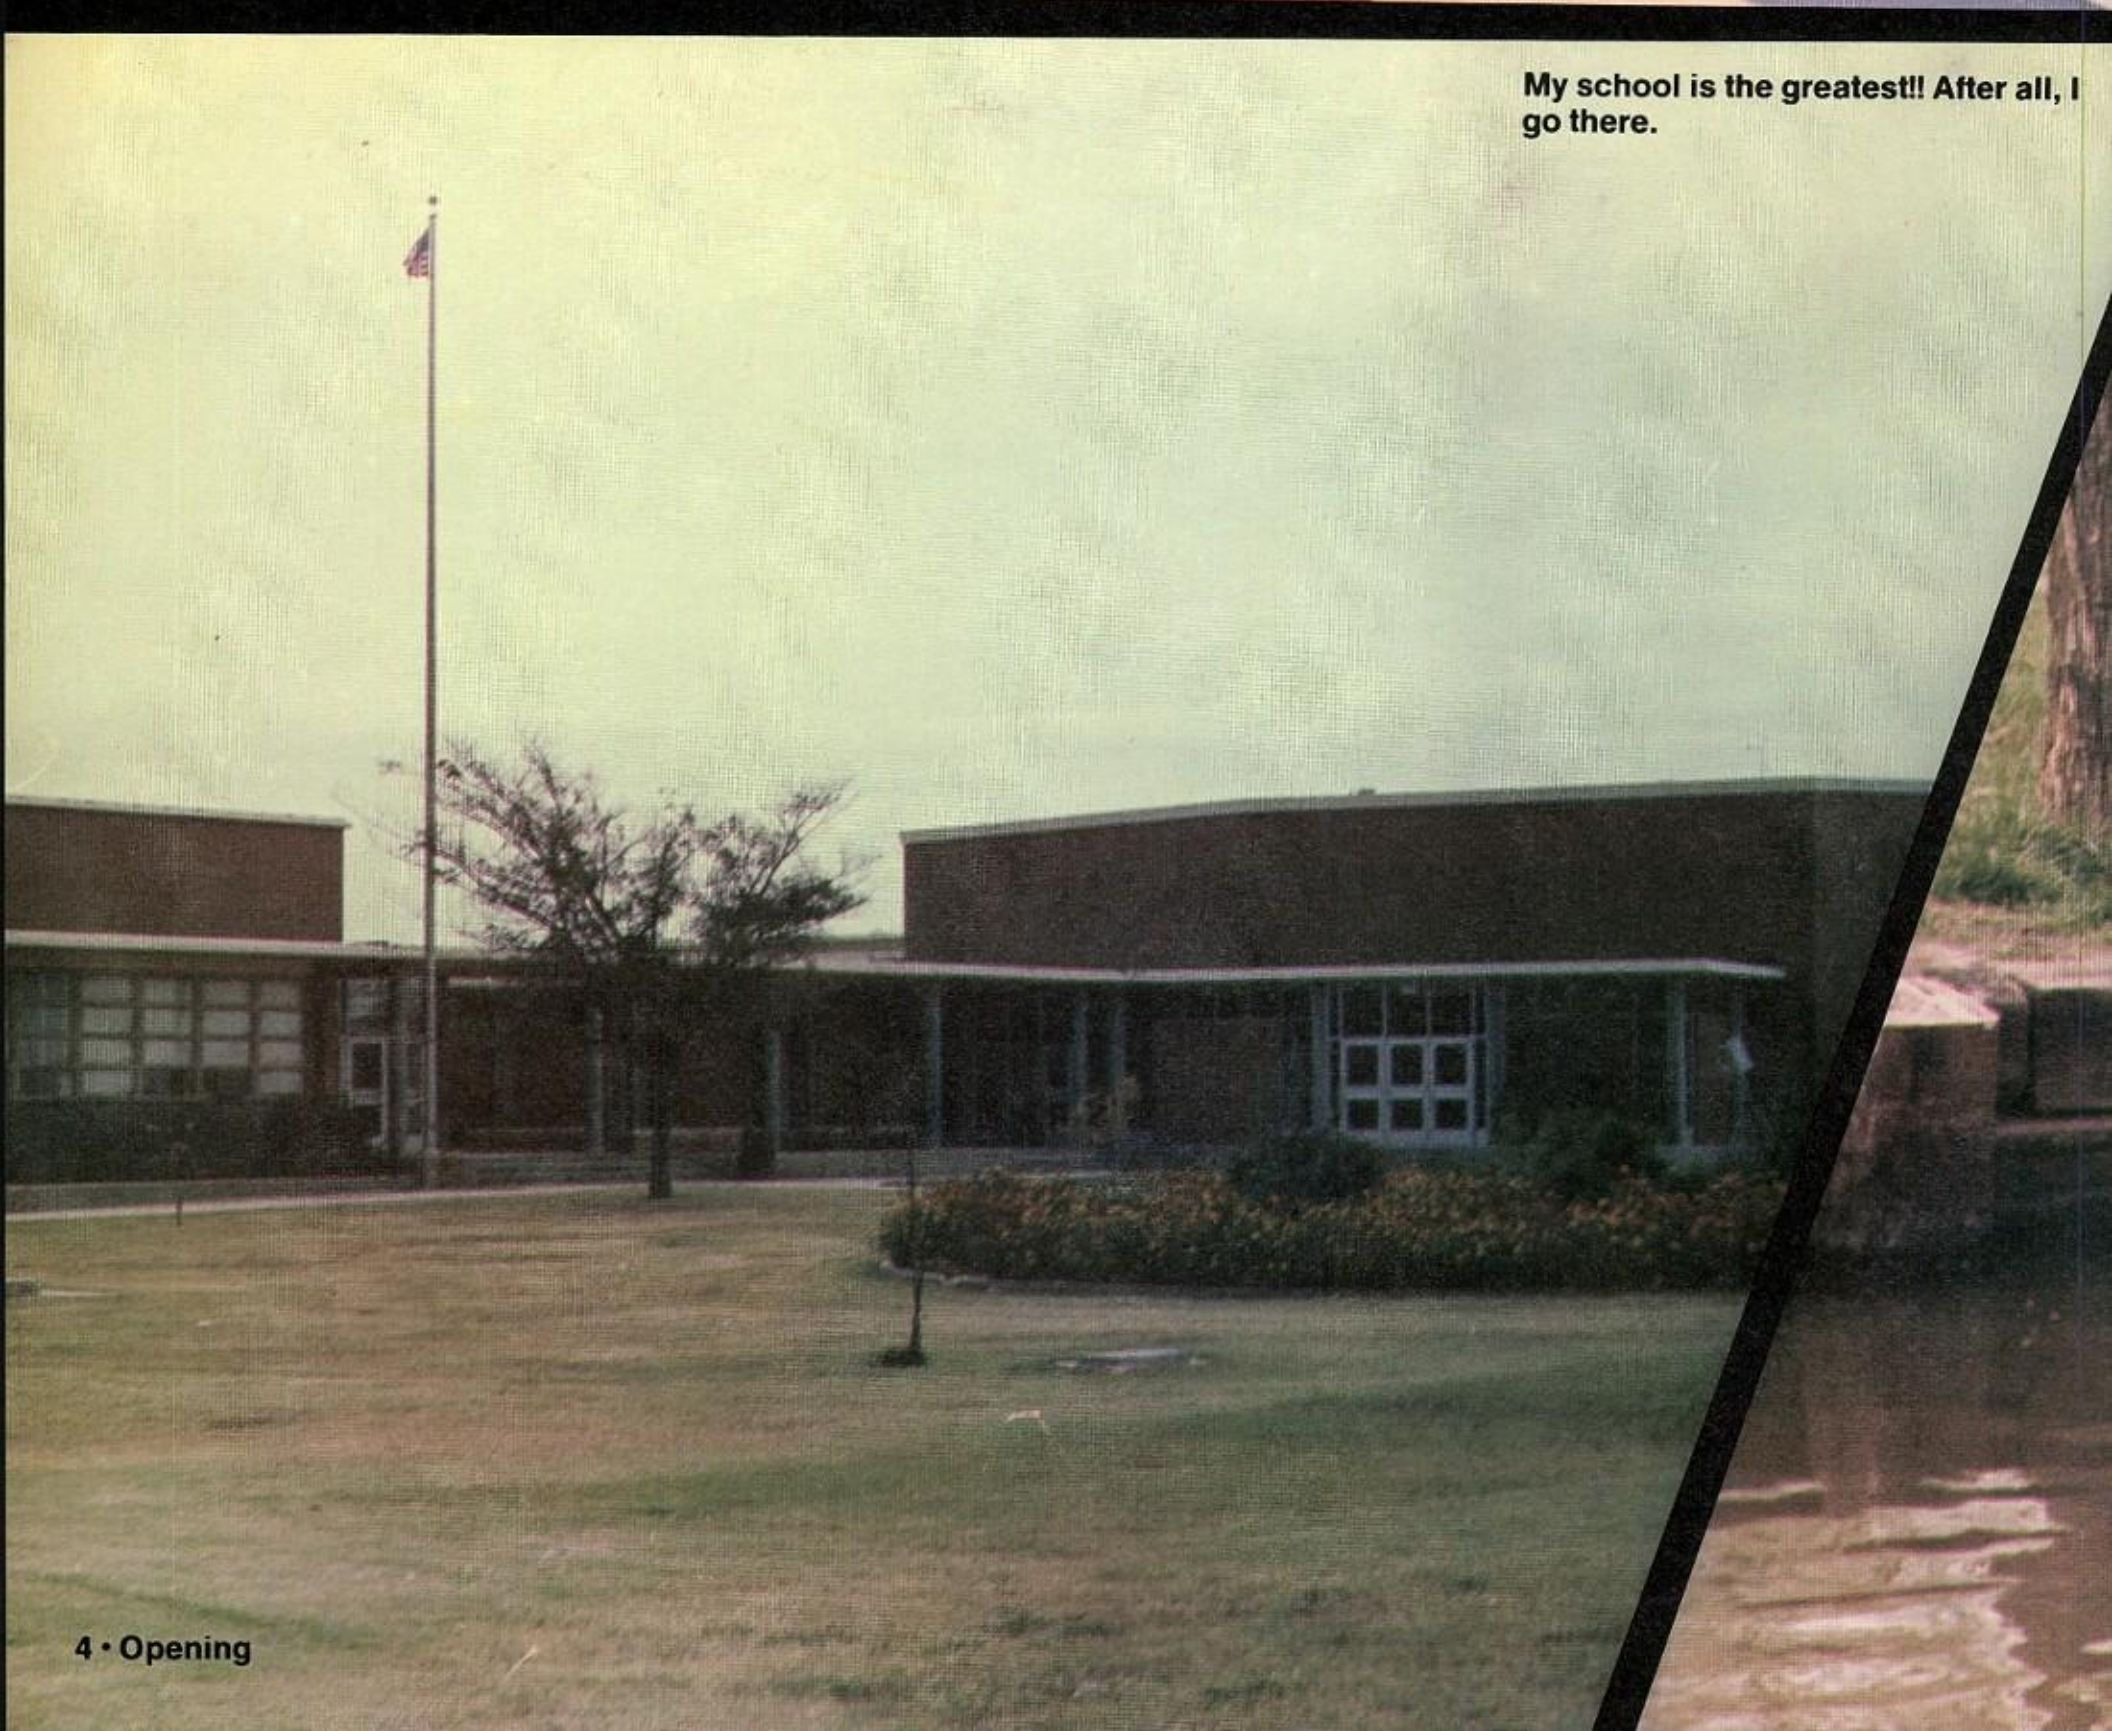

Summer colors my life with a blazing sun, blue sky and time to enjoy it all.

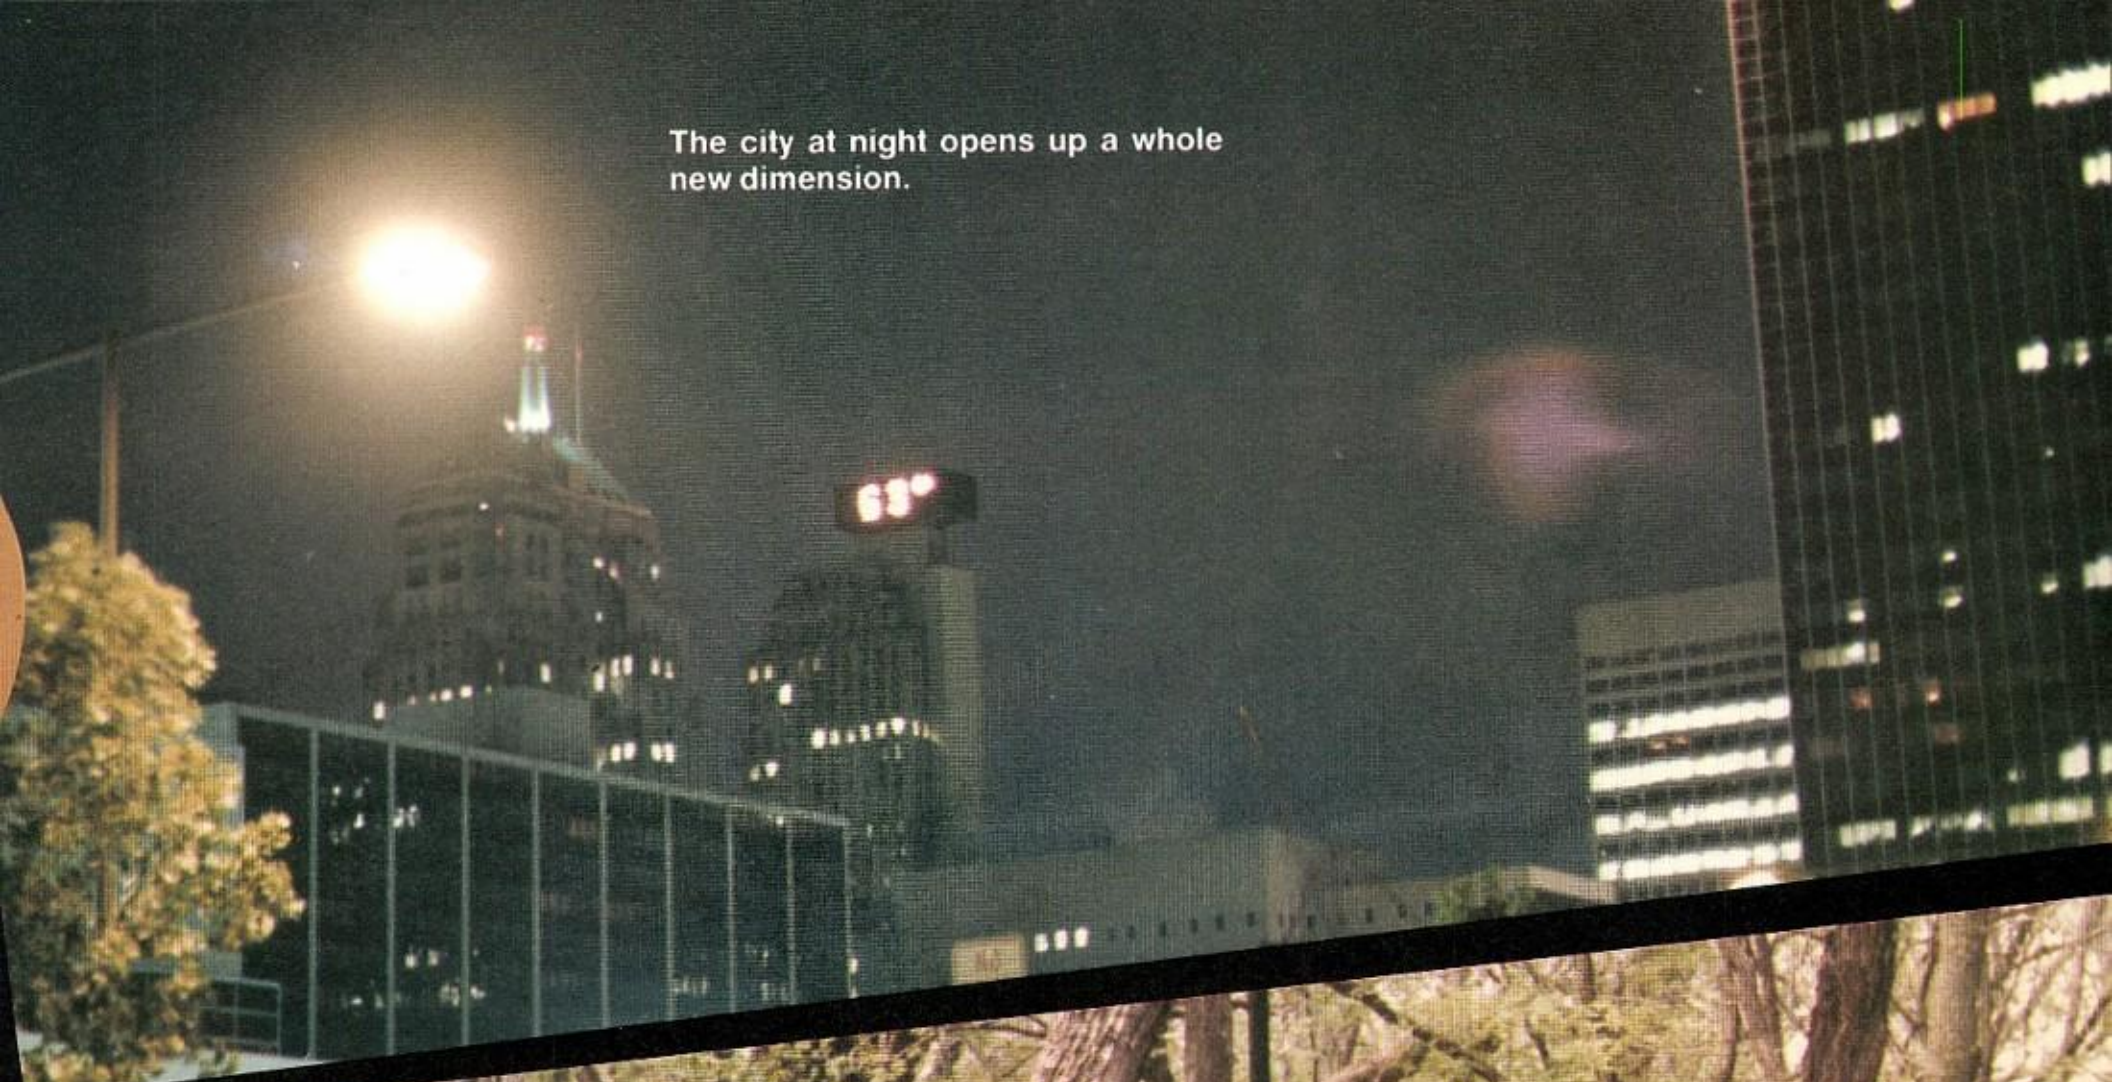

"Where did my golf ball go?" wonders Billy Cloyde after he hits one a little too hard at Putt-Putt.

The concourse is quite colorful as well as convenient for shoppers wanting to get away from the noise and confusion a city offers.

My school is the greatest!! After all, I go there.

The city at night opens up a whole new dimension.

Brookwood Village is the best place to go and share moments with a loved one.

Where I'm at,
the school, the city,
are all part of who I am.

Bill Langley realizes that the legend of the rifle range is true when he hears shooting below the school in the underground hall. BELOW: Making a clean sweep of it is Ray Poole.

At times I forget about homework and hall passes and become caught up in the fun of the moment.

get Laura Barnhart away from chat-
Napier, Stacey Brown and Clarice
flight, CHEMISTRY delight" Steve Mayo has fun in class when he discovers that potassium and water don't mix.

Mark Hazzelrigg can't seem to find the right pair of jeans that suit him. "Where did that salesman go?"
BELOW: Concentrating on getting her knee-highs knee high is Cordella Stevens.

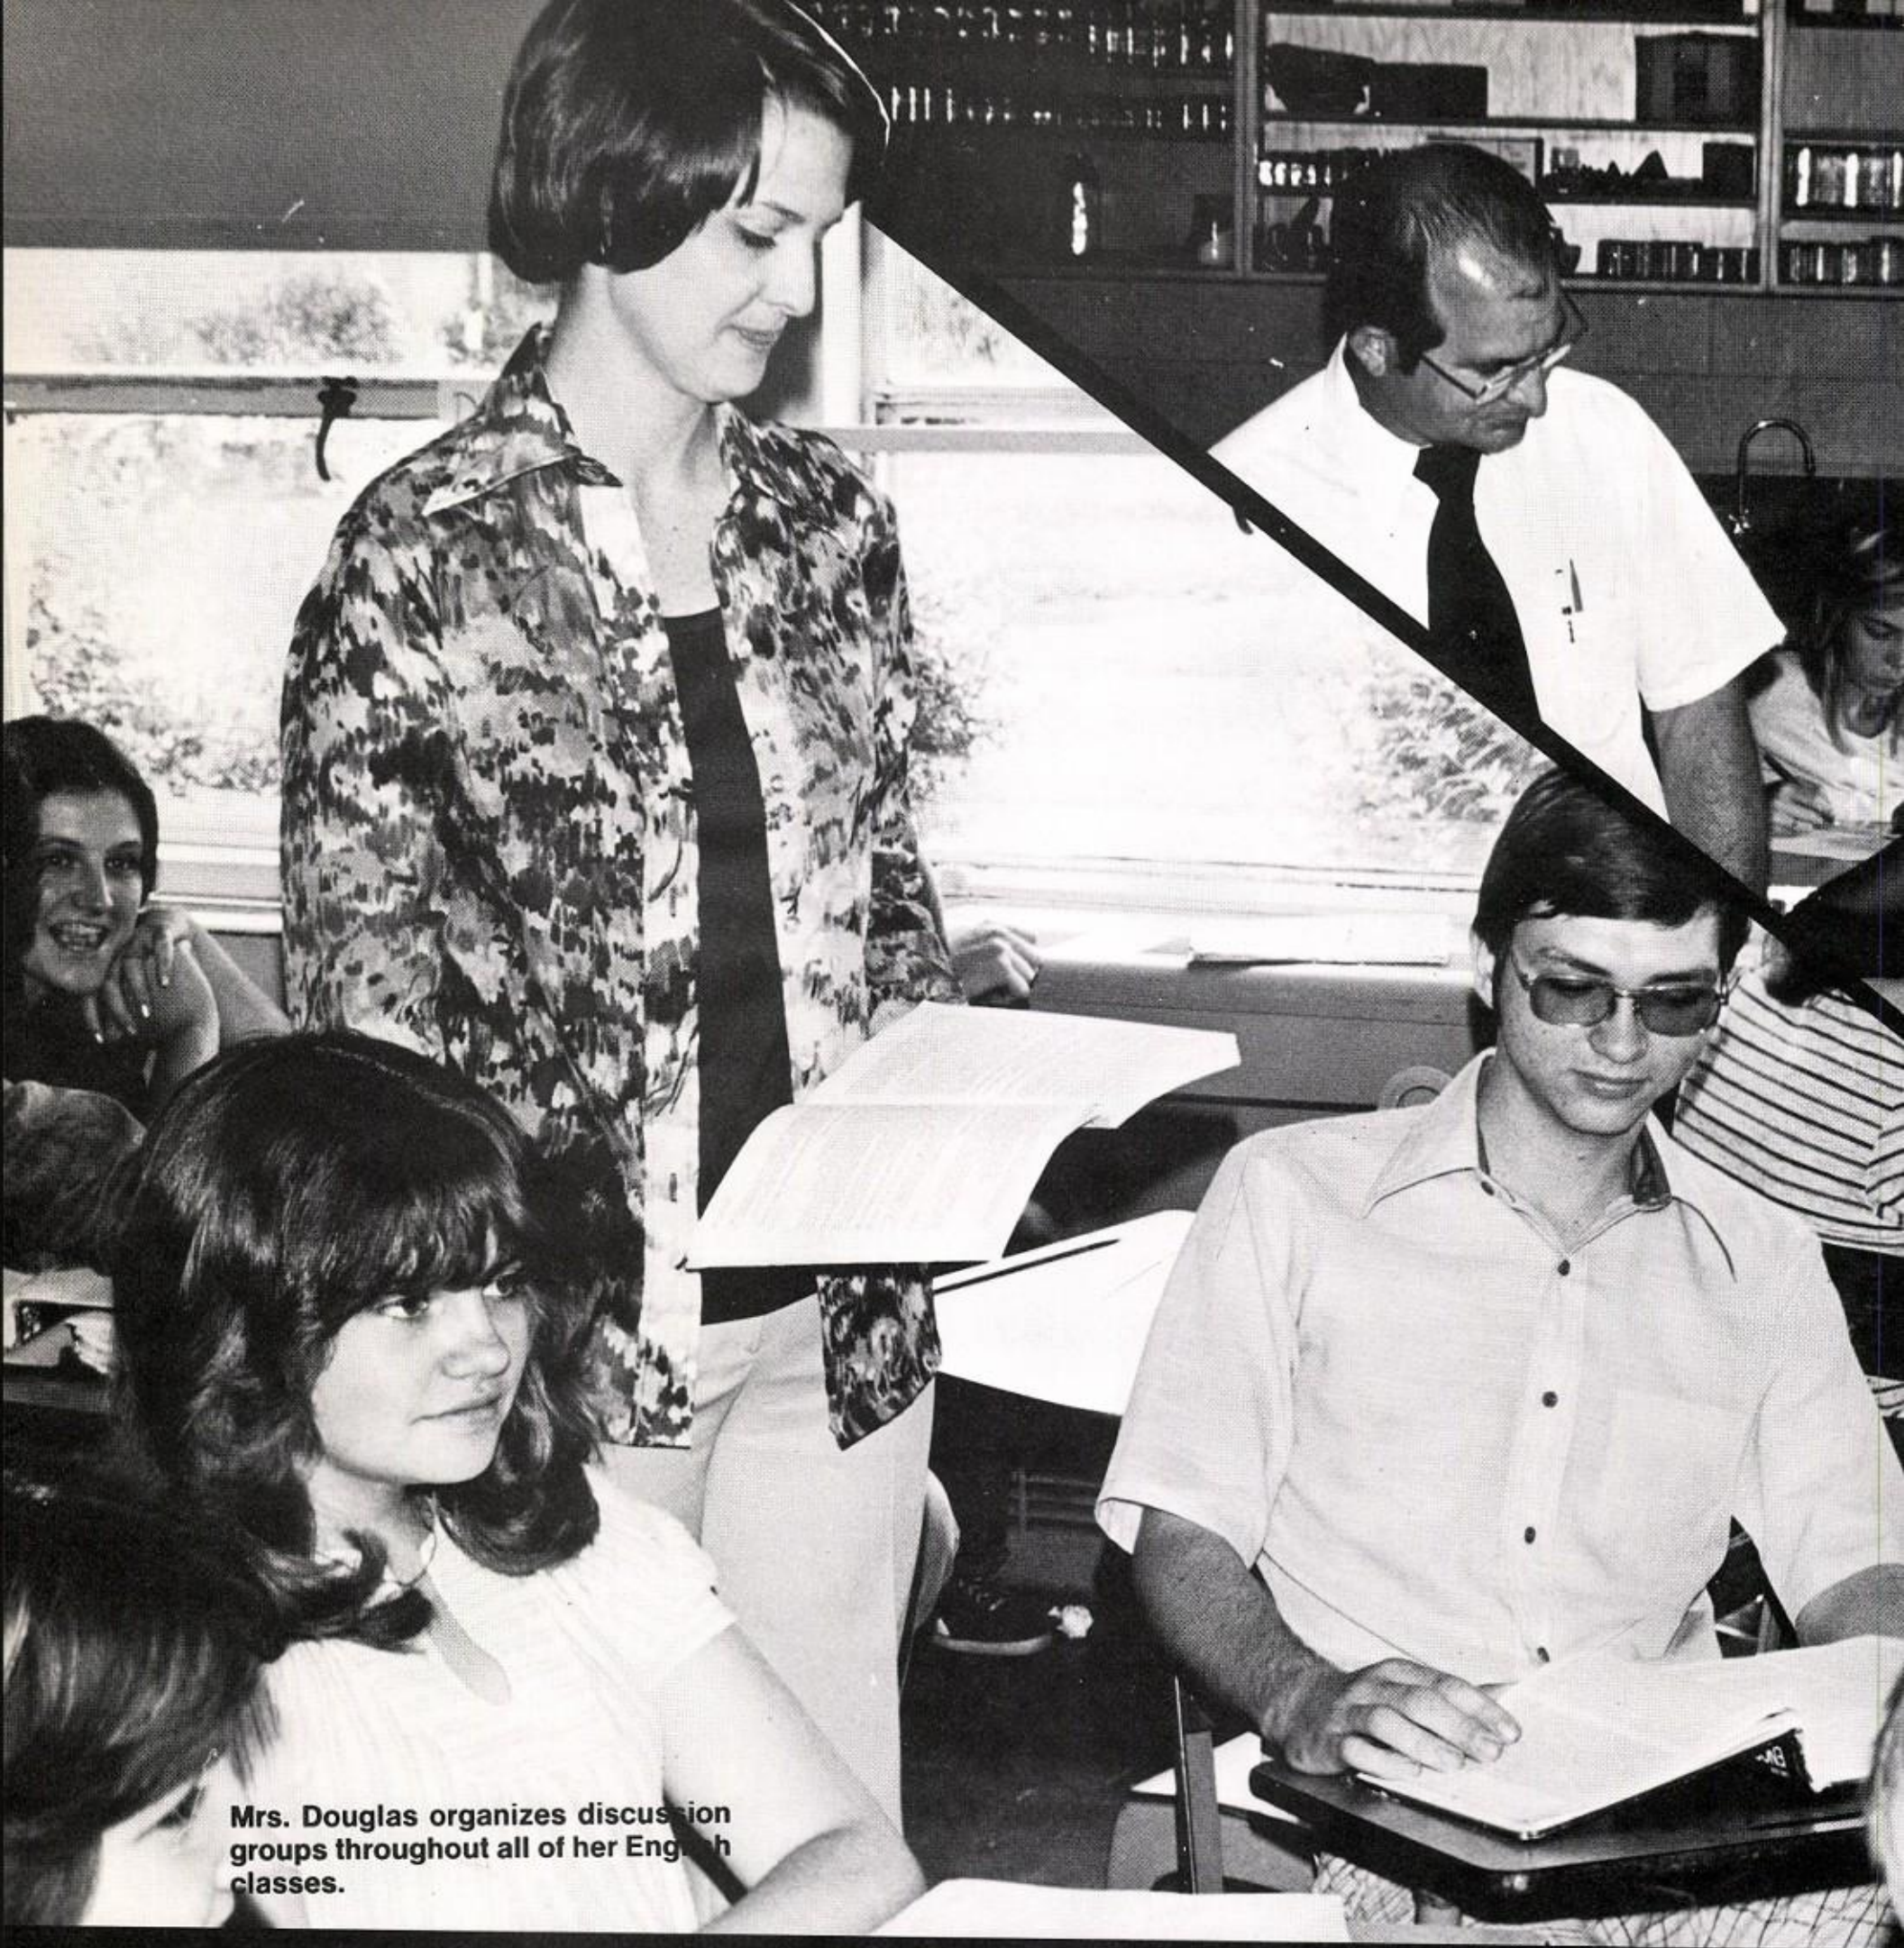

Carla Overstreet decides her Camaro is not the only thing that needs to be washed.

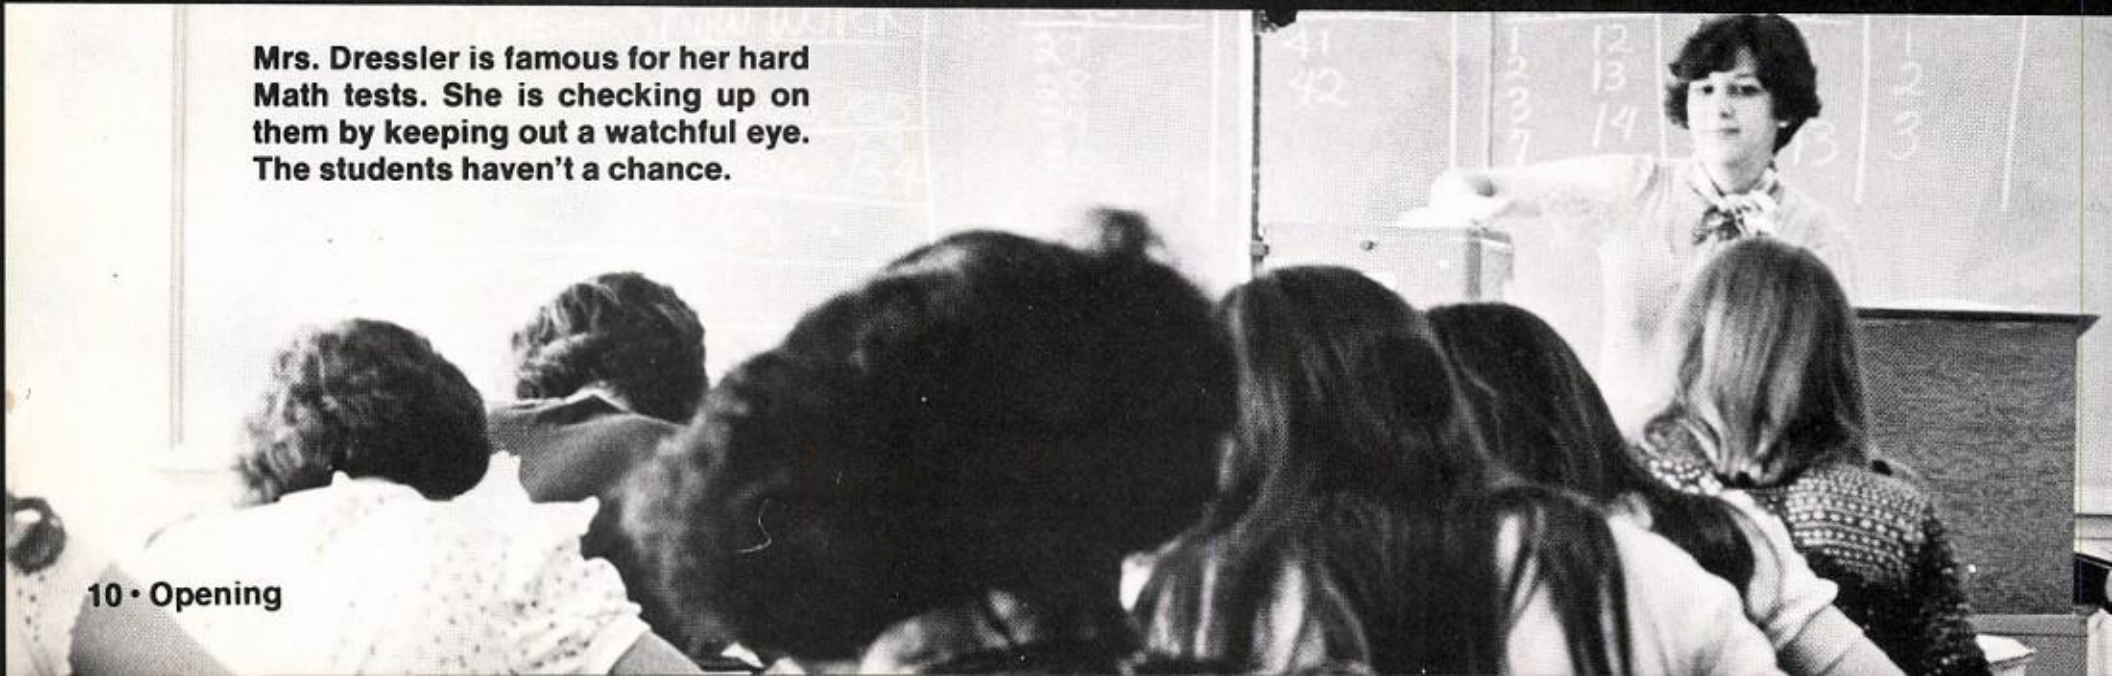

After my last class
my role as a student falls away, and I take up the world on my own terms.

Gordon Ruth and Kim Loveless decide riding motorcycles is the funnest thing to do after school.

Mrs. Douglas organizes discussion groups throughout all of her English classes.

Mrs. Dressler is famous for her hard Math tests. She is checking up on them by keeping out a watchful eye. The students haven't a chance.

Required subjects,
although not always welcome,
allow me to discover things
I wouldn't have found otherwise.

Mrs. Douglas organizes discussion groups throughout all of her English classes. ABOVE: Jerry Fansler wonders whatever happened to the true-false type test? Mr. Johnson wonders whatever happened to the students' academic achievement.

Electives enable me to explore the areas of myself that I want to know more about.

Tobi Hanlan and David Lambeth relax and talk about frustrations in Human Relations. BELOW: Checking out the new uniform is band major Marty Barris.

Art isn't so bad. I rather like it, but sketching the cannon?? BELOW: Welding is a skill and needs to be done under the best of accuracy.

I may not be the greatest athlete, but I welcome the chance to work off energy and aggressions.

Continuous practicing and hard work make a team. The Generals have both.

LEFT: "I hit it clear over to the left center field . . ." Isn't it nice to be able to share things with your brother? Todd and Russell Demeter. RIGHT: Robert Camp keeps his eye on the ball . . . and is certainly keeping up with the swing of things.

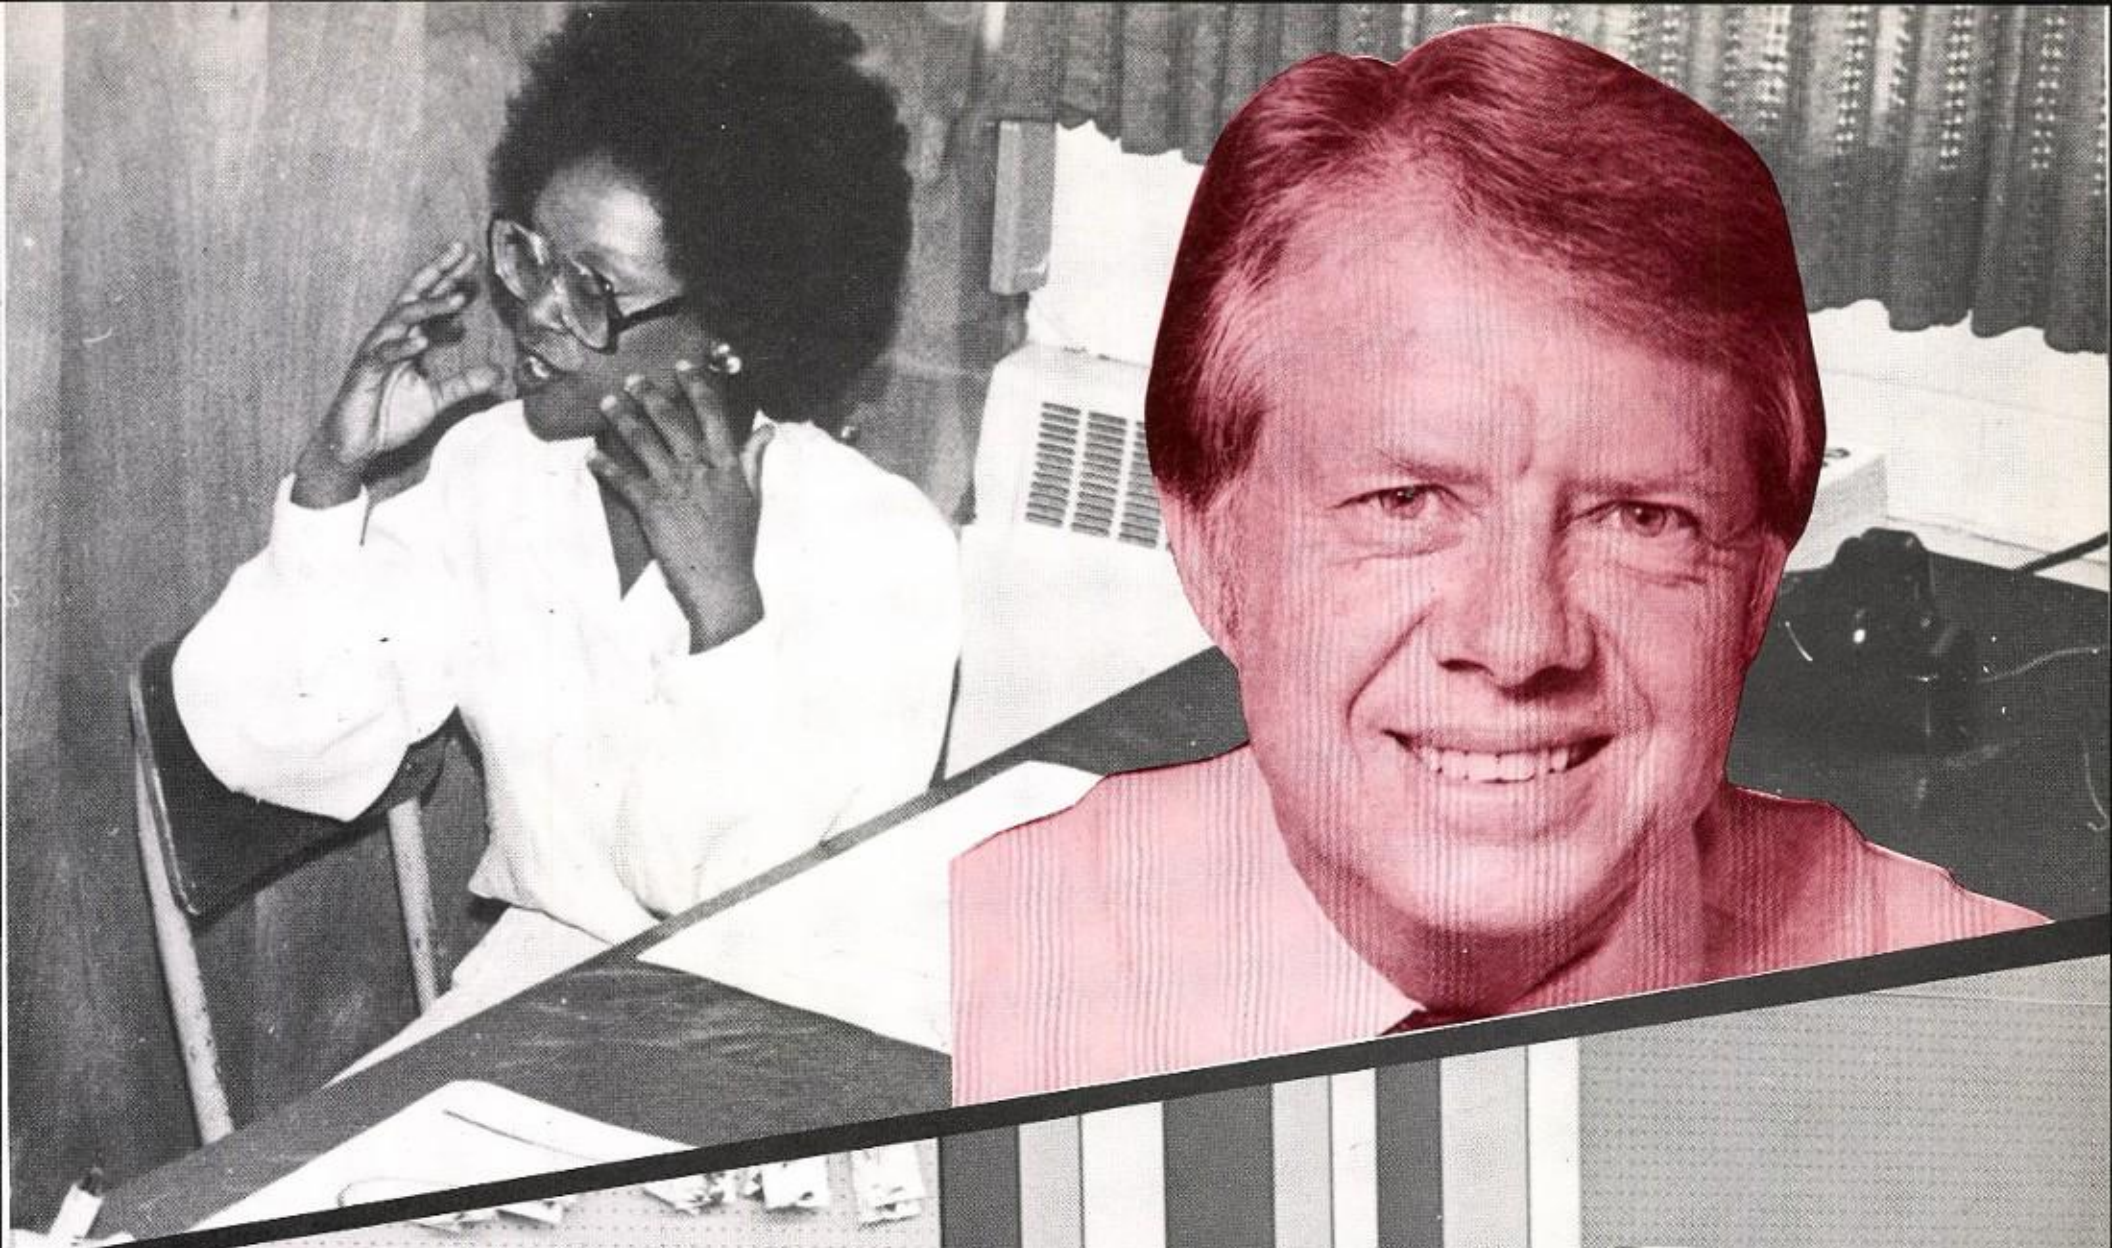

Sandy Campbell and Estella Alvarado display enthusiasm for their softball team the Cardinals. "We're ranked third in the nation!"

Kay Hemphill and Andy Taylor take sides for each Presidential candidate.

The National Scene
gave me a tussle for a while.
I fit into all this? Yeah!!!
Well I guess it'll be all right.

Registration and voting for the upcoming election were the first things to do once school got started. Jerry Moland, Mary Walker, Linda Smith, and Lori Lookabaugh.

People, individually and collectively, are what it's all about. Each person contributes something, good or bad, to make up the world as it is. Without people there would be nothing; with them anything is possible.

Characteristics

In the foreground, in the background, and everywhere at one time was Mr. Jake Diggs, principal.

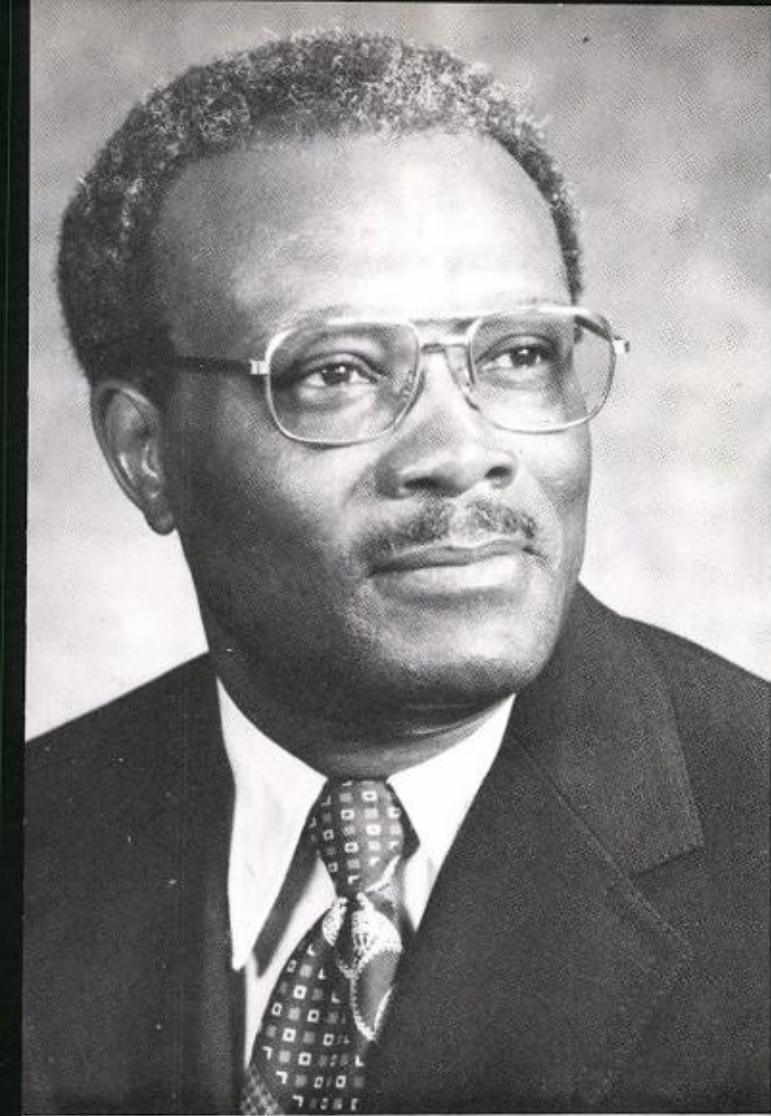

This year he spent more time working with teachers regarding individual curriculum problems.

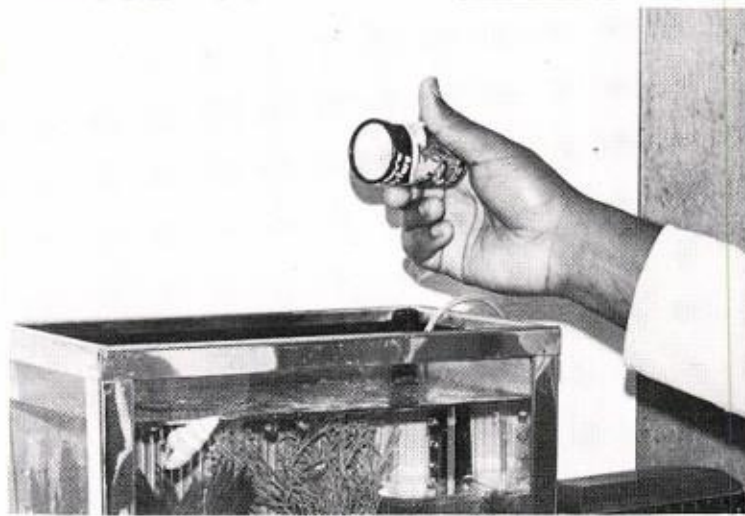

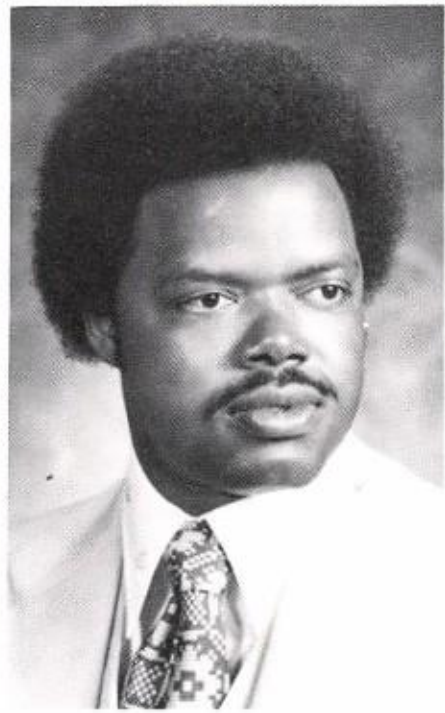

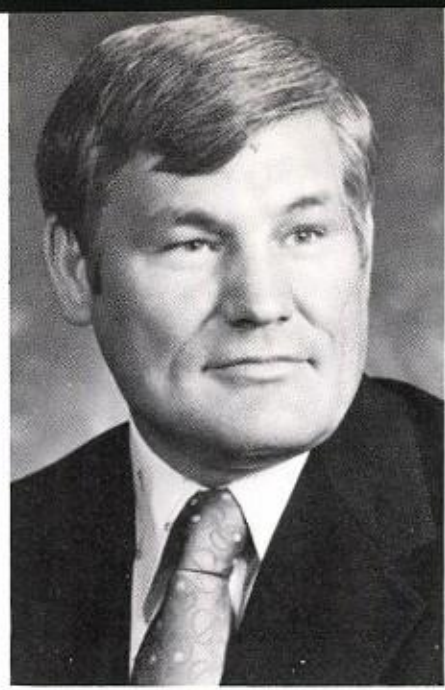

The perpetual meetings continued — with board groups, student groups, and parent groups.

In addition to the routine reports which grow year by year, the school was evaluated by North Central, so that meant additional meetings and responsibilities for Mr. Diggs.

With briefcase in hand and a smile on his face, Mr. Jake Diggs enters each morning. Hall duty is among one of his many tasks. Mr. Diggs also mans the switchboard when there is a shortage of help. Accepting a citizenship award for the school is one of the more pleasant duties involved in being principal. Mr. Diggs and Mrs. Rubye Lee discuss their agenda for the day.

Right behind Mr. Diggs, literally as well as figuratively, were assistant principals Dr. Jerry Smythe, Mr. Bob McCain, Mr. Dwight Jones, and Mr. Jerry Rickerts.

Leading up the North Central Evaluation was Dr. Smythe, who was in charge of discipline. Dr. Smythe was also in charge of student teachers.

Mr. Bob McCain was again in charge of IBM scheduling with the Board of Education. In addition he coordinated curriculum and scheduling problems with the counselors.

Again, Mr. Dwight Jones, in his private office in the east hall, was in charge of supplies, as well as discipline.

A jack of all trades, activities director Mr. Jerry Rickerts worked with many student groups and was in charge of lockers.

Mr. Bob McCain takes time out for a quick coffee break. Feeding his prized fish is a daily task for Mr. Dwight Jones. Mr. John Savage and Mr. Jones discuss Friday's football game. Hunting madly for supplies is Mr. Jerry Rickerts. Administering the board is a job taken care of by Dr. Jerry Smythe. Mr. McCain shows Tina Rust exactly what to enter on the computer.

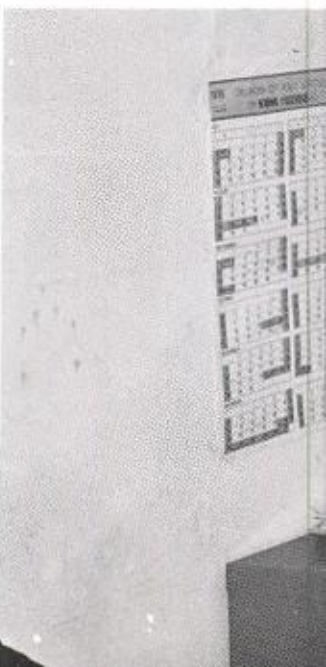

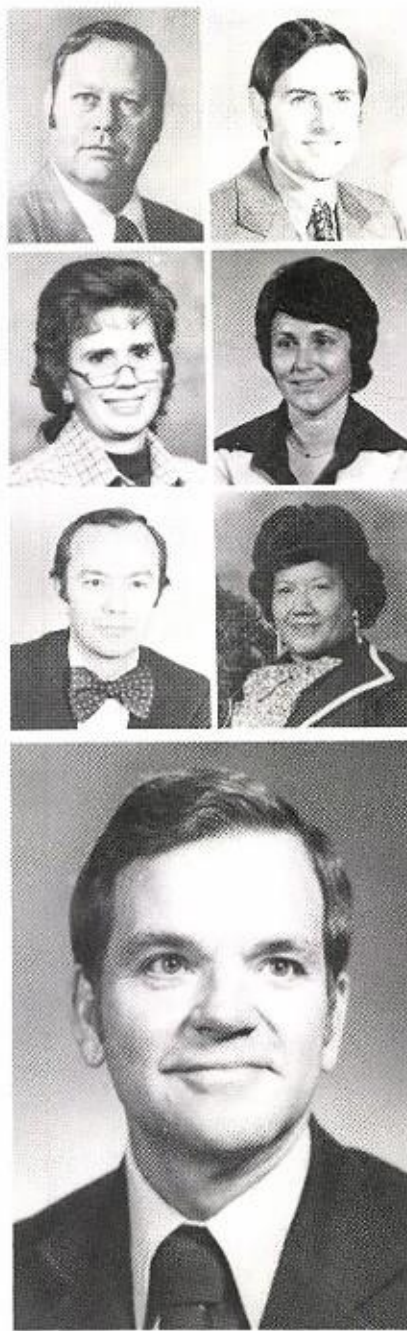

Trying to keep track of all the schedule changes kept the counselors hopping, as usual. Although they tried to keep the changes to a minimum, the work at times seemed to never end. The counselors also found time to remind students about getting all their credits for graduation.

Board members are not often seen at school, but their presence is made known by the committee work and reports they do.

Day-dreaming about her students' future is Mrs. Thelma Parks. Mrs. Harriet Pulley takes time out to talk to her favorite plant. Finding the counselors' hallway empty is an unusual sight. School Board representative Dean Brown makes a visit to the school. Mrs. Mary Cooper searches efficiently through her files. Working at her desk is nothing new to Mrs. Janet Jones. Mr. John Moham discusses the day's events with Charlene Jacobs. Counselors: Mary Cooper, Janet Jones, Thelma Parks, Harriet Pulley, John Moham. Oklahoma City School Board Members: Floyd Donwerth, Paul English, Betty Hill, Pat Potts, Armond Start, Freddi Williams. Superintendent: Dr. Thomas J. Smith.

Working to keep things running smoothly in the halls, cafeteria and classroom, the rest of the faculty adds still another dimension to school life. Whether it's sweeping the halls, serving food or teaching boggled brains, the people at Grant work hard to make things go right.

Their tasks are varied and many, and all are necessary. But the person behind the job is equally as important as the job itself. Each member of the faculty adds a little bit to the scheme of things.

Shelving books is one of the many duties performed by Mrs. Dolla Hadley, Librarian. Men faculty gather and talk before school. Mrs. Nancy Phelps prepares a tape for her French class. Security Guard Mr. Robert Losch reads over car registrations.

Teaching isn't all paperwork and report cards, and teachers are, after all, only human. When the final bell rings they too leave to pursue various hobbies and interests. And on occasion, when the temptation is heavy, teachers can't resist a chance to cut up in class.

It's the lighter side of teaching that helps teachers and students alike bear up under the labors of school life.

Preparing an experiment for his class is student teacher Charles Willey. Mrs. Vicky Parker has the formidable task of getting organized at the beginning of school. Writing on the overhead is Mrs. Linda Lincoln. Mr. Fred Blackmon gives instructions during homeroom period. Smiling sweetly for the class is Mrs. Frances Hendrix.

Custodial Staff: Billy McMillian, Alos Mack, Charley Musgrave, Jack Baker, Cecil Pemeo, Buddy Young.

Character, Service, Leadership and Scholarship are Nancy Brian's goals as she begins her first year in the Honor Society. "Juniors, V-I-C-T-O-R-Y." Junior Cheerleader Cynthia Jacobs knows that Juniors are the best. "If this typewriter messes up again, I'll . . ." — Monica Anderson.

Aida Sosa stops to check out the nail polish during the two days of Club-o-rama. By the time you get to be a Junior, you know just about every trick in the book, but that doesn't mean they'll always work. Ray Pool finds this out in a hurry. "I don't think anybody's listening to me." Selling things to home-rooms isn't so easy, so Tim Farr stands on a table so he can get everybody's attention. Ronnie Savage and Quintin Maxwell think they can sneak a peak at the 1976-77 General. "We lost the projector back there somewhere. Oh well we'll get it next time around." Jill Tucker and Pete Heirston go for a ride.

Curriculum is what school is all about. The classes one takes determine a great deal of what one gets out of school. There is a great variety of classes offered, some to fit almost any interest.

Focus

Aimed directly at a career, vocational classes train students to go to work after high school. A variety of vocational subjects was offered at the school — one of the widest in the system. They ranged from greasy engine work to fancy hair dressing.

Beverly Orr knows that part of learning to cut and fix hair is practice. Woodwork can be really fun especially if you get lost in a stack of wood. Anna Blake enjoys upholstery because she knows you're allowed to do a lot of cutting up. "Dishwashing liquid?" "You're soaking in it," Brenda Dennis says to Ora Durham. "Sure I know what I'm doing," says Leigh Patton. Arthur Jones, Hurlan Dempsey and William Kralik think surely they'll have their rocking chair finished by the time they get to be grandparents. Doug Mears waits patiently for a turn to run his piece of wood through the saw.

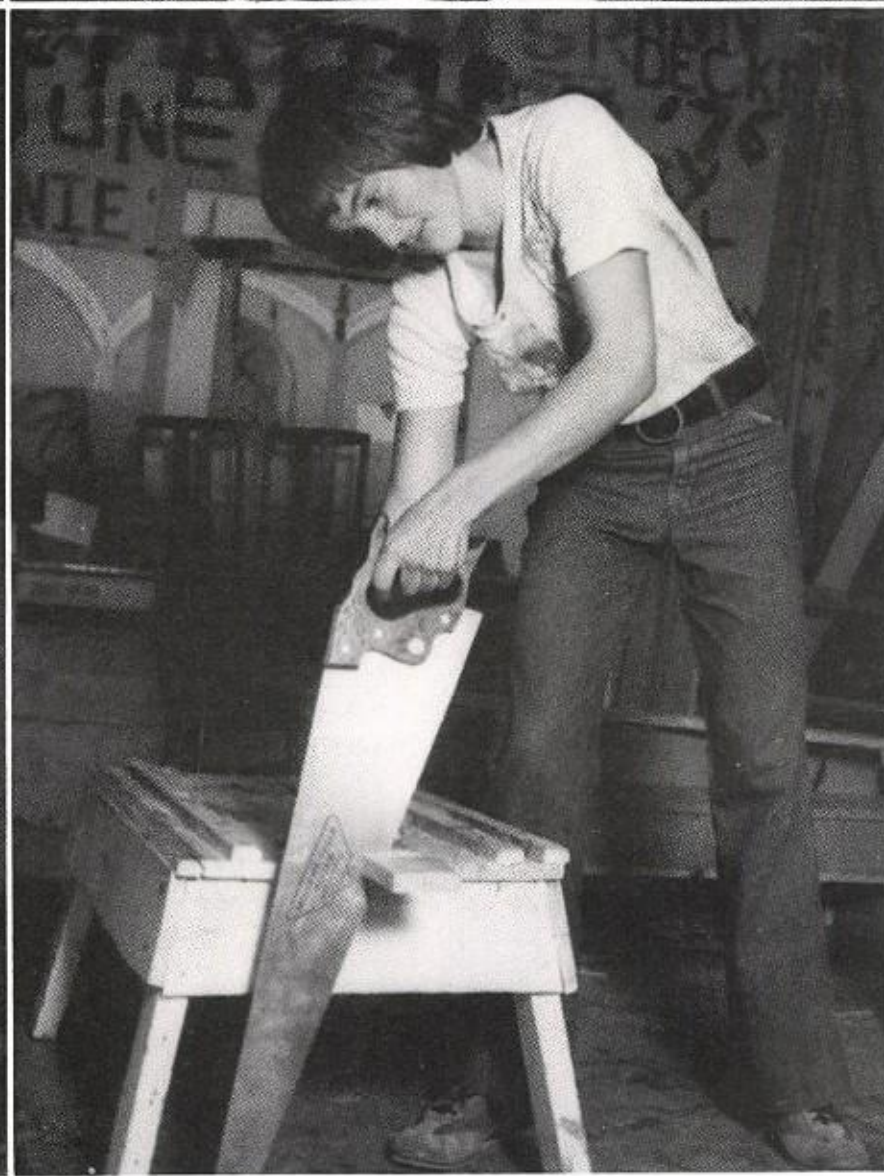

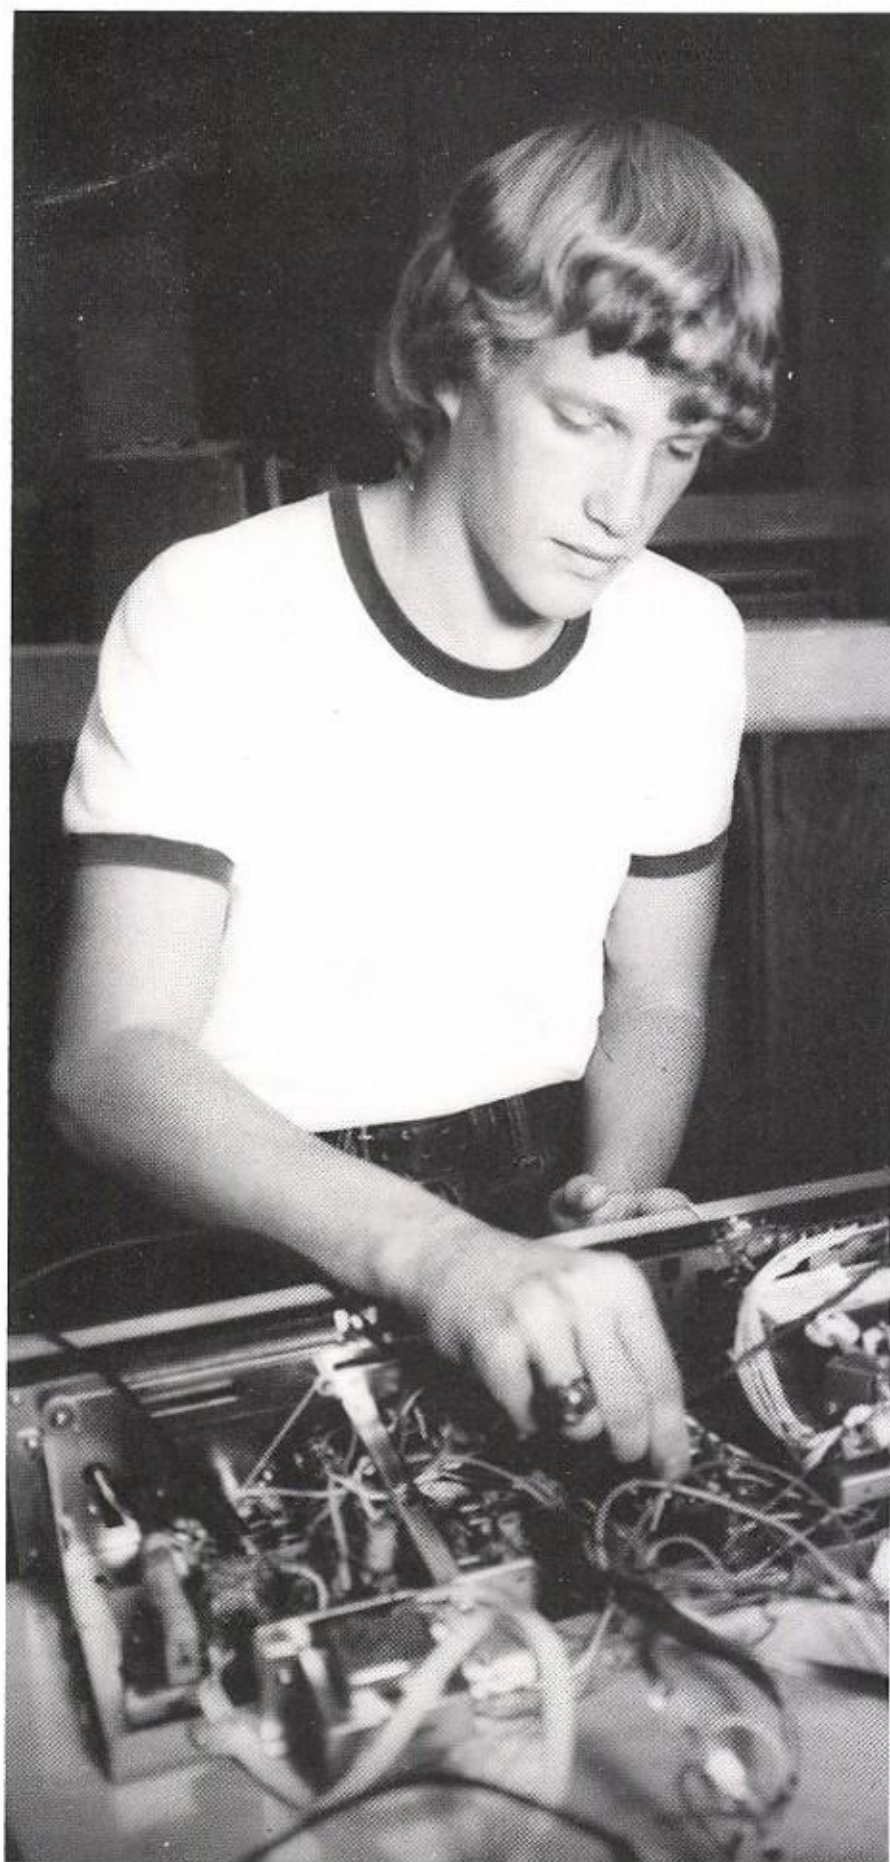

Vo-tech students are given simulated job conditions to help acquaint them with future careers. Teachers in the vocational classes all had on the job training experience, as well as the prerequisite college training. All classes were held to a small number.

If you're thinking of making welding a future career, taking it at school takes you one step higher. "My Dad says I'm just a chip off the old block." Rusty Cooper and Kenneth Trail. Gary Perry works on a stage craft scene. It's me again, always doing something for stage craft. Beverly Bazemore wonders what Steve Booth and Foster Kramer think is so funny about the back of her head.

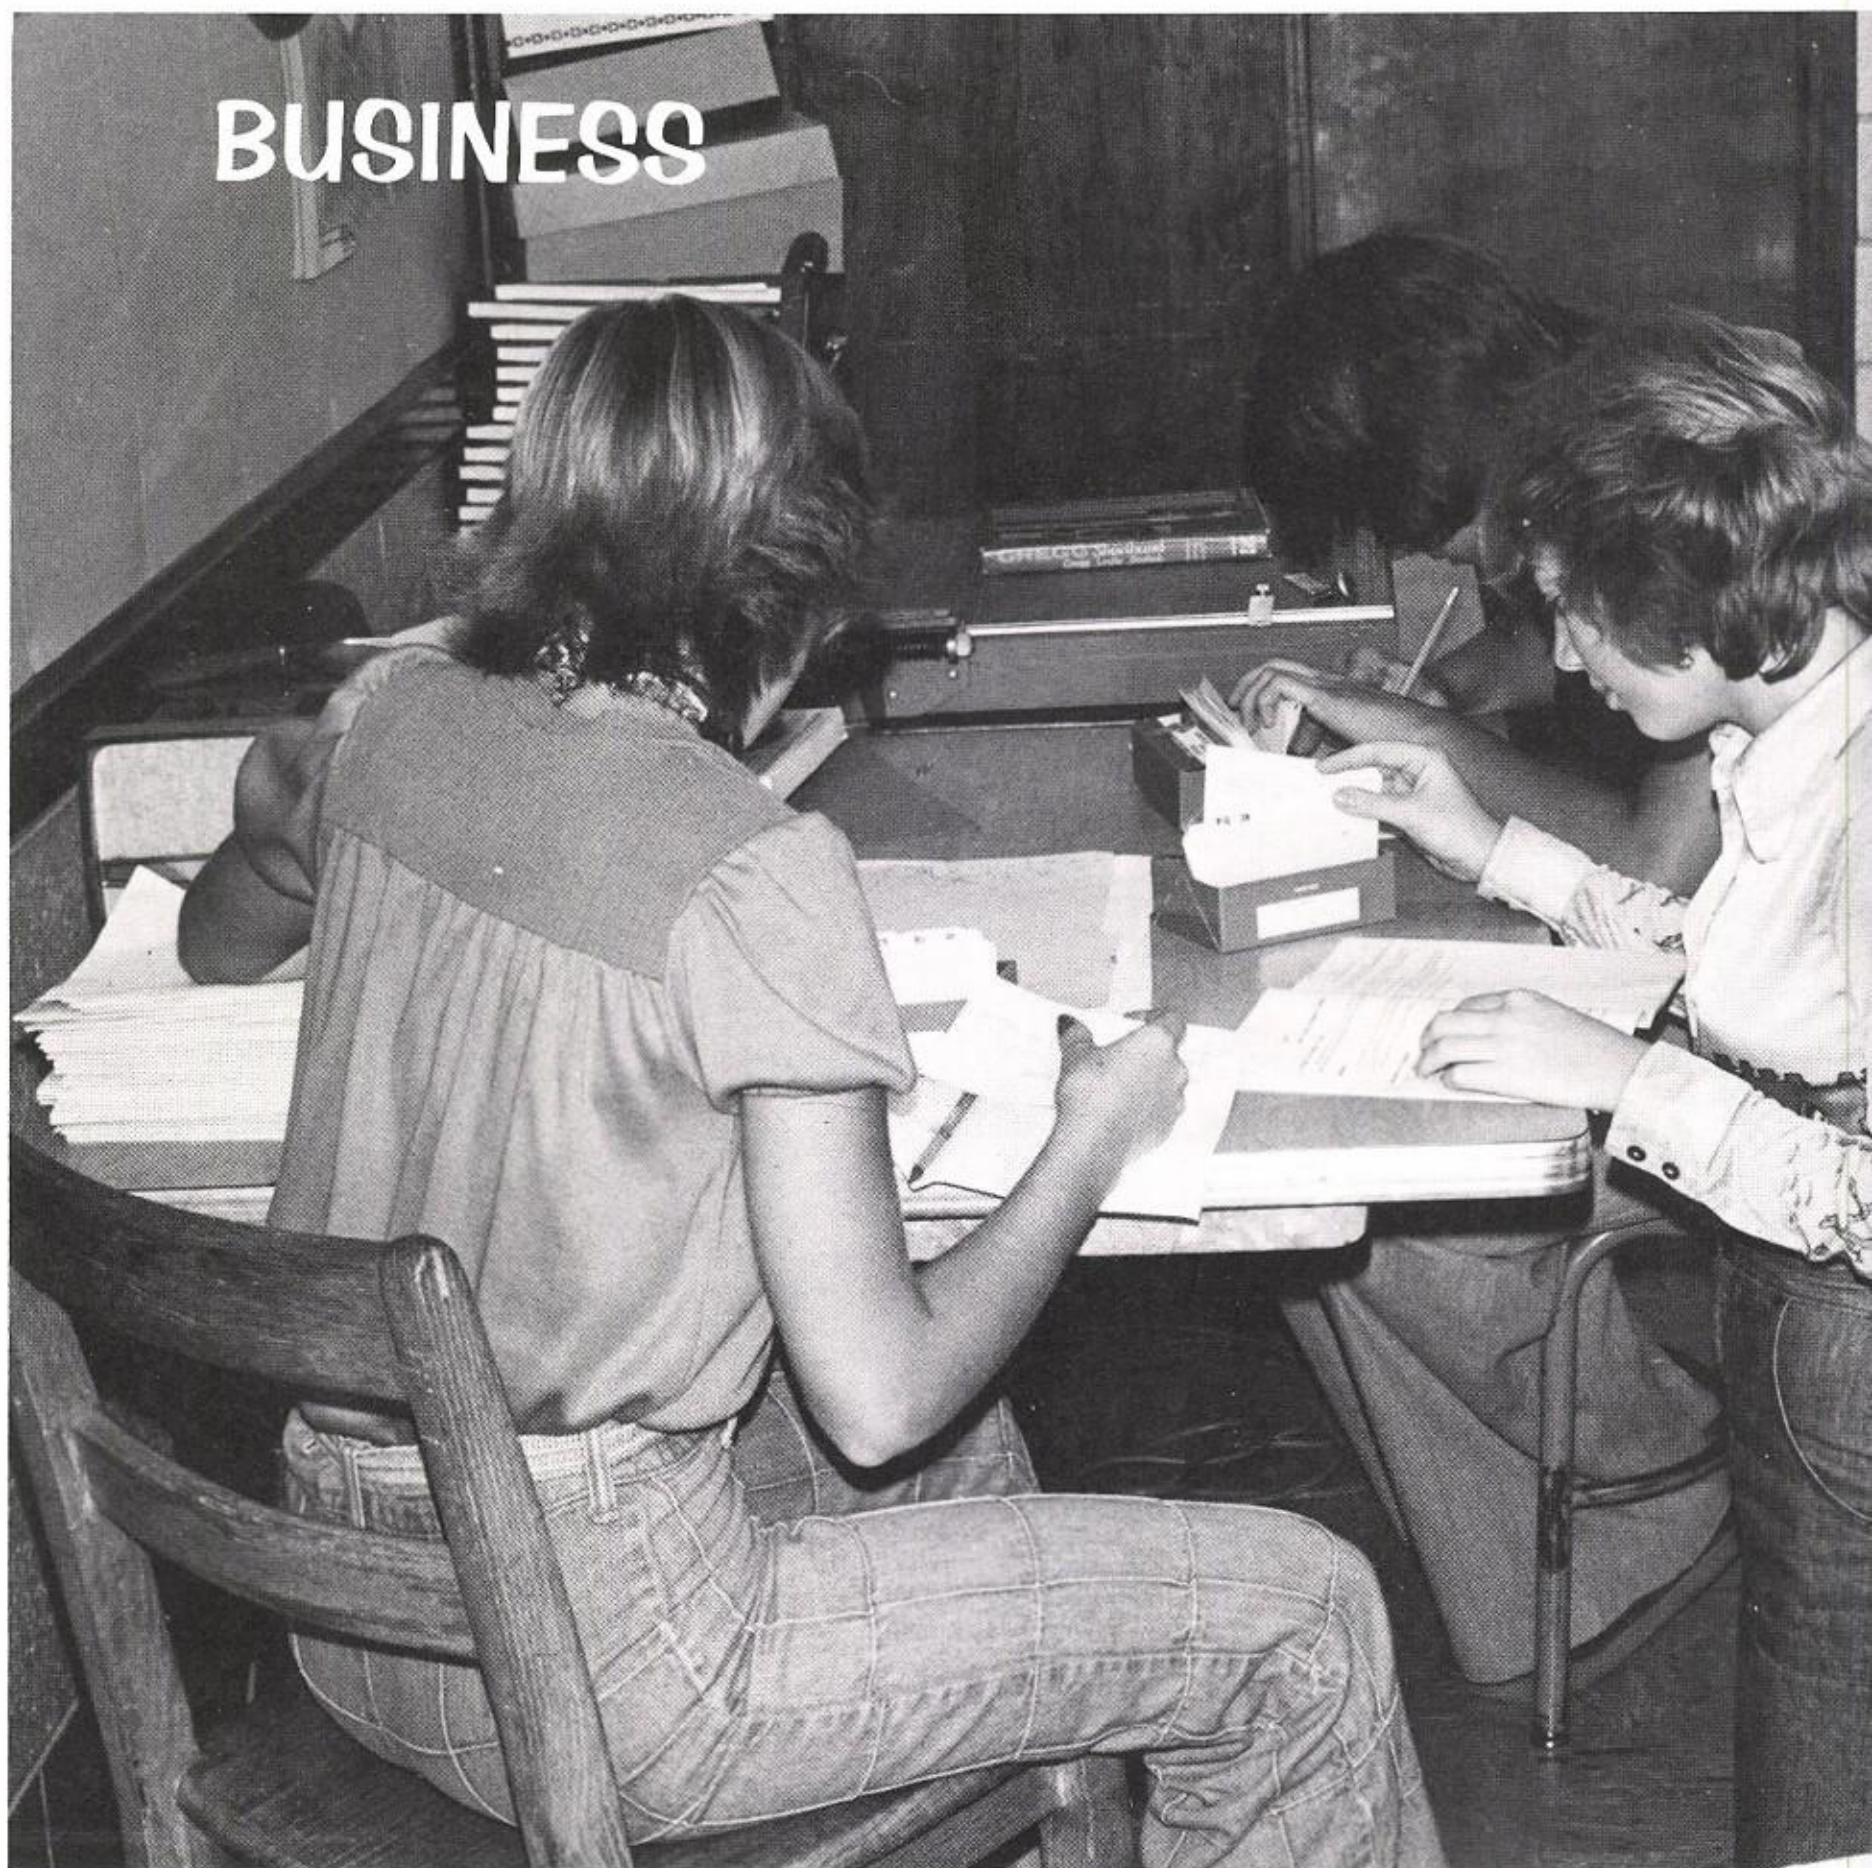

VO-TECH

Vo-tech and DECA provide students with the opportunity to develop talents for jobs after school. Many students spent a part of their day at the Foster Estes Vocational Center on S. Bryant where they could study subjects which required expensive equipment.

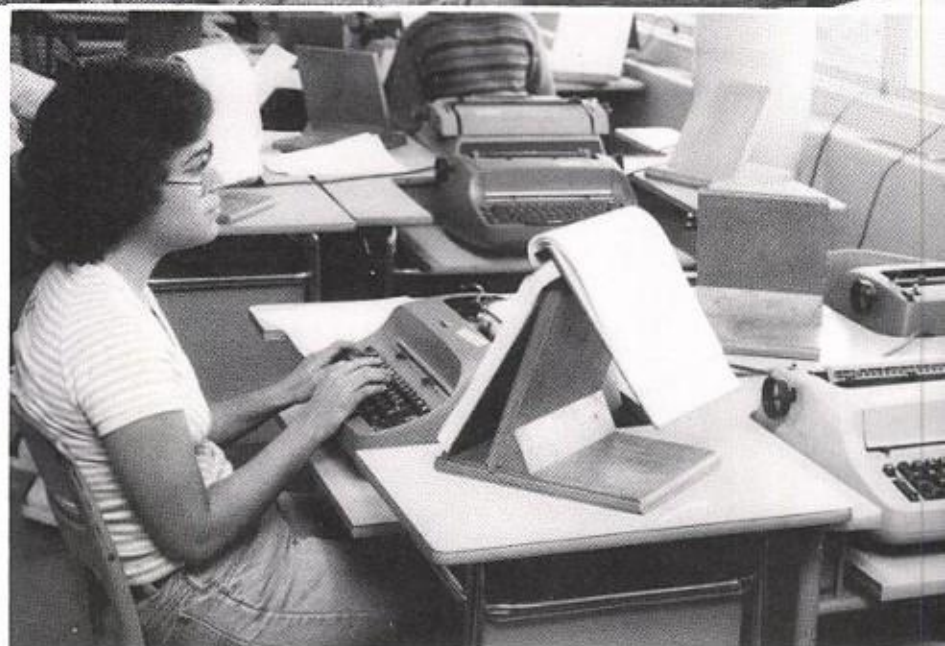

Radio and television takes deep concentration for Randy Hix. Sherry Webster is giving Janet York a free check up. Tommy Manuel furthers his education at a vocational school. Jerry Wall gives a visual aide to part of the DECA class.

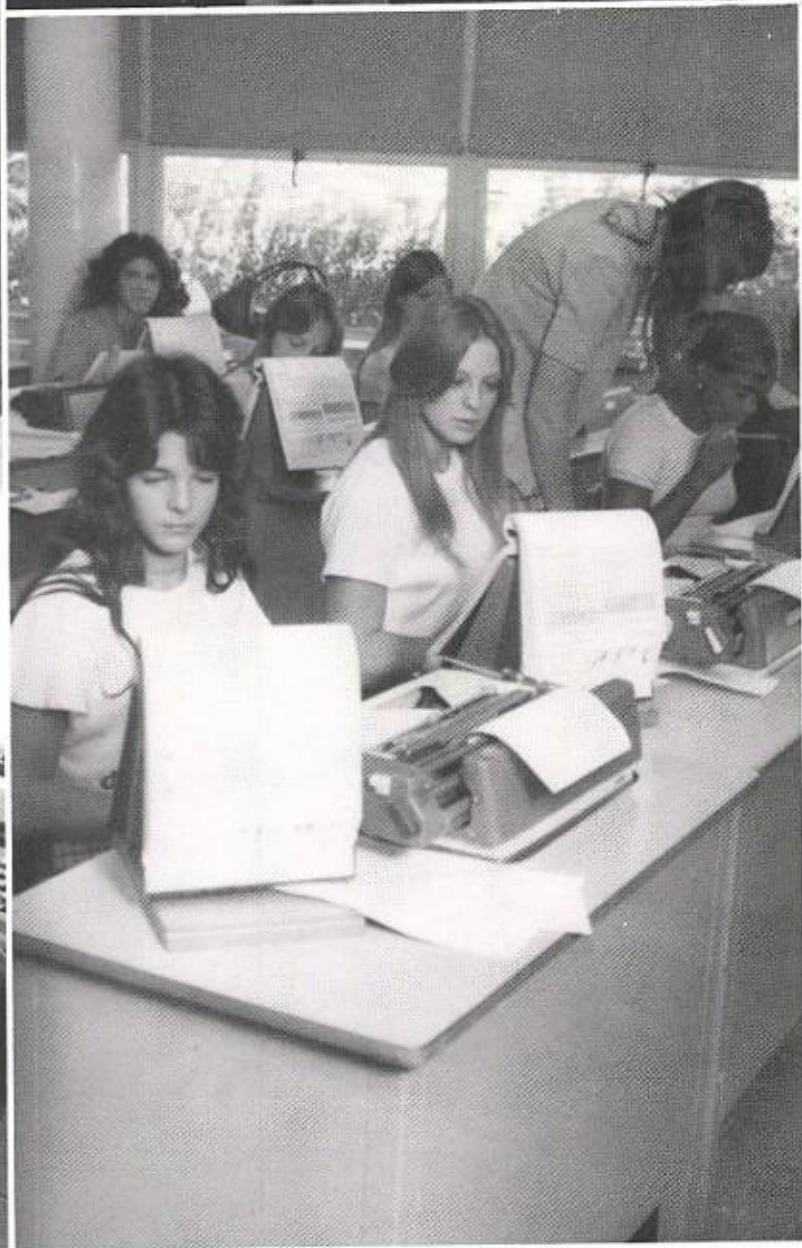

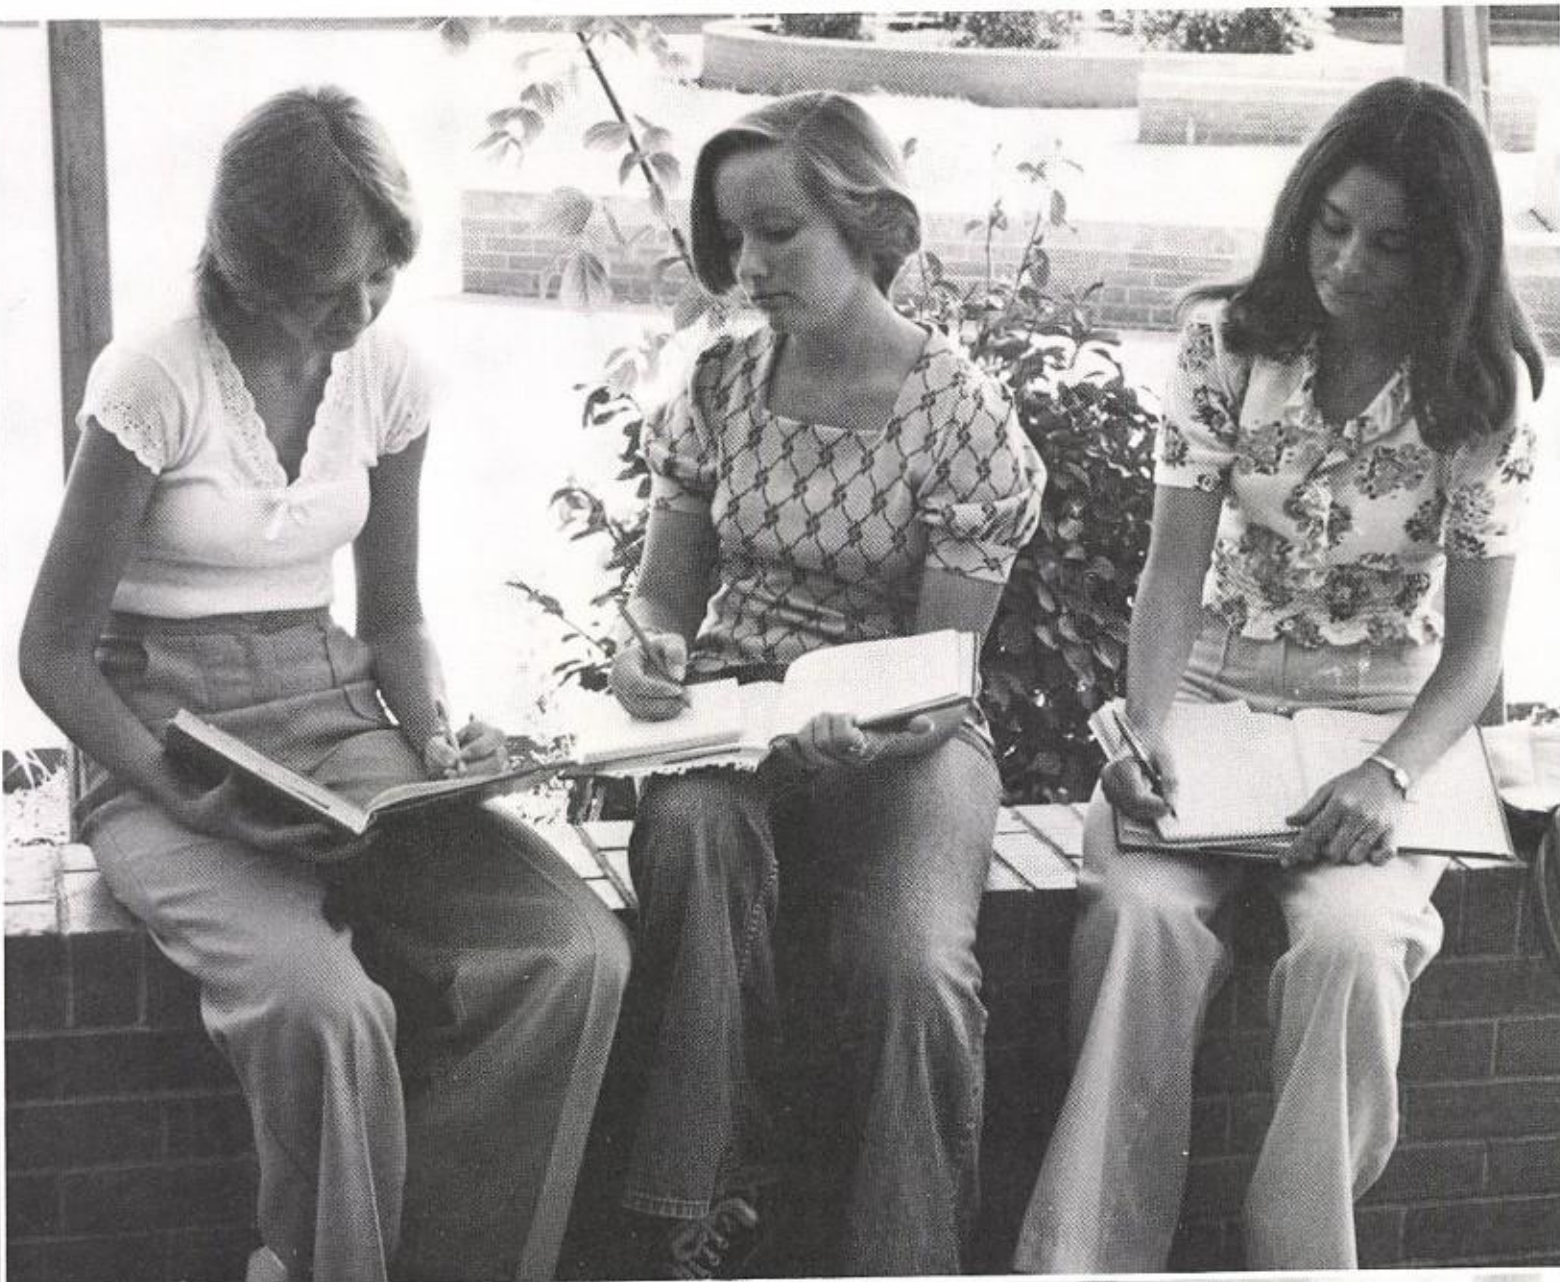

BUSINESS

Business programs like COE and DECA, and classes like shorthand and typing prepare students for a career in that area. They also provide skills that help make budgets and tax returns behave.

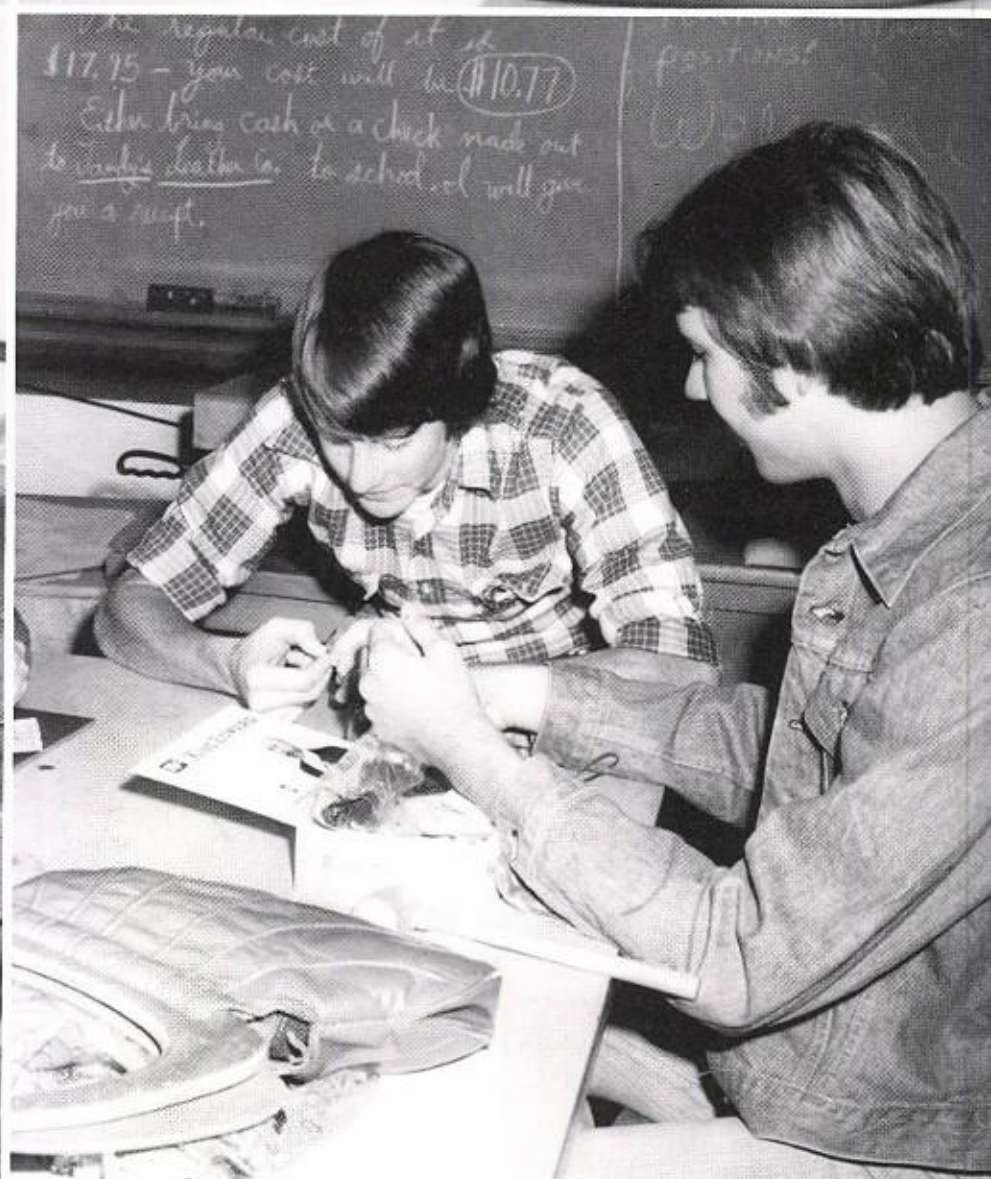

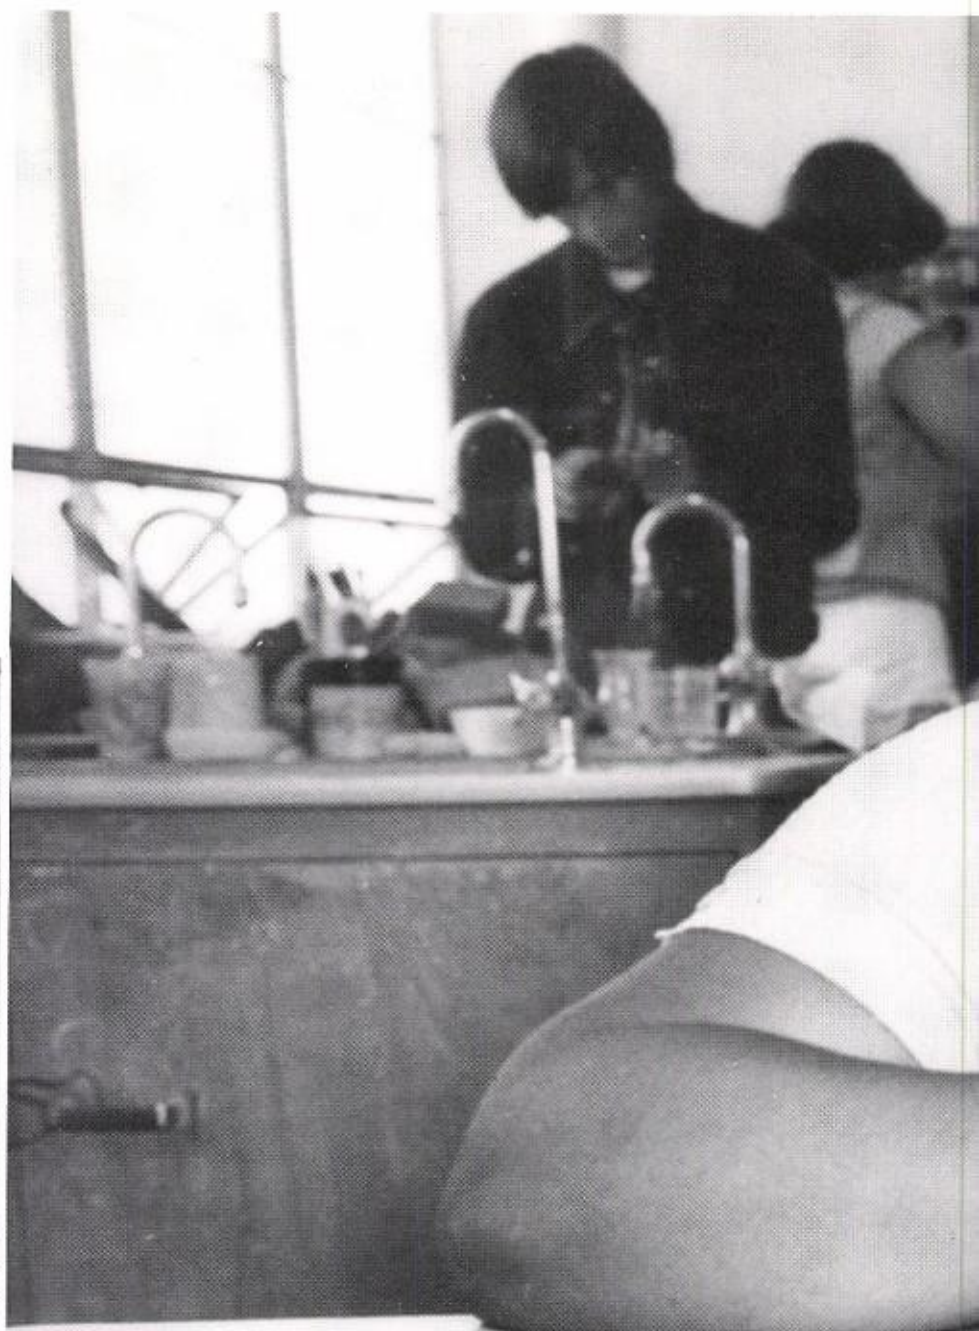

Tammie West, Lisa Harris and Brenda Allen work together in their clerical practice class. Tammy Feland, Pam Julian, and Janice Carroll get together where it's breezy to do shorthand. Deloris Barnett decides to just write out her typing assignment. Sitting up straight and feet flat on the floor are just two of the basic requirements in Typing I. Lisa Bert and Belinda Harvey stop to let their fingers rest.

Art classes offer a wide variety of mediums to work in, from leather to oil paint. Although not everyone is a Picasso, most people enjoy creating their own special masterpiece.

Vickie Harding has to work with tiny pieces of jewelry in her class. Debbie Bryant and Lisa Williams get their fingers gooey but what comes out of it is worth it. Jimmy Leonard and Jerry Moland make a lot of things they need in Leathercraft. Todd Malone, after this practice, will become very good in pottery. Tommy St.Cyr welds a piece of jewelry that Bobbi Stout doesn't particularly want to mess with.

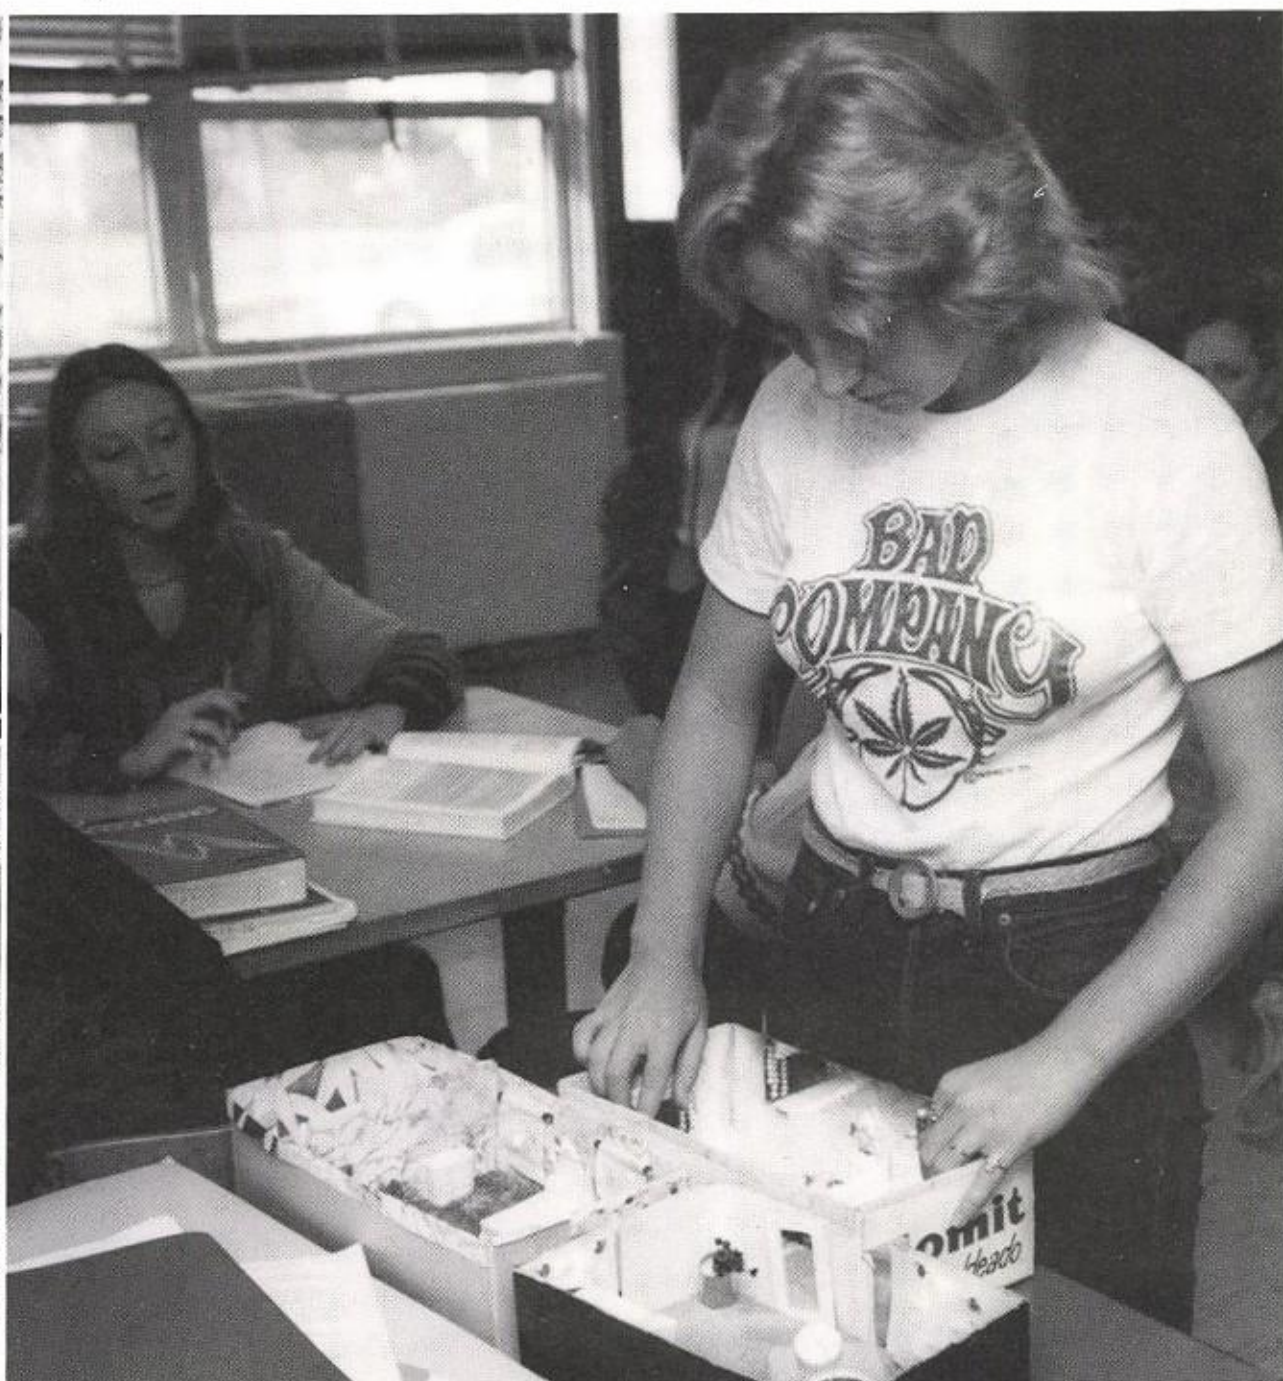

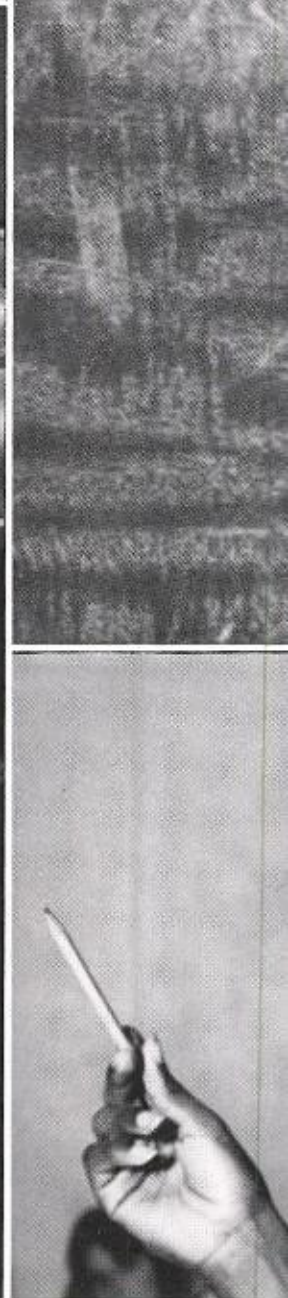

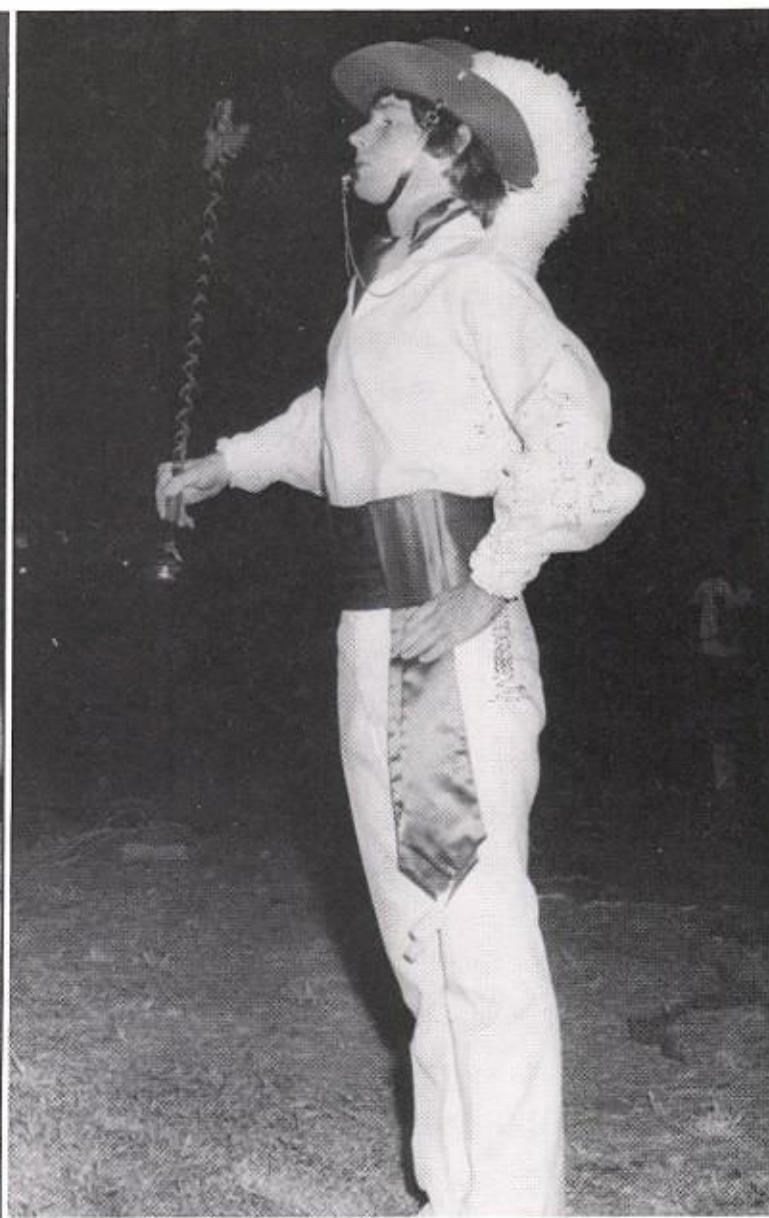

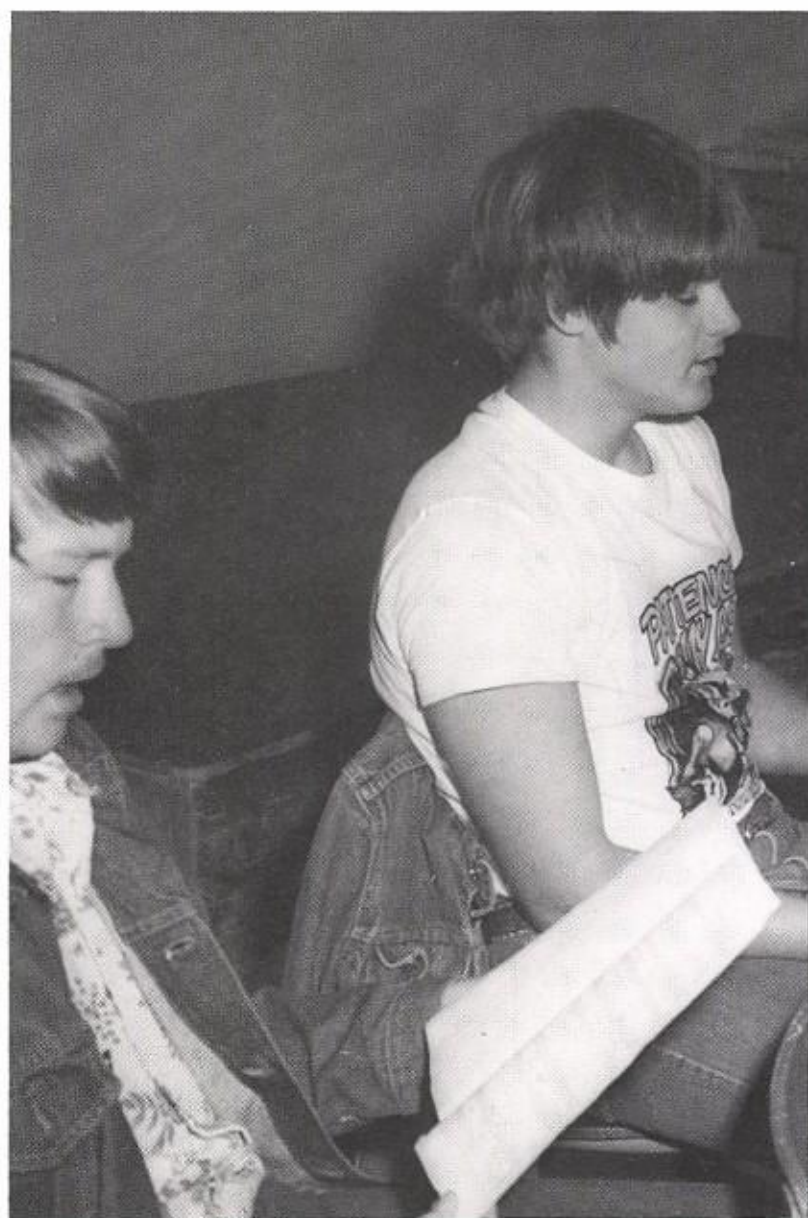

HOME-EC

Classes dealing with foods, clothing and other aspects of adult life prepare students for life on their own. For those interested in family life, a class in child guidance or family relations is the thing.

Knowing how to sew sure helps out when Patricia Haskins needs new clothes. Mrs. Parker shows Dori Taylor how to dress her teddy bear. "Ouch! These irons do get hot." Making and designing a bedroom is one of the first things you do in home planning and decorating. Mrs. Stewart checks out a funny smell in her Home Economics class. Always get off in a corner so no one can see you licking the pan. Malcolm Battle knows that a pattern is something he couldn't live without in clothing.

MUSIC

For students who can sing or play an instrument, a class like band, choir or orchestra is just the thing. Whether one wants to "soothe the savage beast" or march down main street, there is something for anyone interested.

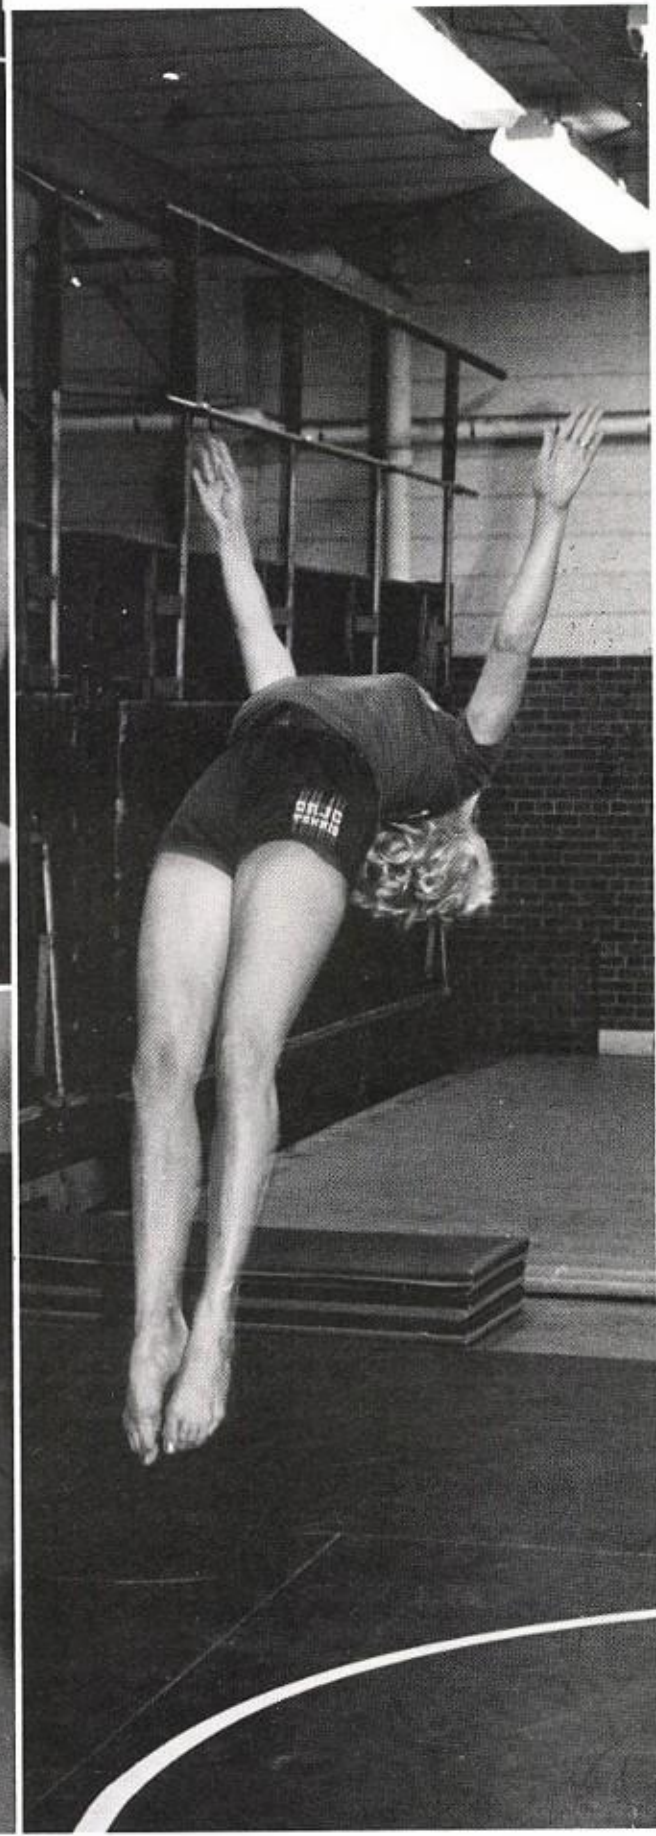

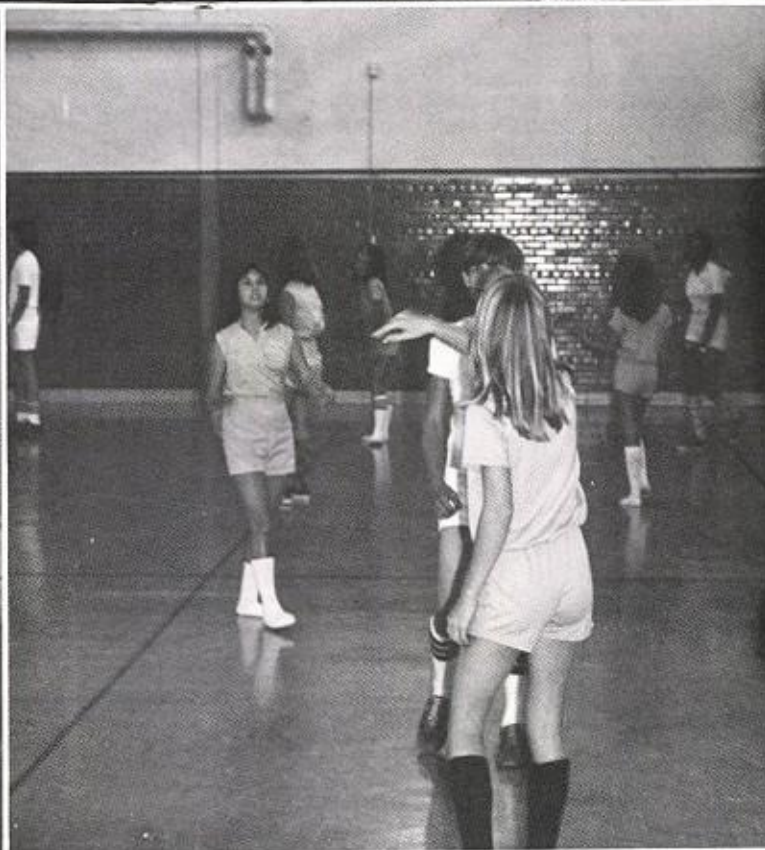

Everyone knows that the guys are the fruit of the singing crop. Drum Major Tim Ebert still stands straight after an hour or so of long practice. Following the rest of the class seems awkward but Karen Champ-lin must so she can complete the sound of the choir. "Come on ya'll, sing!" "The guys may be the fruit of the singing crop, but we're the cream!"

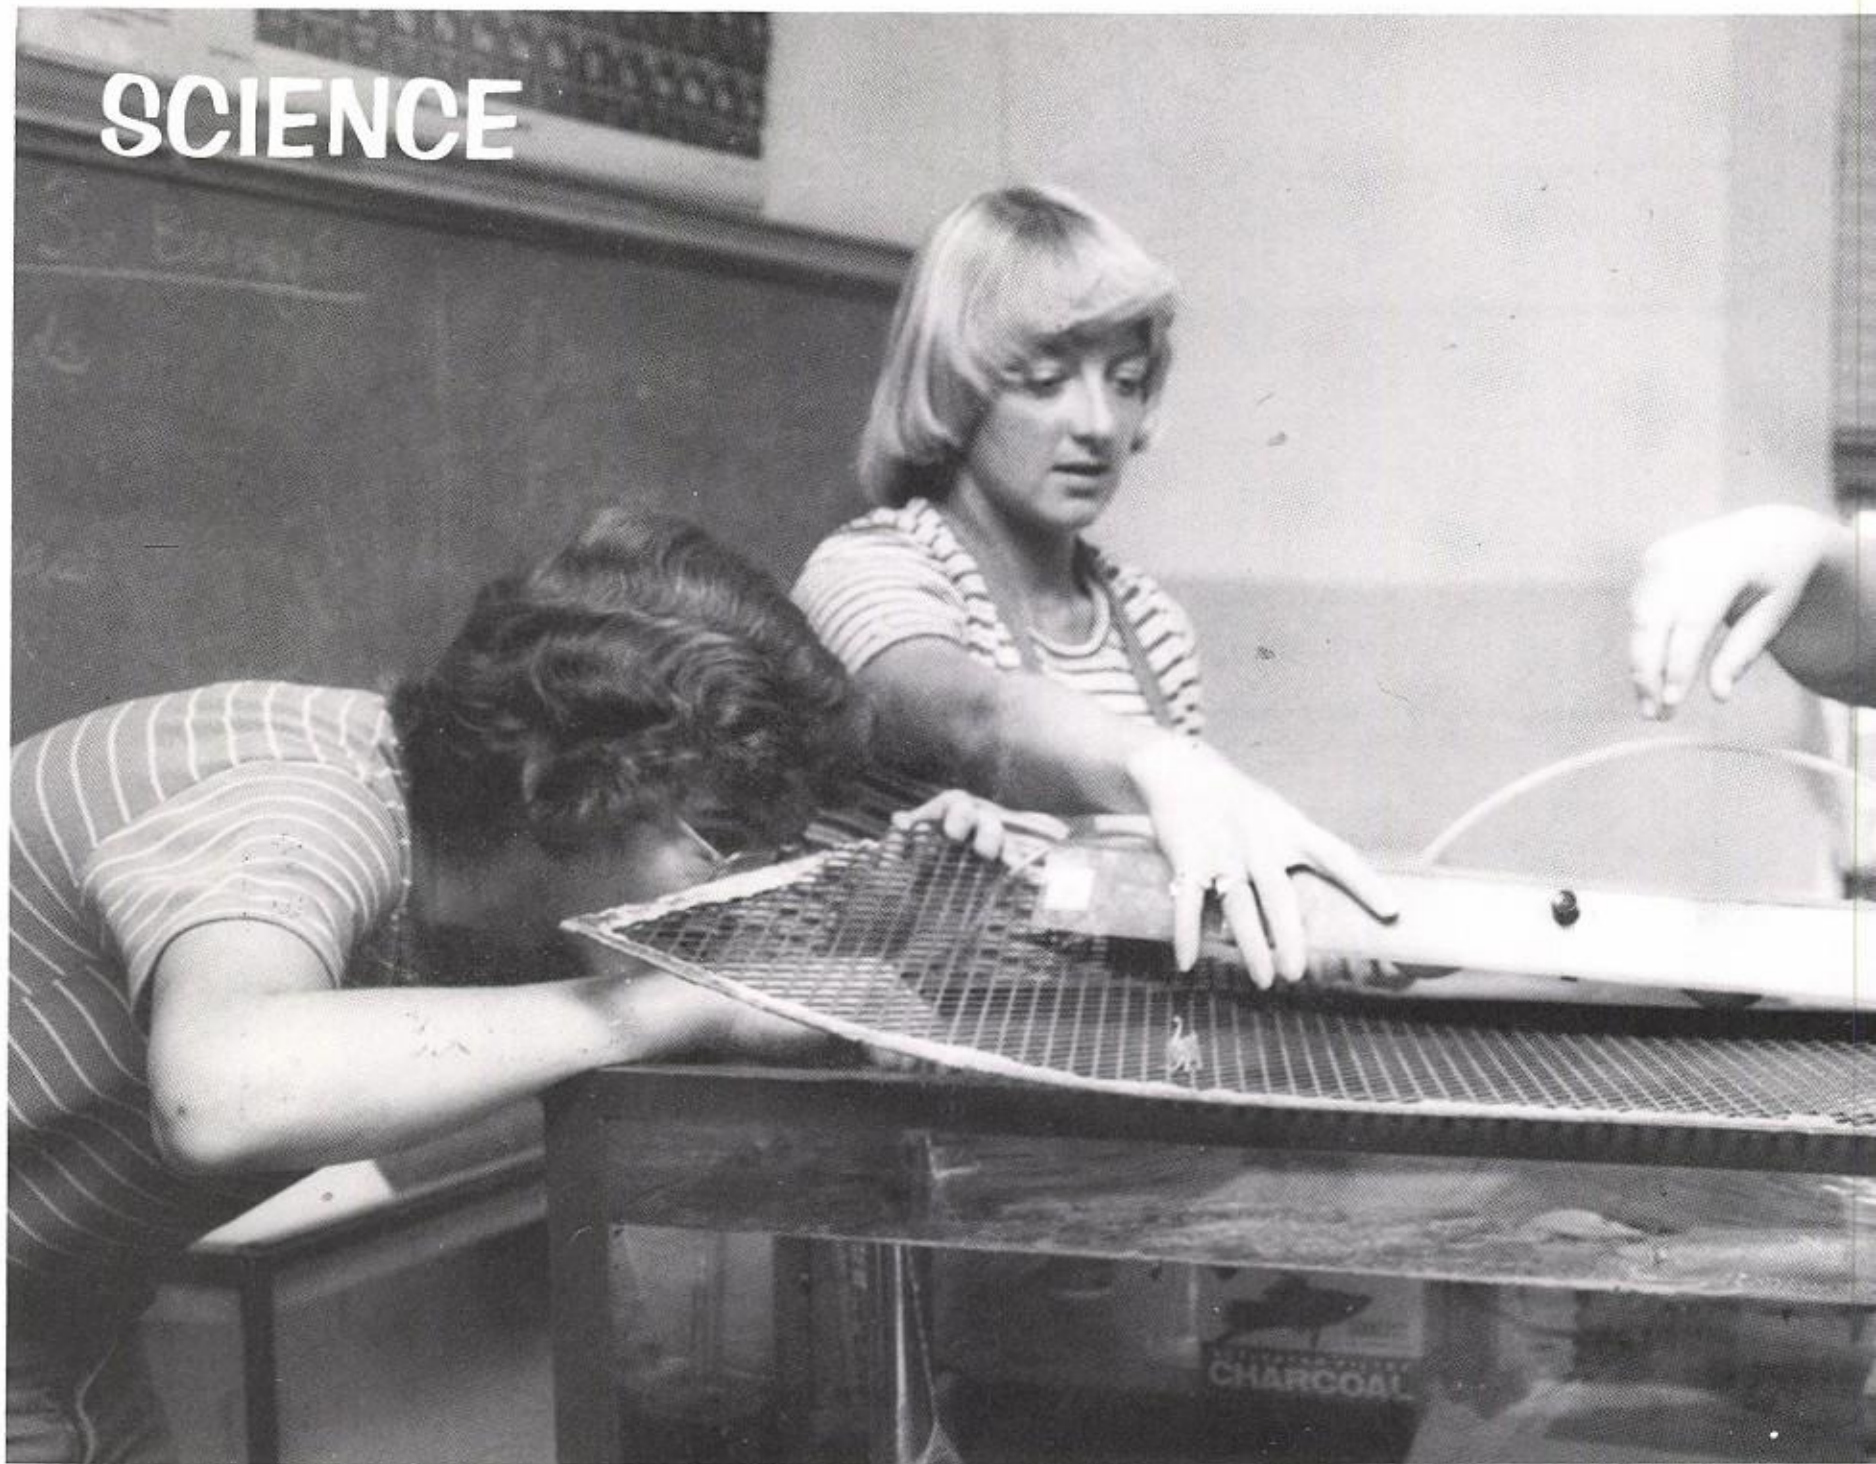

PHYSICAL ED.

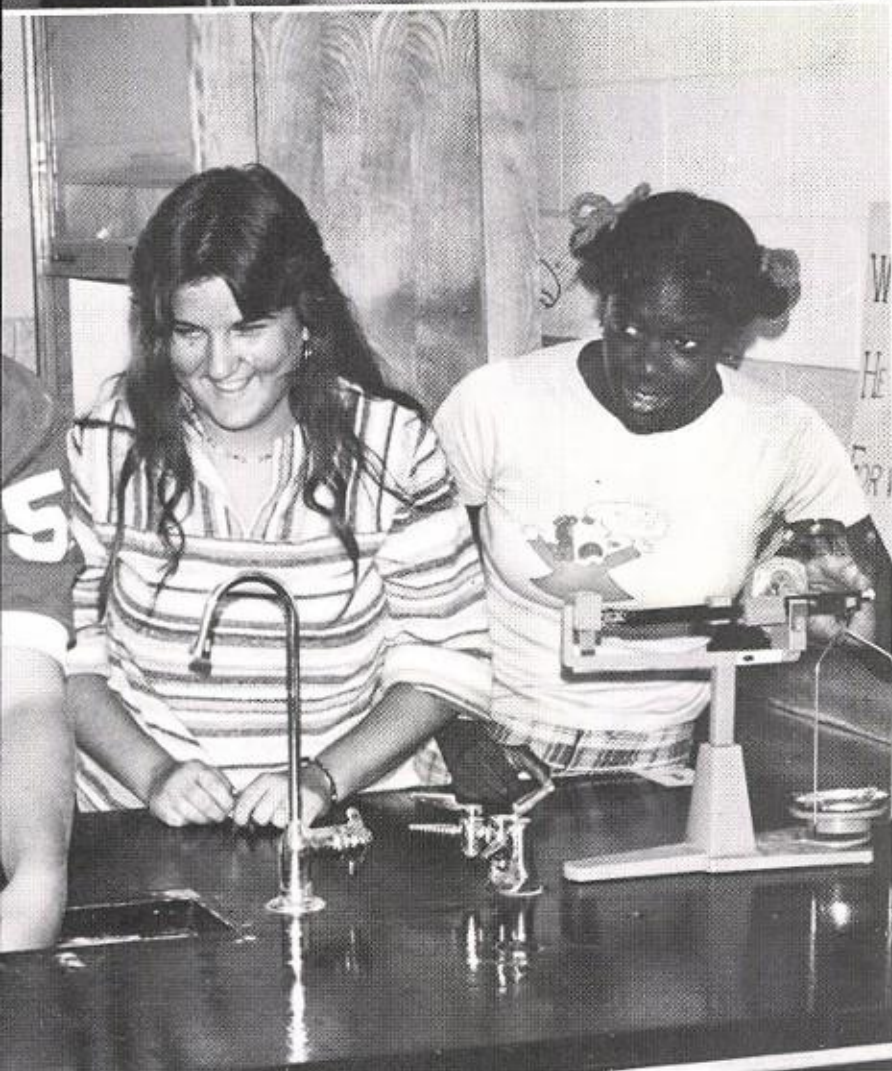

Physical ability is put to the test in Phys. Ed. classes. At least one year is mandatory, but there are many who wish to further develop physical skills. Classes like modern dance and gymnastics are offered for those who have gone beyond jumping jacks.

"On the count of three, everybody break your back." Grace, endurance, and balance are the goals of a gymnast and Marquel Latham works toward these goals. Everything's fair in coed gym classes except when a girl has to jump against a guy in volleyball. Who says guys aren't good in gymnastics? "Modern dance takes togetherness, and we've got it!"

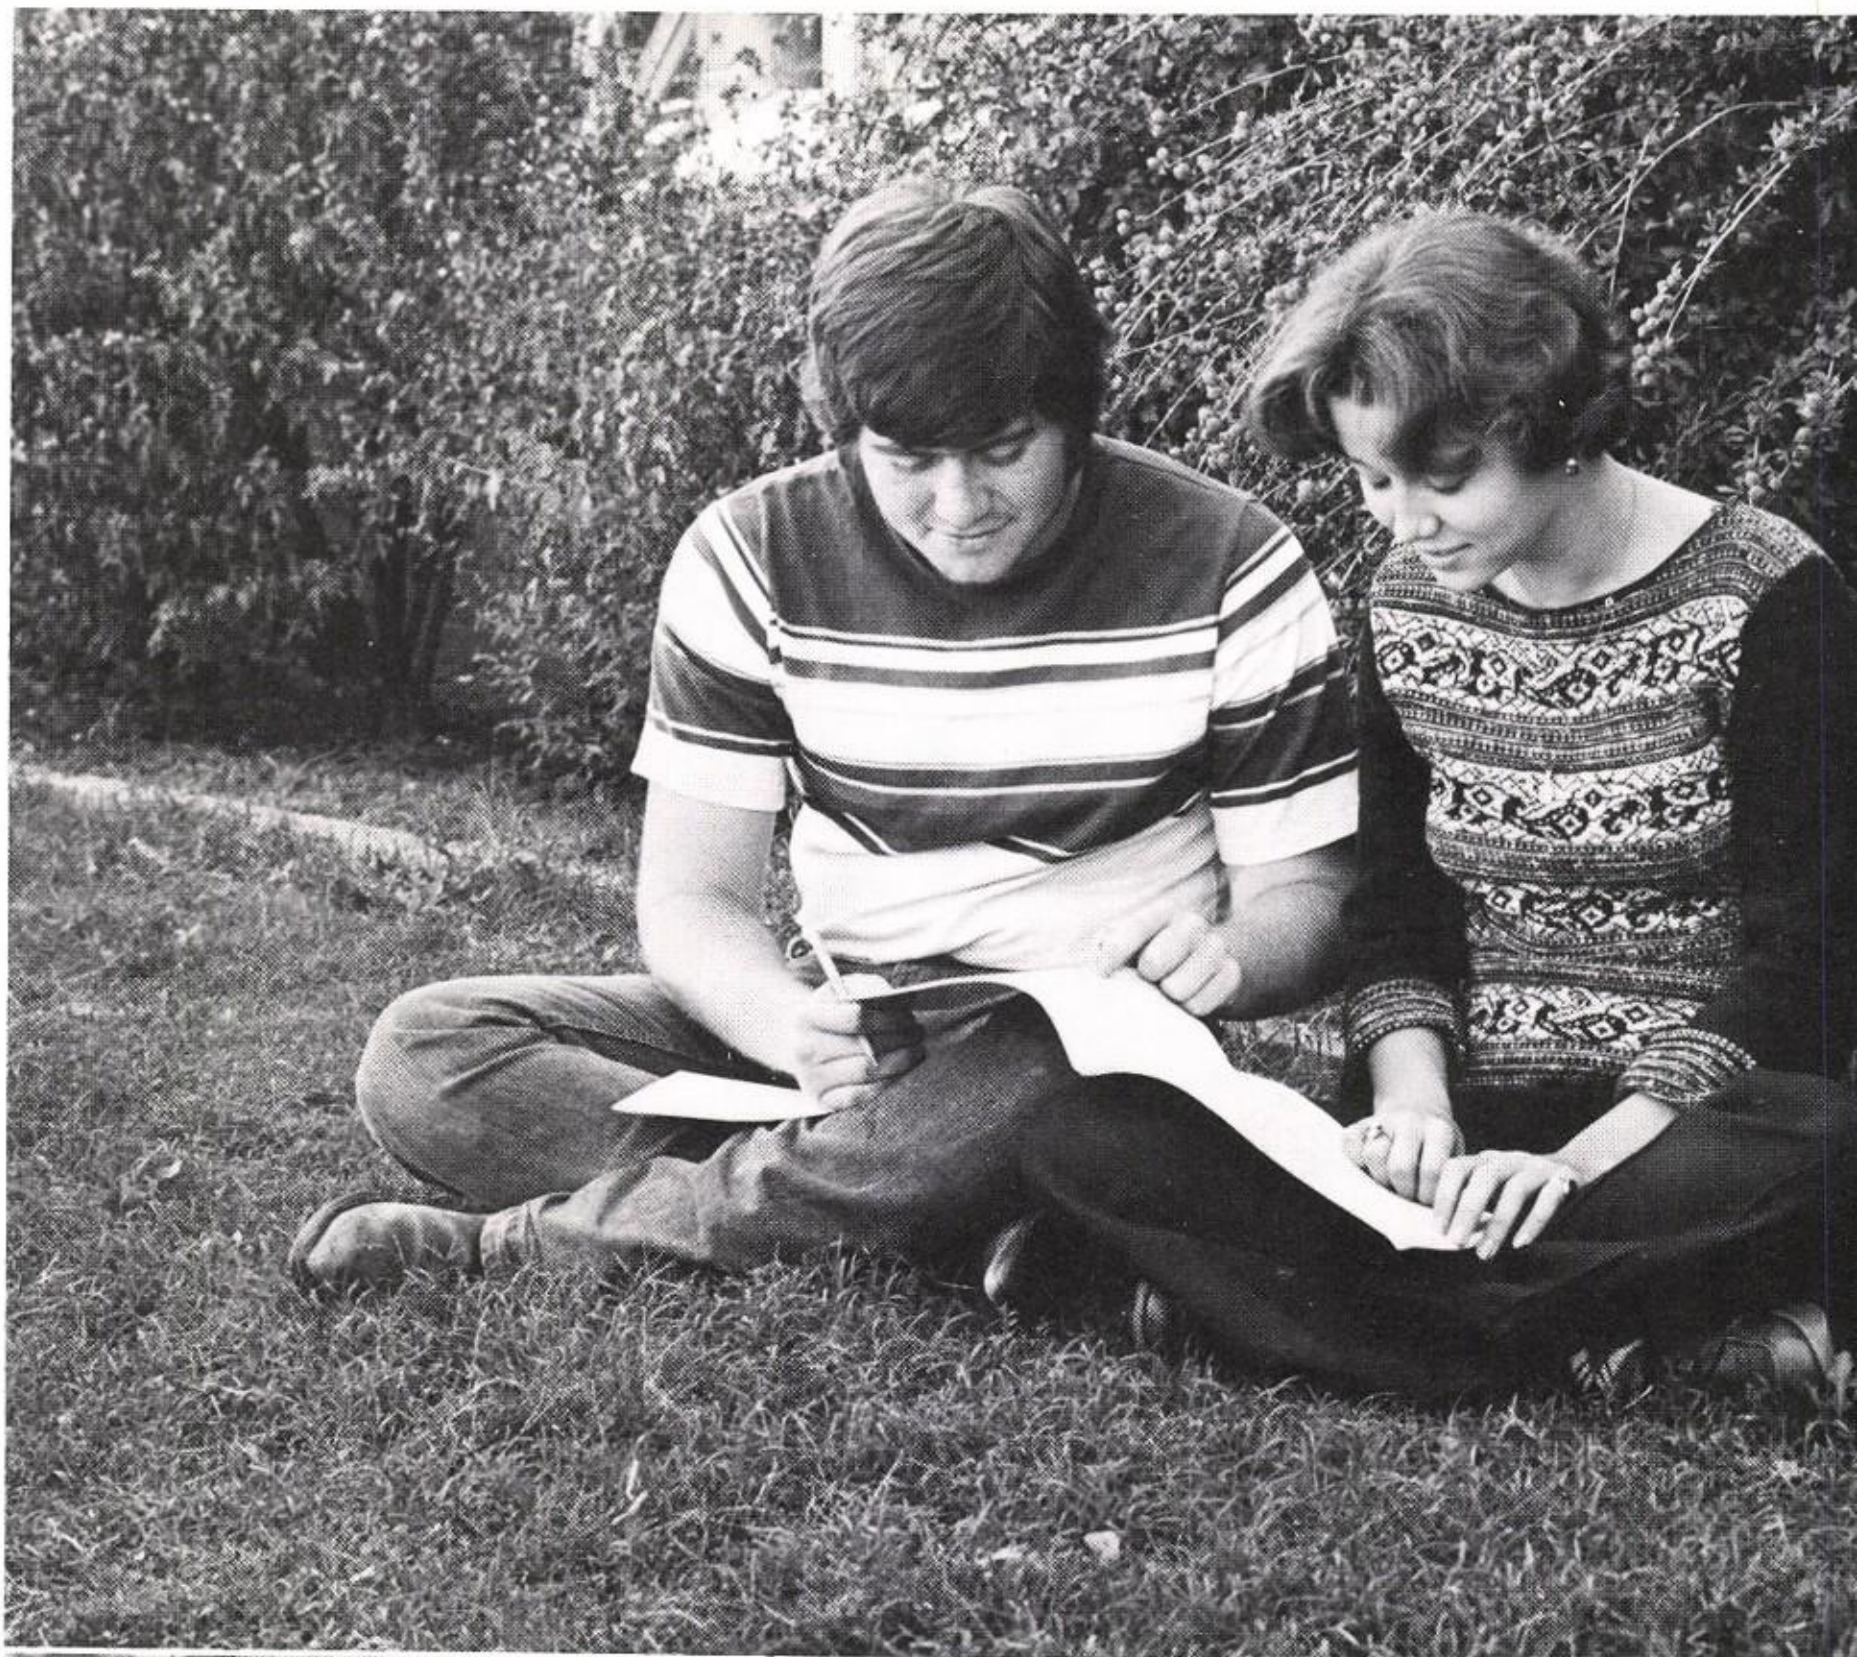

SCIENCE

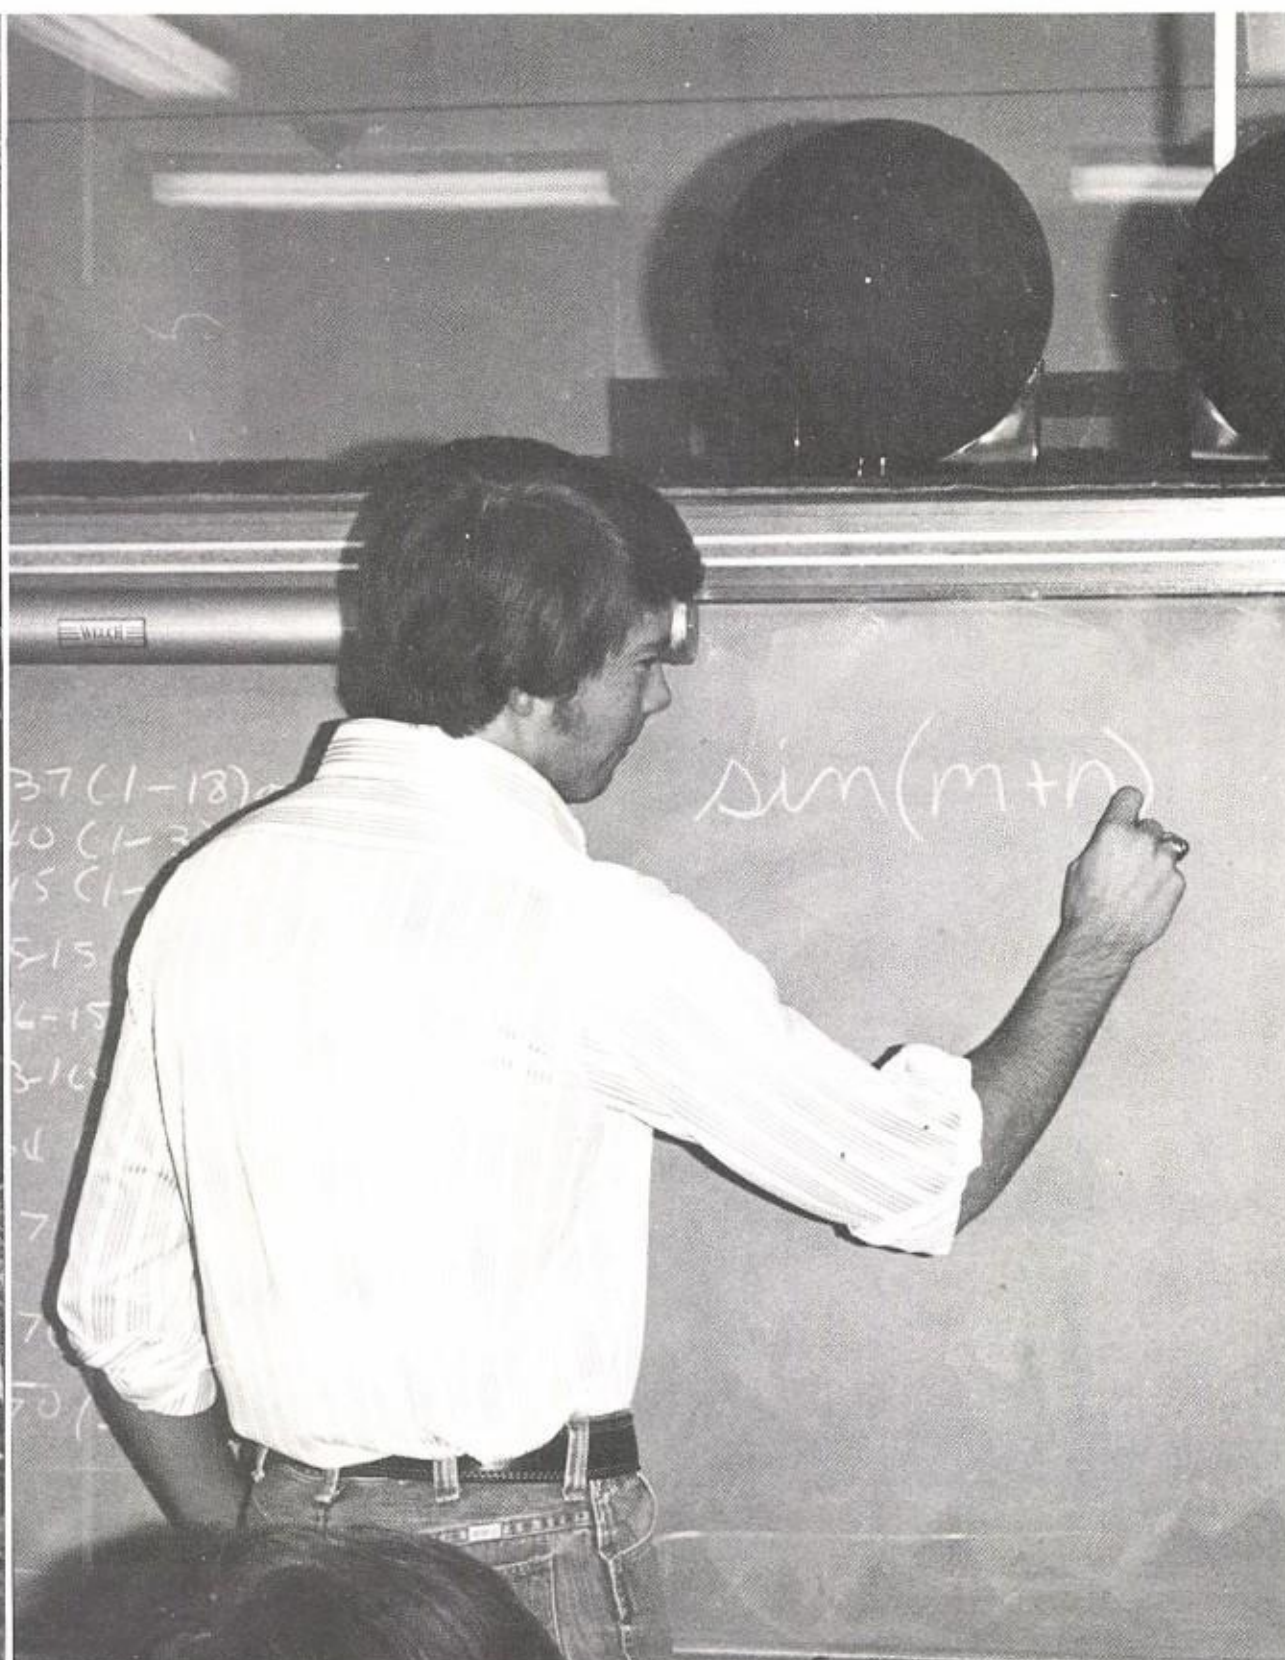

One year of science is required, but for those mad scientists there are also advanced courses like Chemistry II or physics. There are many aspects of science besides dissecting frogs, but the main idea in science is finding out the why's and how's of things.

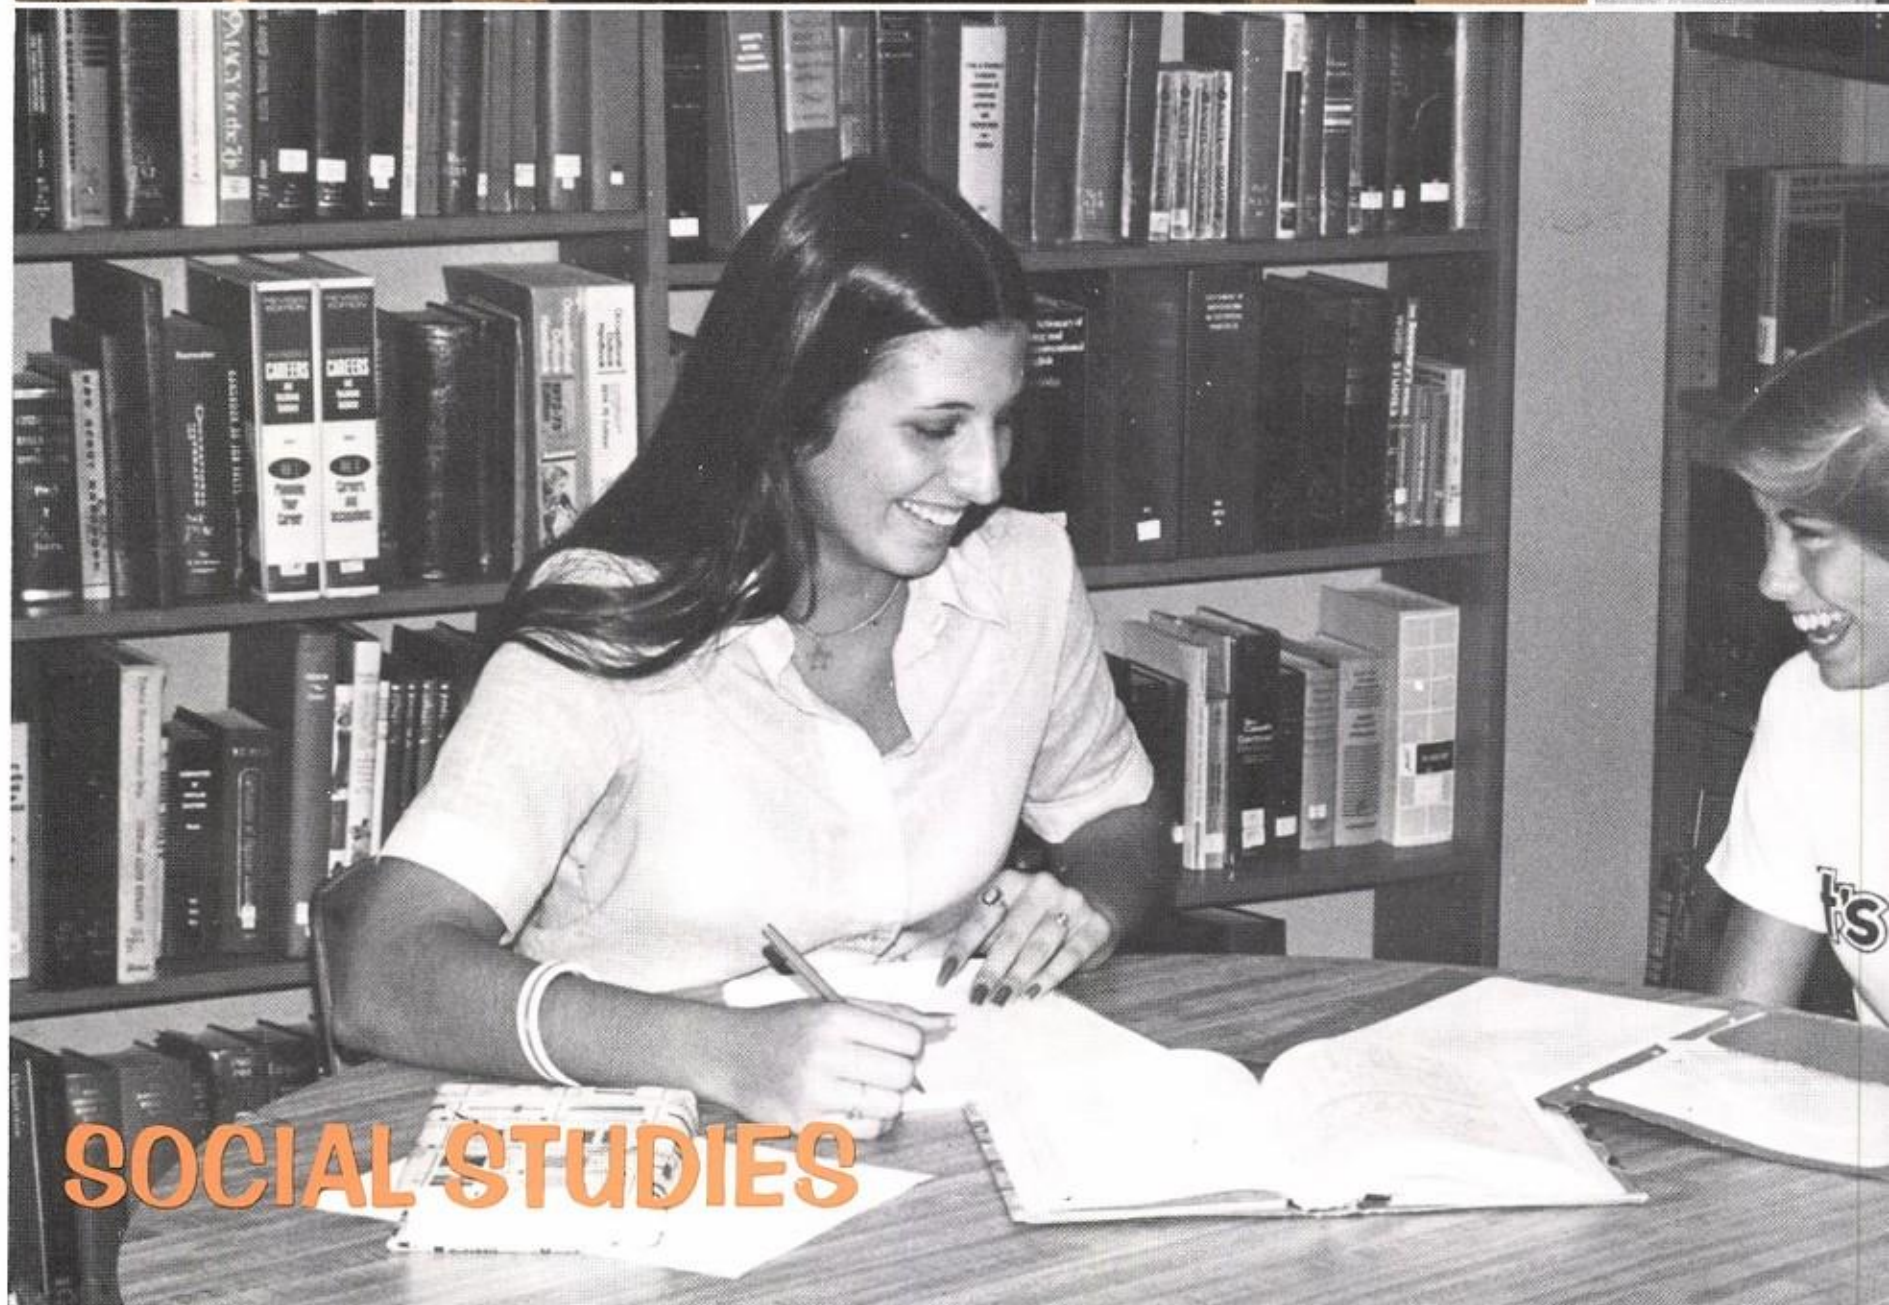

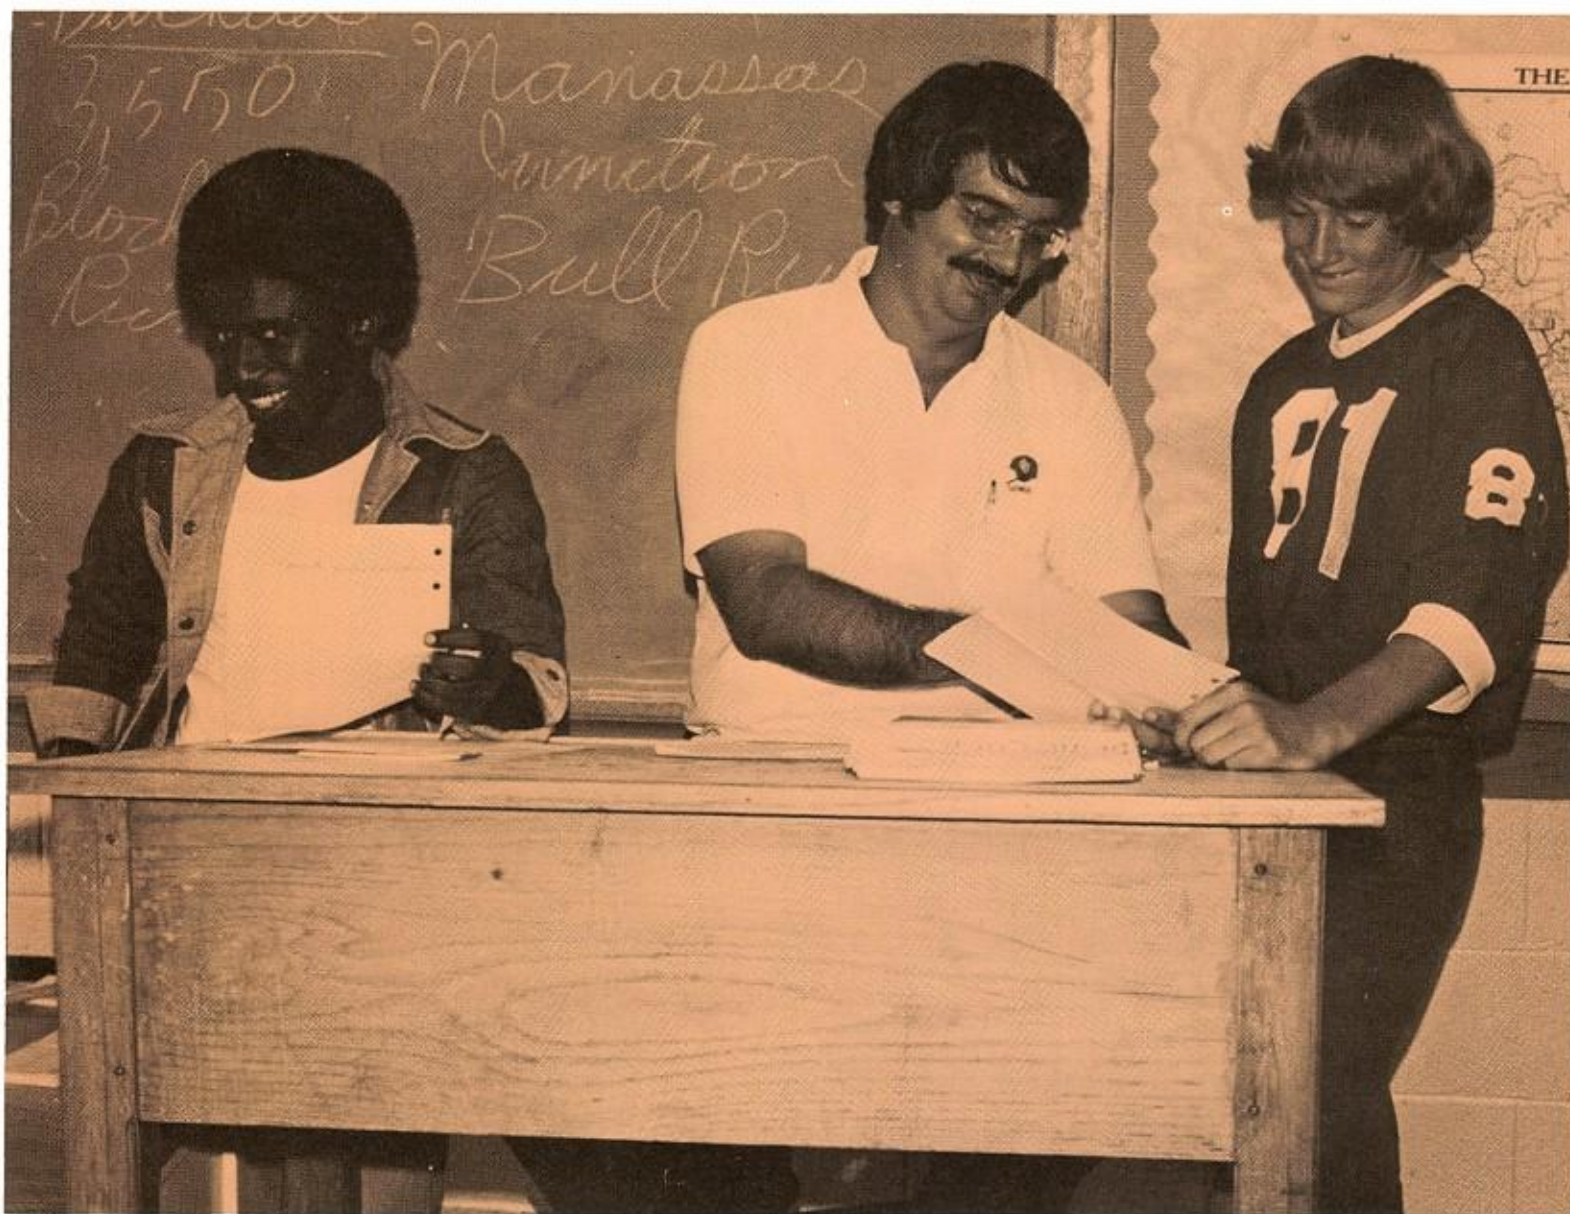

"Did you see that fish jump right out of the aquarium? Mrs. Ellis doesn't believe her kids really saw that." Charles Rowlan and Tony Manek trying to figure out the earth's diameter. Chip Hill, Debbie Cooper and Captoria Bailey know that science is a lot of fun. Terry Spalding works on a scientific experiment. Randy Ramsey shows Sherri Rains how to use a microscope.

Math seems to be an all or none subject. Either one endures the two years required, or takes all he can get. While the problems for classes like analytics or matrix seem like a foreign language to many, others find them an exciting challenge and possibly the beginnings of a career.

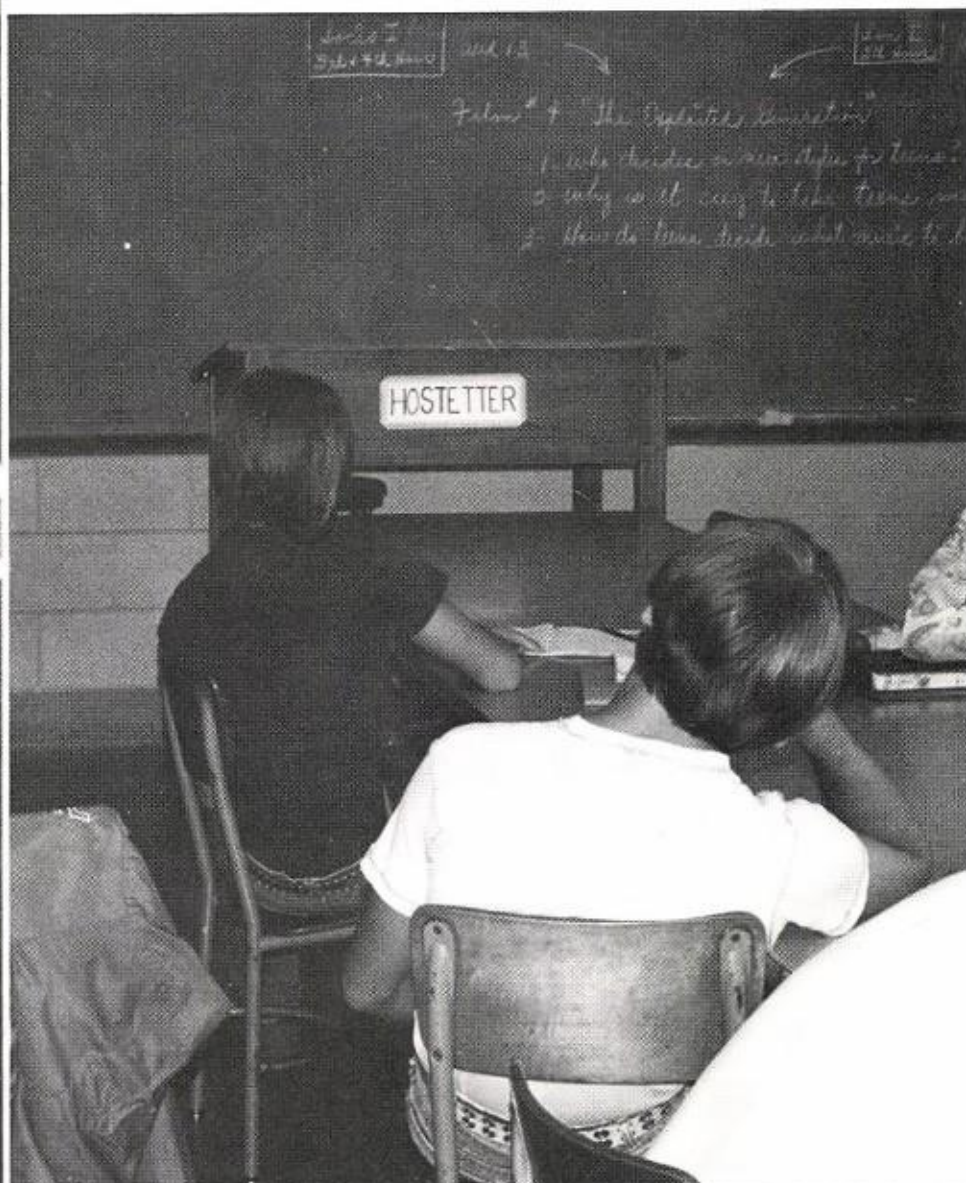

Shebon Bert and Stacey Brown help each other with their math. Gary Cartwright figures out a problem on the black board. Bill Lacy does his math work on a business machine. Taking his turn at the overhead projector is Leslie Echols. Mrs. Overstreet shows how to work a General Math problem on the overhead.

Social studies includes such classes as psychology, sociology and anthropology. If you don't let the difficult sounding names scare you, they are quite interesting and apply to today's world. Of course there is history for those who find security in the past.

Mr. Faurot is pleased with his students' grades. A typical hard working freshman history class! Mr. Hostetter's Sociology class watches a film. Students enjoy learning about African Culture. Kristi Pickle and Cheryl Smith do their history lesson in the library, where they are surrounded by many books telling them much history.

LANGUAGE ARTS

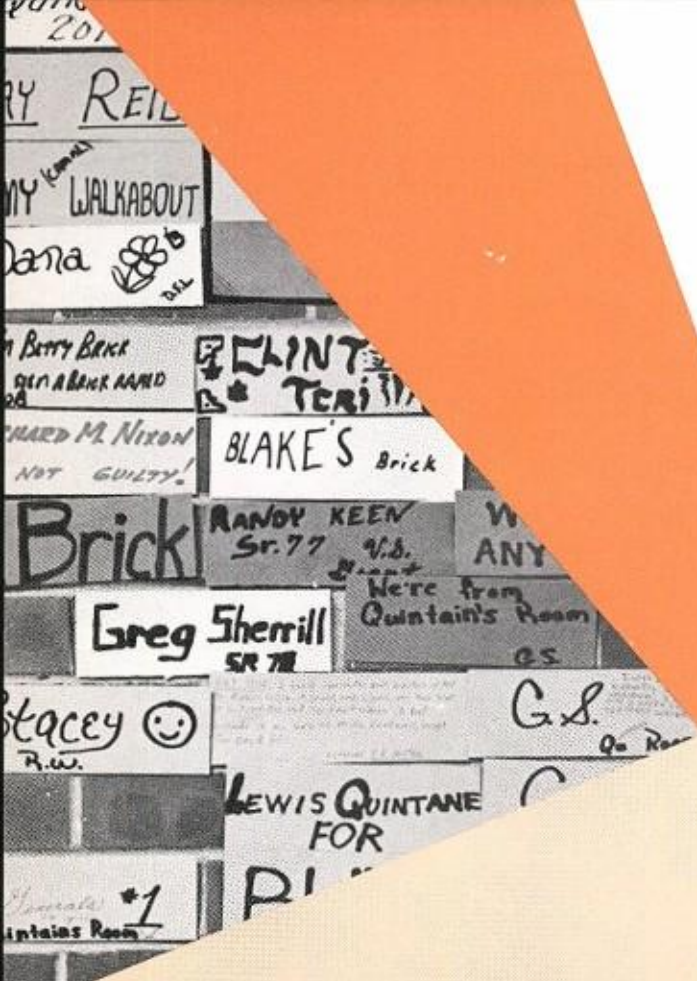

There are a variety of Language Arts classes offered, many of which are designed toward special interests. Putting out a newspaper or doing a commercial offers a change from the ever popular nouns and verbs.

Students may not mind taking a test but they'll sure get rid of them fast. Cindy Austin looks something up in her English book. Mrs. Fuller works hard grading English papers. Susan Henderson studies her drama script. Mark Boyd wishes someday to become President of the United States.

I join clubs to find people with similar interests.
The things we can accomplish together are limited only by our enthusiasm.

Patterns

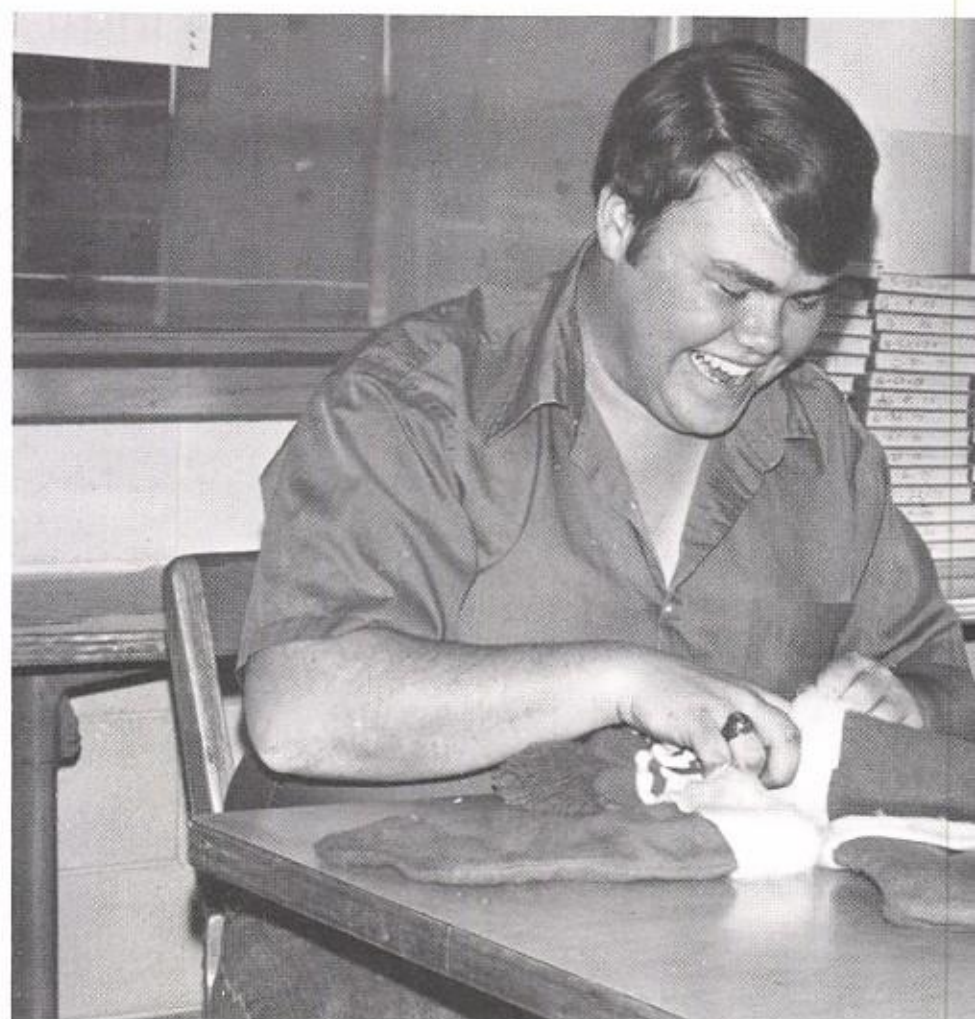

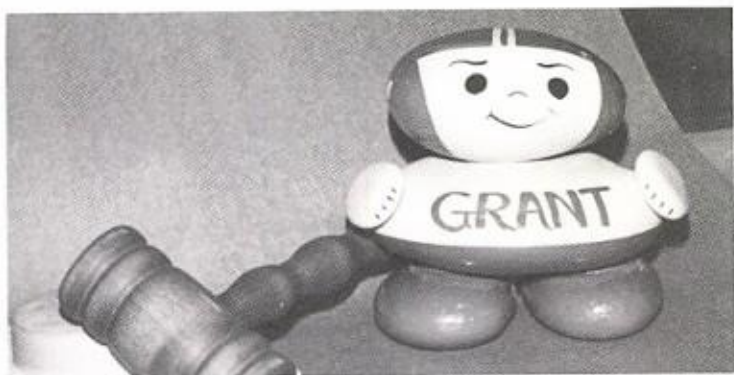

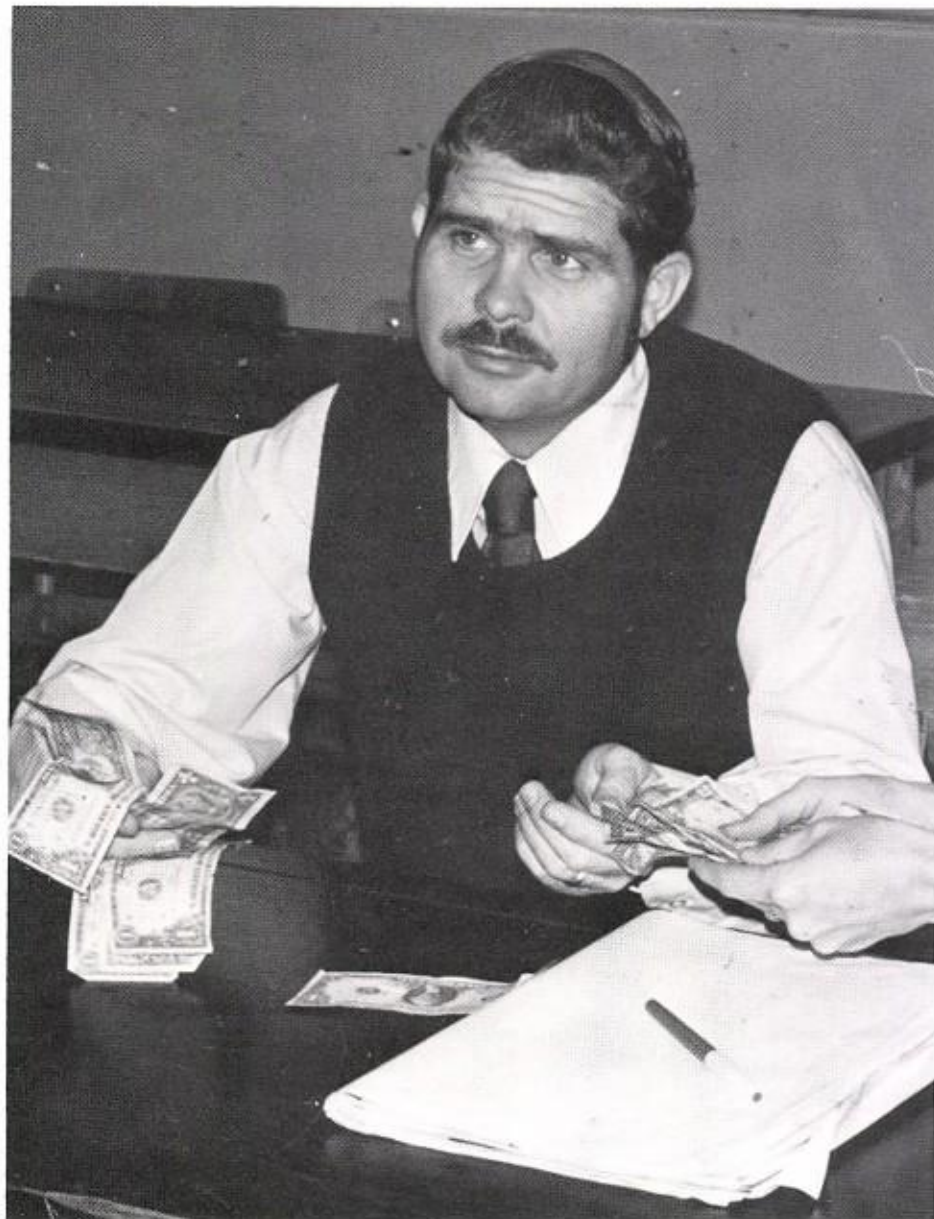

Members of Student Council attended the Annual Summer Workshop at OCU and the State Convention in Moore. Student Council sold T-shirts with "Go Generals Beat Spartans" written on them. They also sponsored the Ugliest Teacher contest again this year. Sponsors were Jerry Rickerts and Dee Dressler. All students at Grant were eligible to join Student Council.

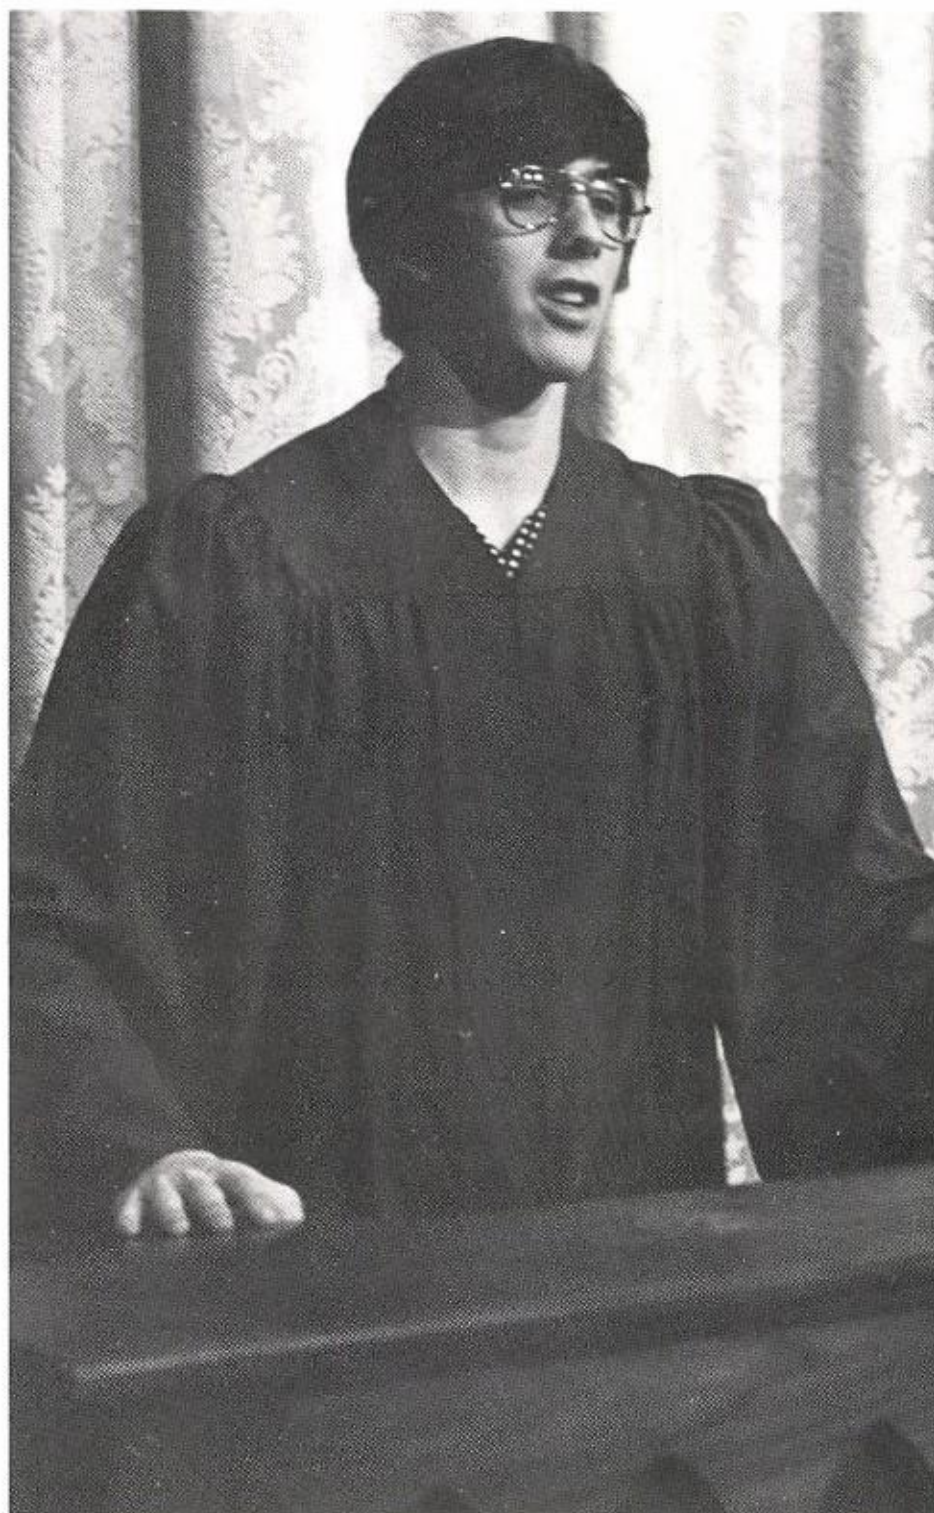

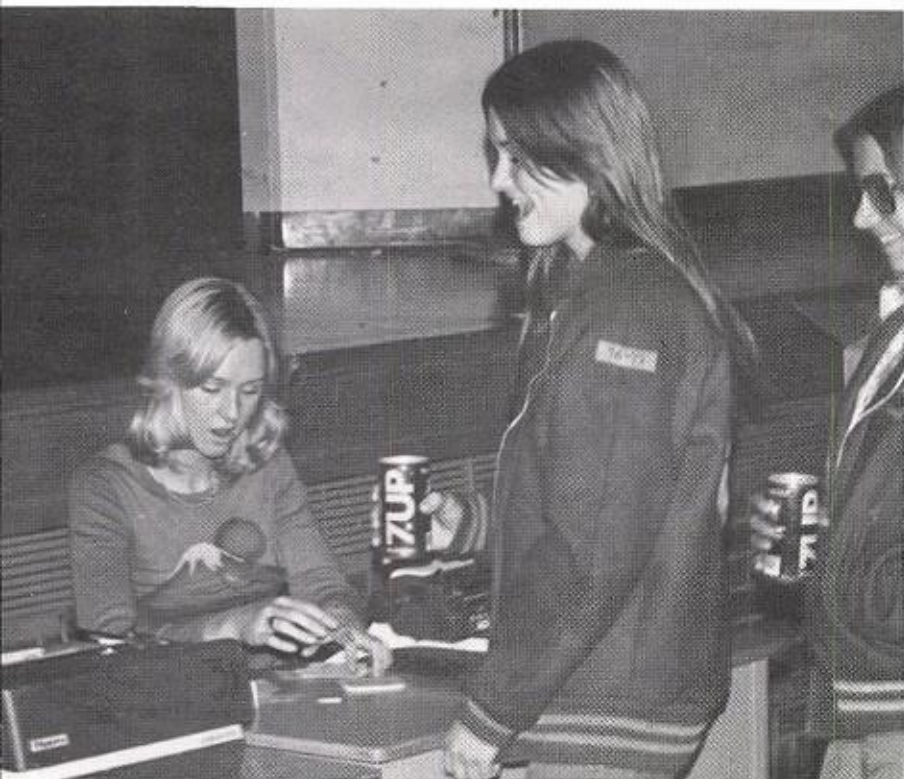

When James Roberson, Dale Marshall and John Gillespie have the job of putting the victory flag up, they know to "handle with care." Finding a cool place, Susan Henderson does some assigned work. "Are you trying to tell me you've never seen a mail girl?" says Linda Haynes. Brenda Brown gets all ready for Christmas by pulling out elf gear. Marty Barris settles down to do some Santa Claus work. Chery Dixon and Shawn Washington buy their brick covers to help their class win a party.

John Gillespie, Gayla Beeson, Christy Harper.

National Honor Society, composed of juniors and seniors with an overall average of 3.4 or better, made and sold ID cards to students. Members also collected canned goods for Thanksgiving baskets to give to the needy, and sold TB seals at the fairgrounds. Sponsors were Christine Baugh, Ron Cable, Ralph King, Ann Douglas, Harriet Pulley and Thelma Parks. In addition to the required grade average, members were rated by a faculty council on points of service, leadership and character.

Denise Clampett and Terry Clark type I.D.'s. Rick Winford addresses the Honor Society at the initiation ceremony. Mrs. Baugh, David Wood and James Roberson discuss plans for the ceremony. Mr. Cable wonders where all the money is coming from.

New to Grant this year was the Foreign Language Club, sponsored by Nancy Phelps and Brenda Roberson. Members were required to have had one year of Foreign Language or be currently enrolled in a Foreign Language course. Merits were given during the year and awards presented at an end of the year banquet.

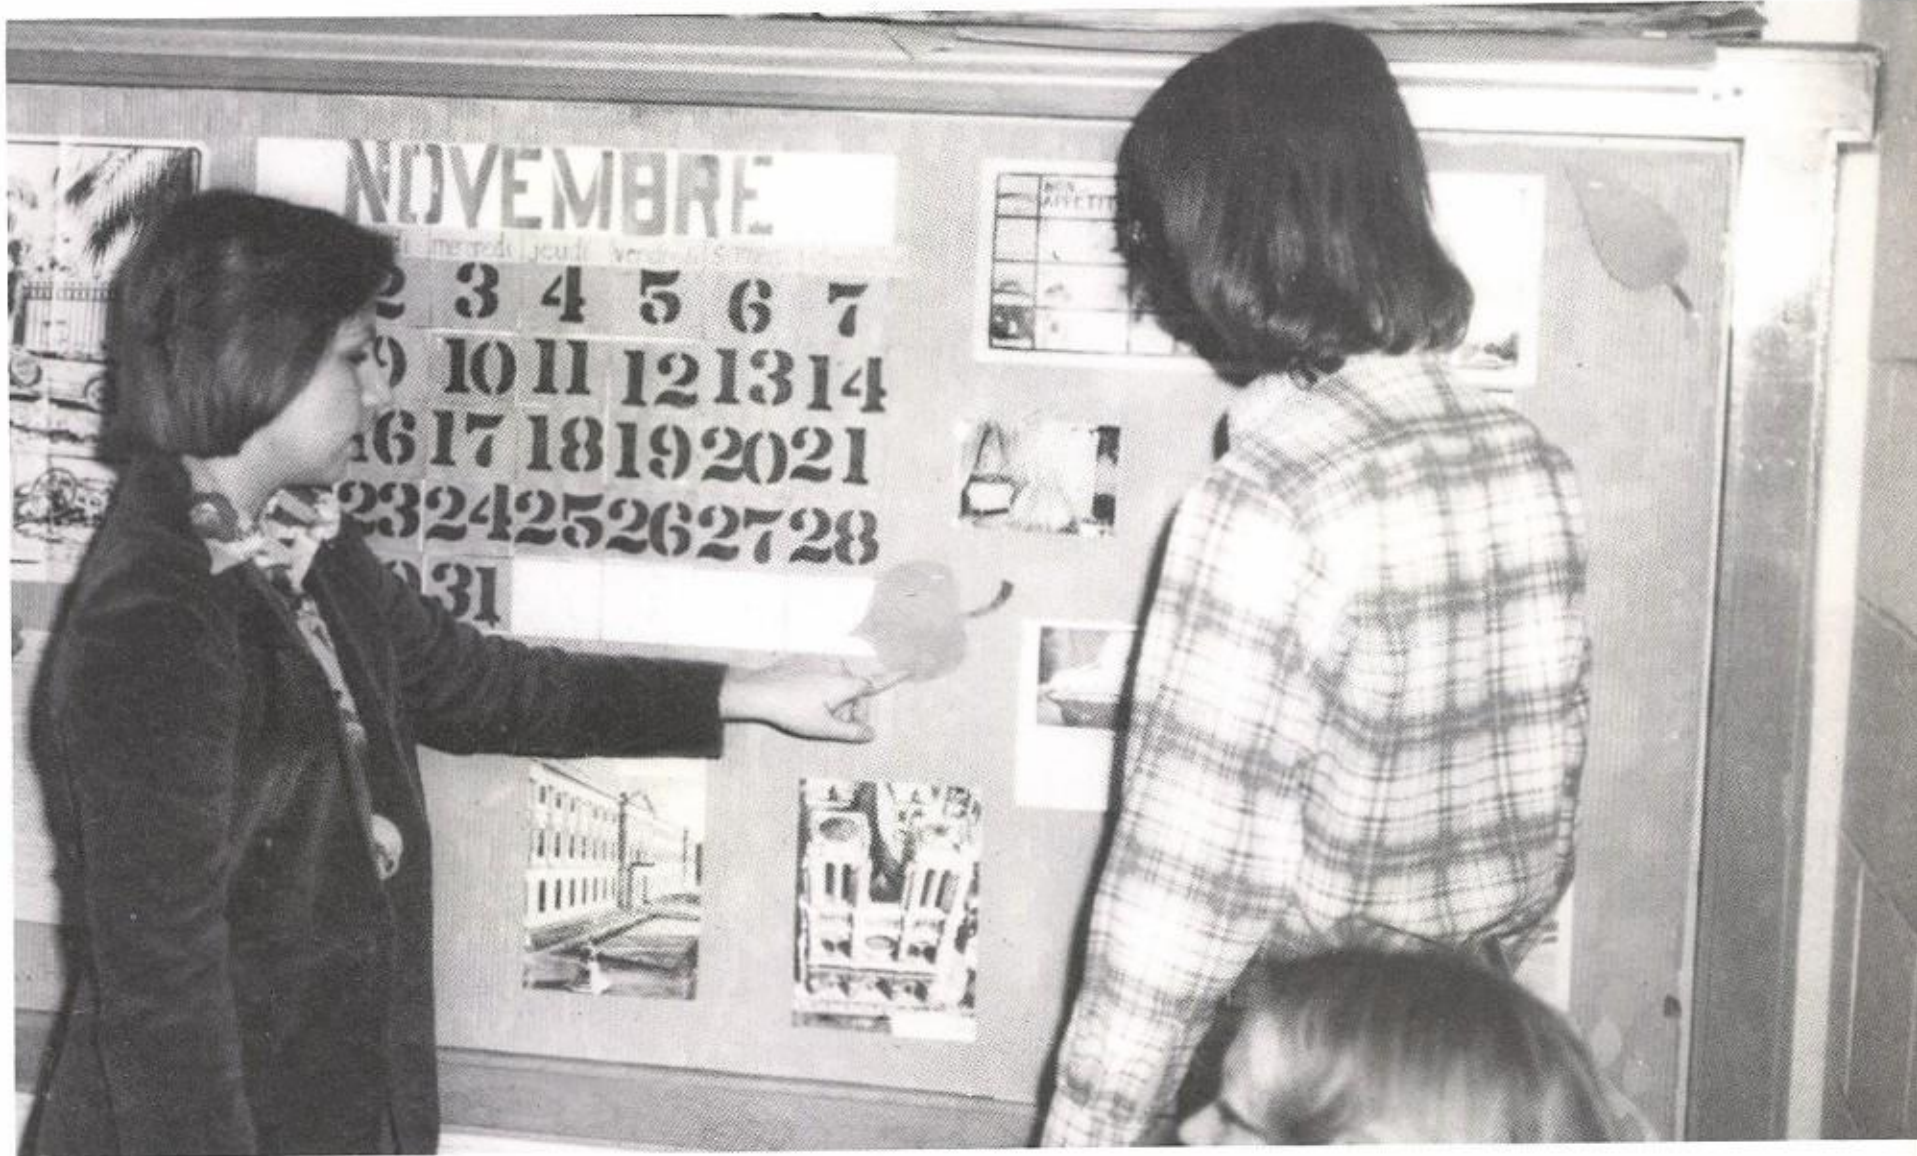

Mu Alpha Theta, under the sponsorship of Severlan Vaughn and Dee Dressler, held the Annual Mathematics Contest and sponsored the Math awards section of the Awards Assembly. To raise funds they sold suckers in math class. To join, a student must have an overall B average and nothing below a B in any math class.

Mr. Vaughn gives instructions in math to his bewildered students. "Where would I be without my fingers?" Lisa Lunsford asks, while trying to figure out a math problem. One of Grant's many clubs, Mu Alpha Theta is one of the most respected. Charles Raprich and Gary Cartwright wonder where they could have put that homework assignment. Maria Randolph is writing French on the board. Don't ask what it says. Nancy Brian raises the French flag in class. Where are the stars? Susan Henderson points out something of interest to Dale Betterton in French class.

Thespians presented two plays this year, beginning with "Tom Jones" in November. They also sponsored an egg sale. To join, a student must have 10 points earned by contribution to dramatic arts. Each point represents 10 hours' work. Jayne Thompson sponsored the club.

Upward Bound, sponsored by John Moham and Janet Jones, went on summer trips to Six Flags, Roman Nose State Park, NE college and various other colleges in the program. Members must be juniors who need financial aid in attending post secondary school. Awards were given in both academic and athletic areas. Human Relations Club was again open to anyone interested in joining. Members welcomed a new sponsor, Mr. Pendley.

The Grant Dispatch featured more six page editions this year. In an effort to poll students, the Dispatch, along with Student Council, co-sponsored a mock presidential election. There was a general trend toward centering the paper around school events rather than outside occurrences. Co-editors were Monita Denson and Rick Winford. Dr. Ruth Kraemer was the sponsor.

Anita McCullough writes her story for the Grant Dispatch. Johnny Bailey and Jackie Huffman help on advertising yearbook sales. James Roberson and Billy Bateman decide where to put the pictures for the next issue. Togetherness is what gets the job done. Monita Denson informs the staff on newspaper deadlines. "But I didn't do it," says Mark Buchanan. A little friendly advice on typewriters is given by Gary White to Kelly Smith.

Spectrum was the theme chosen for this year's yearbook, after long deliberation. "The theme concerns the many images a person projects," explained Rhonda Wright, editor in chief. Dr. Ruth Kraemer sponsored the yearbook staff. In an effort to promote sales a coupon for a free sundae was given to all who bought yearbooks.

Rhonda Wright knows that being editor of a yearbook is a full time job. Jerry Morphis, Beverly Higgins, Rick Washington and Rhonda Wright, take a peak at the new yearbooks. Section editors Johnny Bailey, Cindy Lookabaugh, Tammy Julian and Brenda Langston, are instructed about deadline dates. Walter Oaks, Debbie Cowden, and Denice Robison, work to finish their section in the 1977 yearbook. Randy Lusk has an important job of photographing Generals. Dennis Mooney gives a boost to yearbook sales by putting up posters.

The Rodeo Club staged a hayride and a car wash to raise money. They went to the Calgary Stampede held in Canada. Several members were active on weekends riding bulls. There was also a very active group of girls who barrel raced. Sponsors were Lewis Quintane, Luke Harris, and Skip Metheny. The Safety Club was sponsored this year by John Savage.

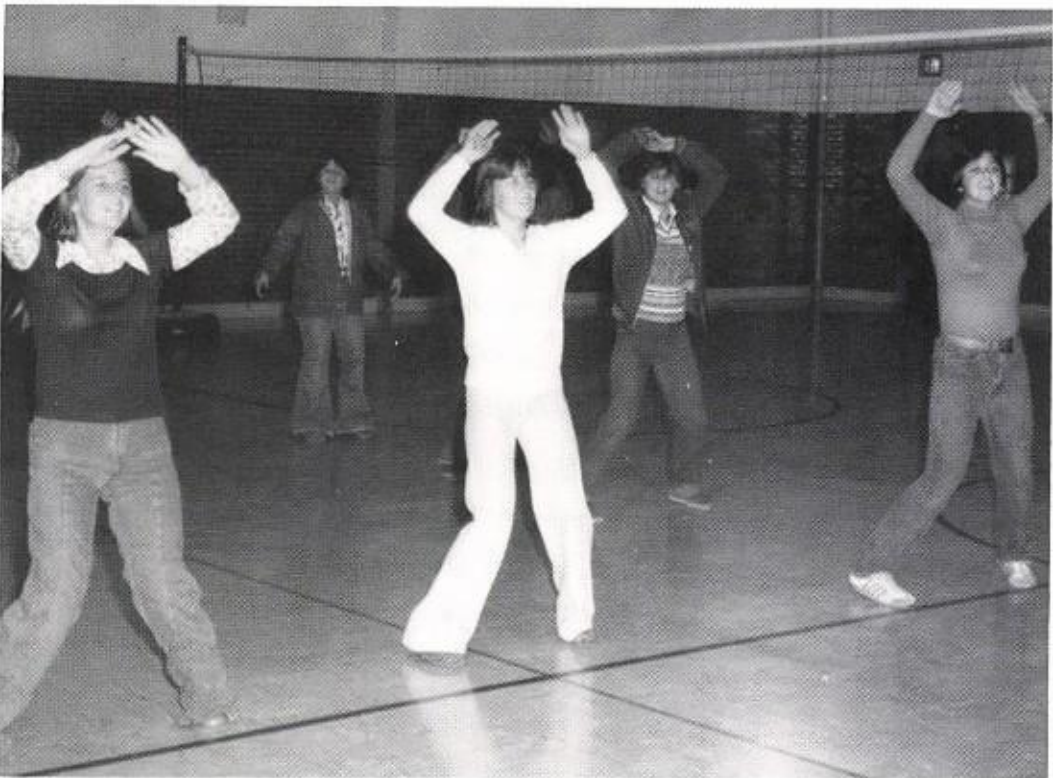

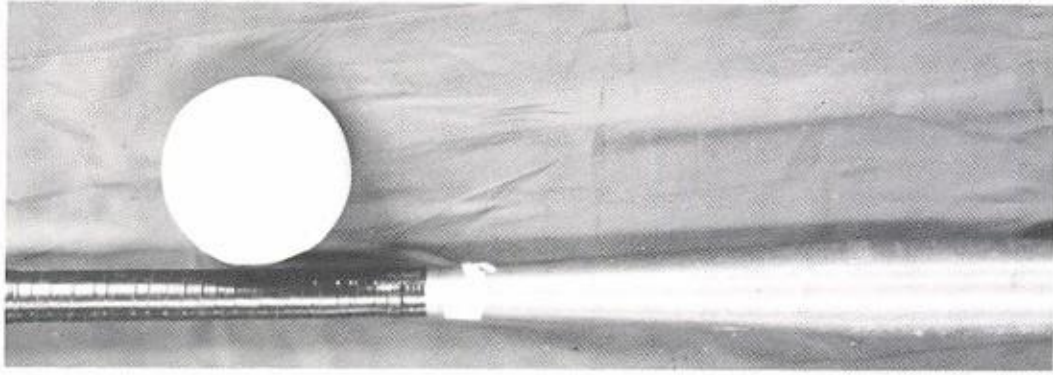

Mr. Quintane kicks up his boot while watching the powder puff game. Pam O'Daniels and Pam Houston work on making Christmas cards for children. Bill Mullinax, Jerry Davis, Sherry Higgins, and Danny Myer discuss rodeo plans. Larry Manuel tries to stay on top of the bull.

Sponsors for the Girls' O Club were Connie Ellis and Vickie Parker. The girls sold candy to raise money. Girls who lettered in at least one varsity sport were eligible to join. The purpose of the club was to organize and keep varsity letter persons involved in sports and to provide them with a letter and other symbols of achievement.

Fund raising activities for FBLA included the sale of popcorn, Christmas candles and sausage. The club won an award for being the largest chapter in the region and the Gold Seal Award. Trips included a journey to the Texas State Fair in Oct. Darrell Ames, Pres., went to Omaha in Nov. In June 26 members went to New York, Philadelphia, Montreal and Washington, D.C. The National Convention was held in Denver, Colo. in July. Anyone currently or previously enrolled in a business subject was eligible to join. Sponsors were Dorothy Dean, Al Fuller, Juliette Brown, Yvone Felder, Beverly Wilson and Loneta Hayes.

FBLA President Darryl Ames tells officers Diana Norman, Pam Julian and Janice Carroll that this year's sales should be a great help. Mr. Al Fuller, sponsor, counts the day's money in the student store. Florence Mathis tries to decide which candle to buy. "Come on somebody, buy this candle, I've had it all day," pleads Mark Booth. Getting involved can be rewarding as Diana Rodriguez receives a plaque. Bruce Harrison studies hard to be a future business leader.

FBLA. Front Row: Victor Voss, Denise Robinson, Debbie Cowden, Philip Spencer, Tonia Jones, Janice Carroll, Pam Julian, Darryl Ames, president; Tamela Sheppard, Donna McDaniel, Deanna Harrison, Mark Richardson, Bruce Harrison, Debbie Tepsic, Barbara Thompson, Sue McKee. DECA, sponsored by Frances Hendrix, sold General sock hats, candy, and raffled off 100 gallons of gas. Trips included the Officer's Training Conference in October and State Leadership Conference in March. The National Leadership Conference was held in May. There was also a hayride in October. To join a student must be enrolled in Distributive Education.

James Nation puts up the DECA banner for all to see. Dennis Schlegel and Mike Lindsey went from room to room selling candy and hats. Brenda Sorrels had the job of putting the showcase together. DE can help you find a job, but classwork is also essential. DECA students Steve Morgan and Jody Jones set the type on the printing press. Patricia Pilgrim and Cindy Testerman know that DECA also means speeches. Frances Hendrix shows Karen Frizzell how to work a cash register.

VICA attended the State Beauty and Barber Show, Holiday Hair Fashions and State Legislative Day at the capitol. They also went to both the State and District VICA Conferences. To raise money members sold cards, candy, candles and posters. They also held a slumber party and had breakfast meetings. In addition to this there was a Christmas Banquet and a trip to Six Flags. Students enrolled in cosmetology were eligible to join. The club was sponsored by Greta Emanuel.

Bonnie Gatewood and Trudy Crooks do fingernails, which is one of the first things you learn in VICA. Ouch! You got soap in my eyes. Sharon Washington and victim. Cindy Greenroyal practices on a head somebody didn't want. Mrs. Emanuel watches as Jody Tucker rolls Karen Price's hair. Kanetha Bell knows she loves the class but doesn't particularly like cleaning up. Mary Turner already has a customer. Joni Housley and Mary McCoy take turns doing each other's toes.

Choir was sponsored by O. J. Thomas. King and Queen this year were Curtis Staggs and Jamie York. Attendants were Brenda Stafford, junior; Bonnie Harn, sophomore; and La Donna Parish, freshman.

Mr. O. J. Thomas directs his choirs; they follow him; this makes it a beautiful sound. Vicki Barnett and Karla Forrest also out caroling, sing a duet. Music students work on putting feeling into their words. Patsie Dennis, Brenda Stafford, Greg Davis, Pat Hall, Sheila Parish and Doug Anderson get into the Christmas spirit by caroling.

After polishing up the brass, time comes to give them a work-out. Roxanne Hamm pauses a moment to tune up. Mr. Baker stops long enough to tell some tired students to keep on blowing. This year's attendants were Jana Ward, Mary Turner, Roxanne Hamm, Sylvia Archer, and Susan Blethrow. On homecoming day, students line the streets to watch the band march. The drummers wait patiently for their time to come in. Jason Hensley practices tooting his tuba while Linda Haynes looks on.

The Drill Team, sponsored by Evelyn Shelley, added some spice and well planned routines to the games. Majorettes and Flag Corps, under the leadership of Jim Baker, marched in parades and also performed at games.

Cindy Rowland helps Janice Goodmiller learn a new step. Majorettes march along with the band in the parade. The flag corps steps off the look of the band. Stopping for a moment to pose for a picture is Jana Ward. Drill team girls practice to give great performances at the games.

The Sabrettes were present at athletic events to cheer on US Grant. They sold ribbons, ushered at various events and sold programs to raise money. Scott Thomas was elected Pep Club Buddy. Members went to Six Flags. The purpose of the Pep Club is to promote school spirit. Sponsors were Lois Sughru, Connie Overstreet and Vickie Stewart.

Janice Curtis wonders who tied her hair to the arm of the chair. "Wait, you're tee-peeing the wrong thing," says Debbie Windsor to Mona Bridges. The best buddy is our Pep Club Buddy — Scott Thomas. Winning is easy with a super great pep club. Miss Sughru, and president of the pep club, Connie Conrad, discuss plans for the upcoming games. "Wait, don't go pinning anything on me, I just work here," Francine Cravatt and Sharon Washington feel that anyone at Grant is a General.

Pep Club Officers, Spirit Boosters and Cheerleaders were sponsored by Lois Sughru, Connie Overstreet and Vickie Stewart. The officers, elected by the Pep Club, are viewed by the sponsors as the "backbone of the club." Dimensions

In today's world, that four-wheeled mechanical marvel, the car, is both a status symbol and transportation. Walking is almost unheard of, and what one drives is almost as important as where one is going.

A little prestige, demonstrated by Dennis Luman. Ricky Smith takes off in his hand-built Laser 917 custom. "And here's something in our sub-compact size," Tom Irving, Gary Anderson, David King, Keith Grummer and James Burchett repair the results of Saturday night racing, "But I thought the fan went on top of the engine." Tulio Ramirez and Dale Marshall get with it. The whole story, the essence of speed.

Love, Caring, Sharing . . . whatever it's called, being together with someone can be very special. The little things, — happy times, arguments, responsibilities, and joys, all add up to one great thing that's just more than a feeling.

Good-byes are hard for David Baker and Karen Champlin to say, even though it will only be for one short hour. Scott Thomas takes Sharon Washington out on some really swingin' dates. Jan Grove finds out, the truth can sometimes be embarrassing after Jay Reid tells her, it was his mother in the car with him.

More than a feeling

Fashion today is becoming an art of self-expression. Almost anything goes from t-shirts to that slinky black jumpsuit. How a person is dressed indicates his or her frame of mind.

Assemblies offer a break from the grind of school work and a chance for folks to display their talents. The best thing about them is that both watching and participating are fun.

Generals show their spirit in many unusual ways, whether its yelling one's lungs out at a game, decorating a car, or participating in the Powder Puff Classic. No matter how it's done, students manage to convey the fact that Grant is a very spirited school.

Showing their "General" spirit, Karla Forrest and Debbie Bibb decorate their cars before the Southeast football game. There is something about the holidays that fills everybody with a special kind of excitement. Maybe it's the break from school, but most likely it's the chance for everyone to run around making merry. Holidays were excellent for just that reason.

Stormy Estell walks away with a bundle of goods for "goblins" to hand out for the Halloween trick or treaters. Kenny Wright tries to help Sandra Stringer pick out the perfect Christmas wreath for decoration. Van Logan and Scott Adams can't decide which Thanksgiving cards to buy. Melvin Roberson and Bernita Ford stock up on paper cups and plates for the New Year's celebration. Familiar face? Halloween was interrupted for Generals as we spooked the Spartans!

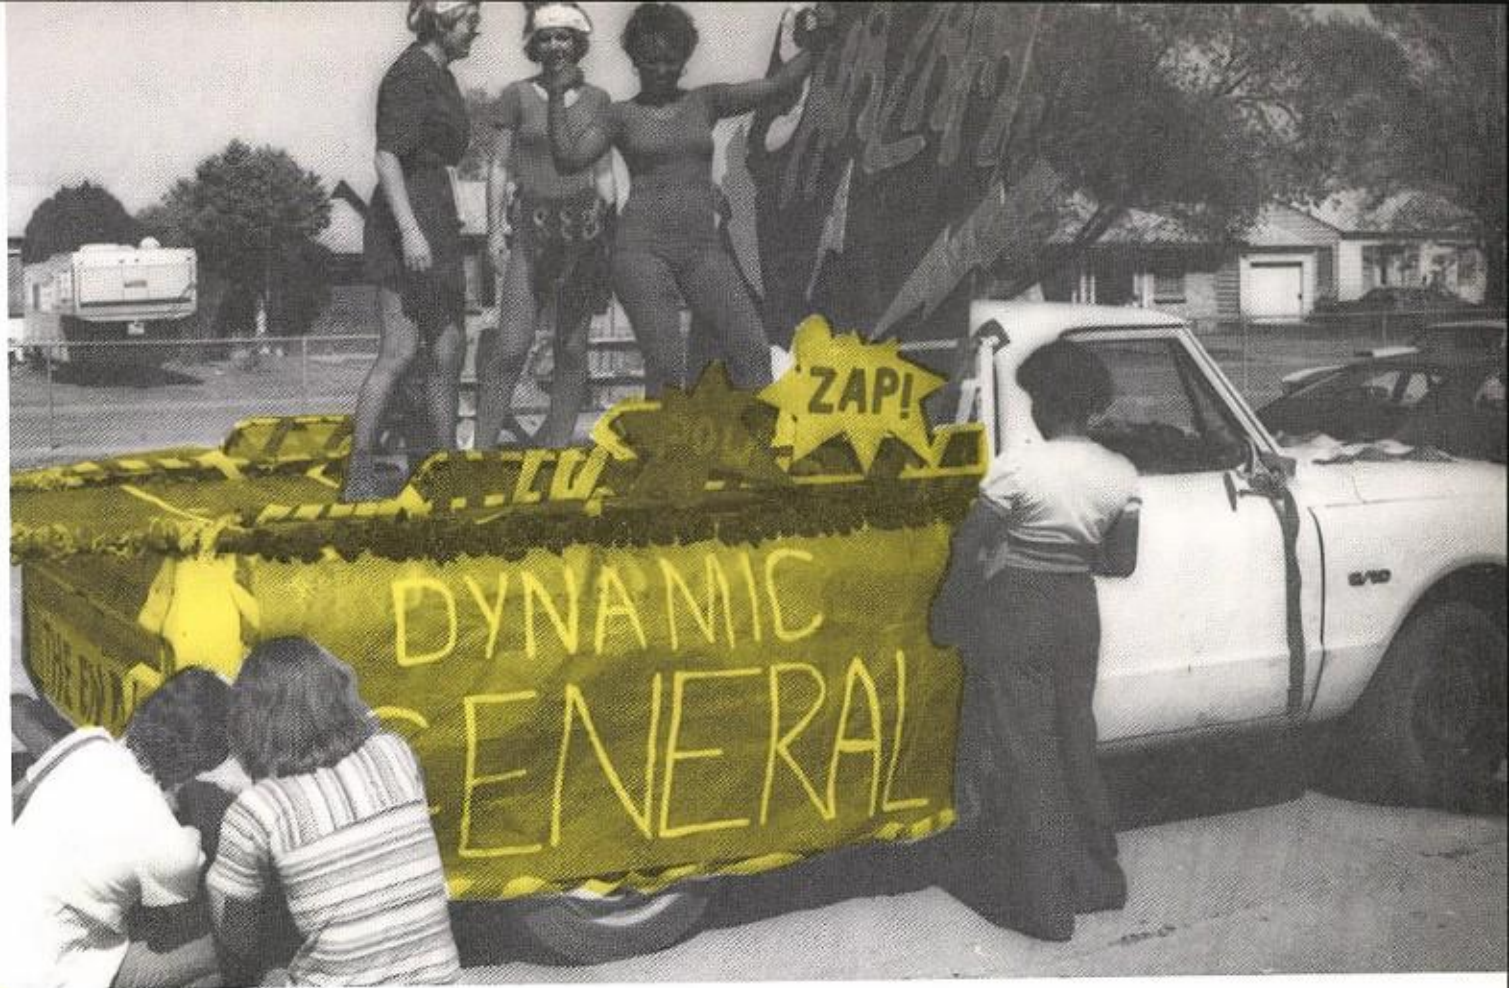

Home for the Holidays

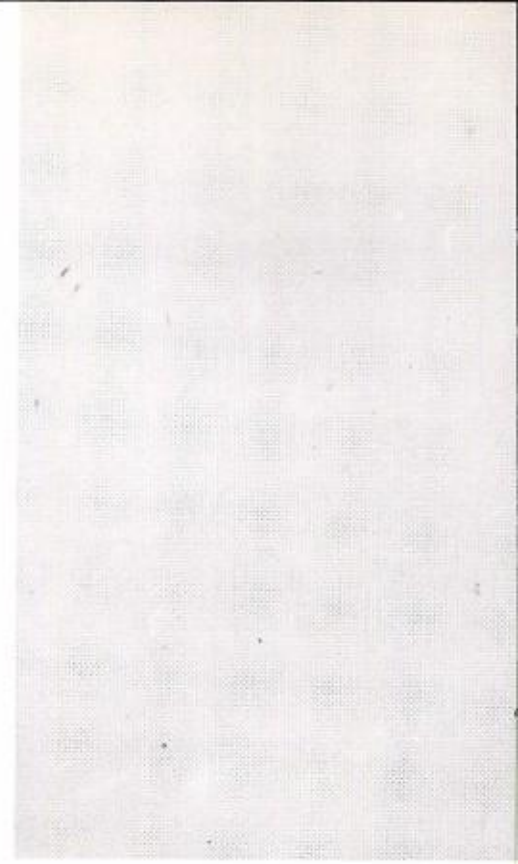

Floating with pride

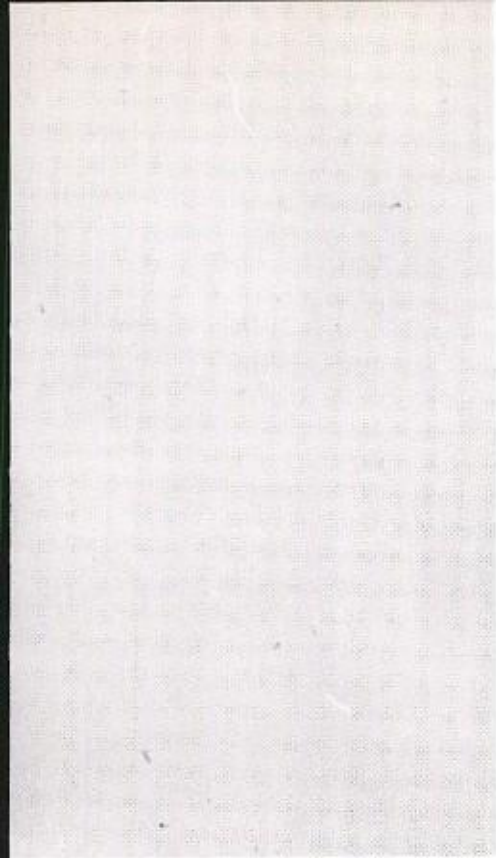

There are various types of showing your pride off in activities you partake in. One school-wide spirit raiser was building floats. Staying up the night before to finish decorating made it easier to remember. It was worth it though. Remember seeing our float? It was the best.

Ask Larry Suchy who is King of the Hill; one Redskin did. Patsie Houston, Jamie Young, and Sandy Williams know that all it takes is a 'zap' of a General to defeat a Capitol Hill Redskin. Tamra Shepard and Debbie Cowden both are excited about the game and are ready to FIRE upon the Redskins and knock'em dead. The Monster Squad scared the Redskins to death. General Grant made a visit to the parade and on a float. Those Redskins offered us peace, but we took a VICTORY!

We're the angels sent from HEAVEN
We're the class of '77

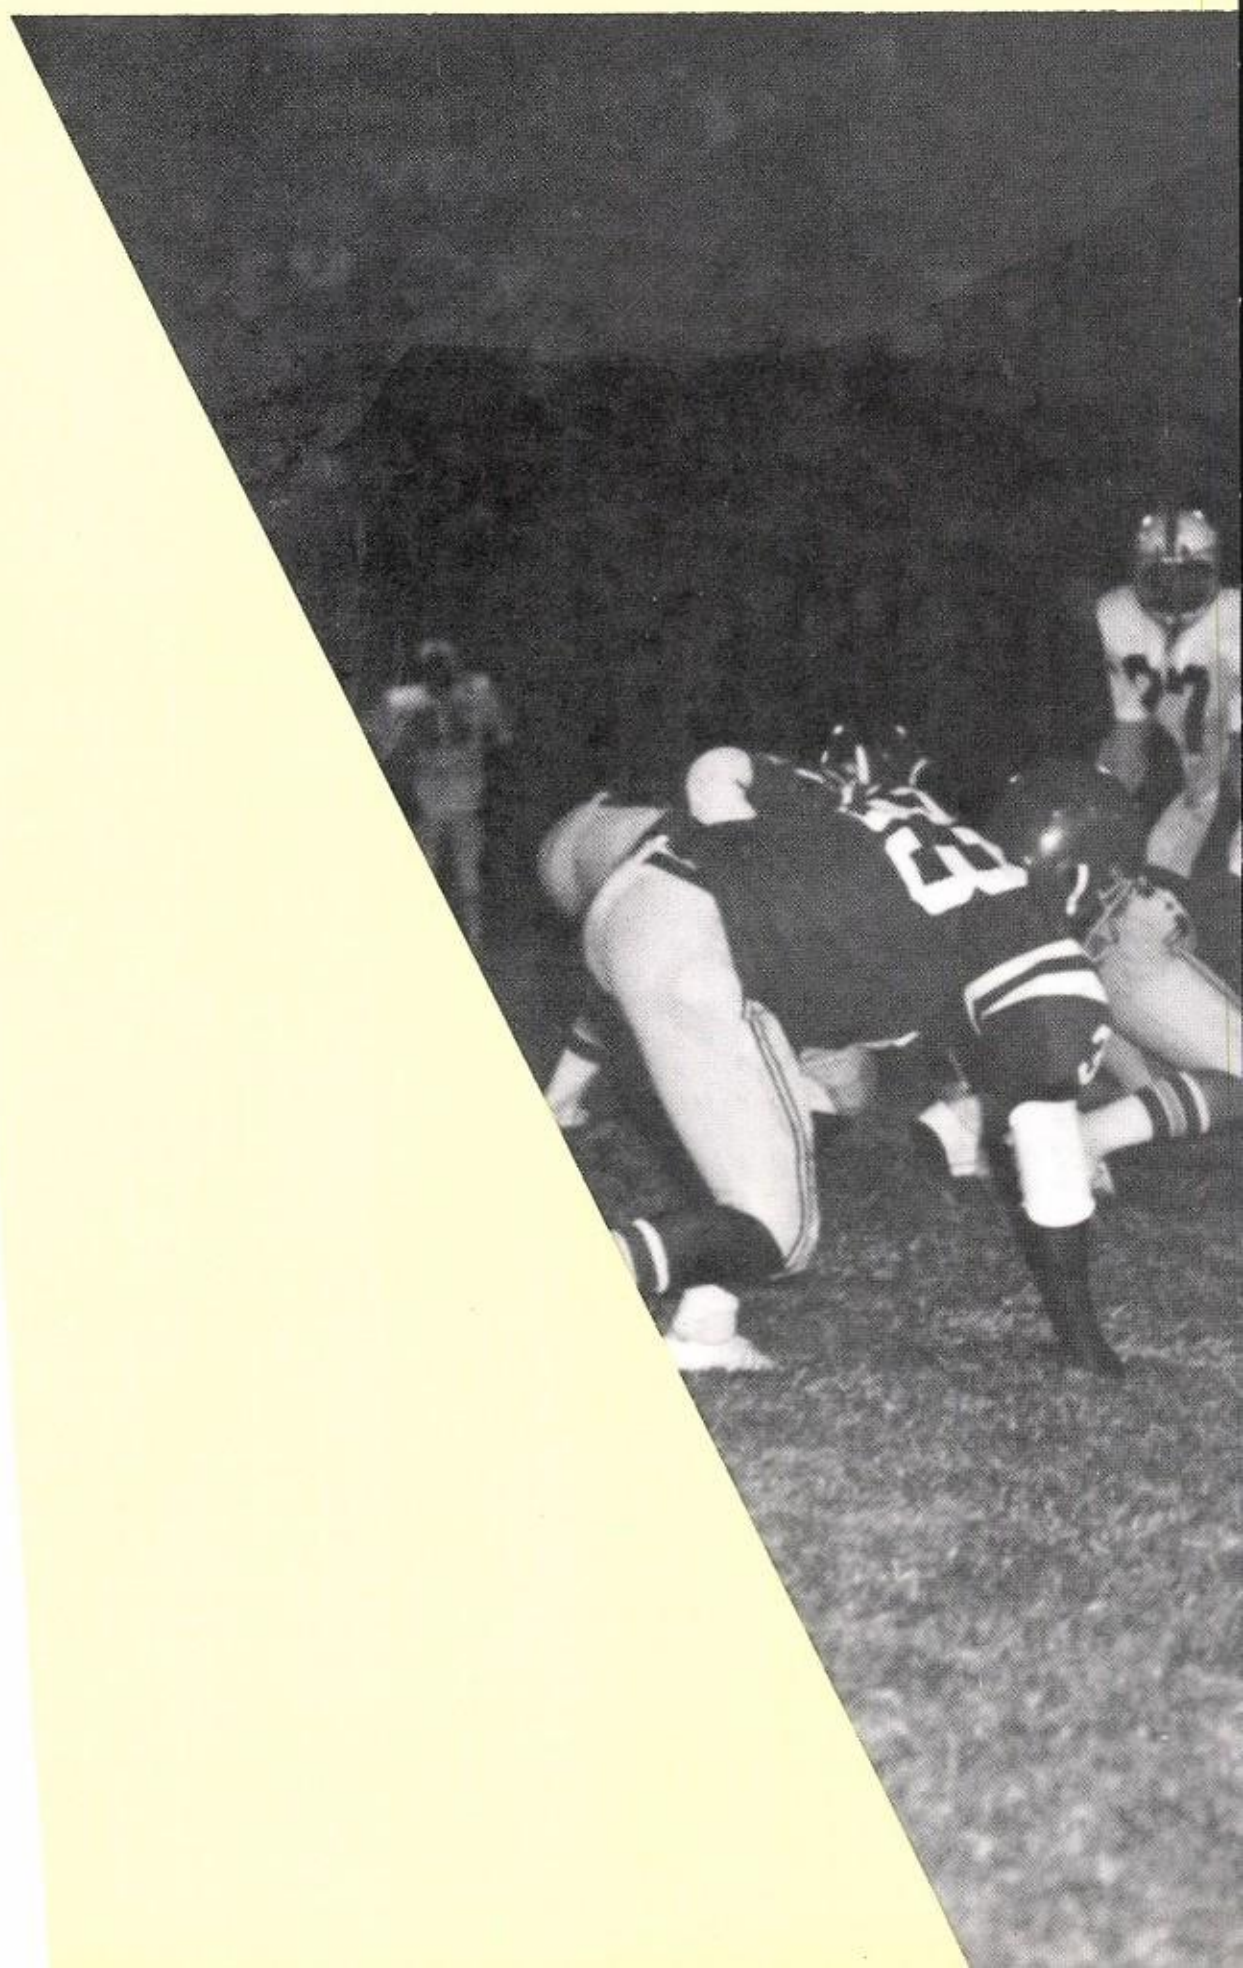

This whole year has quickly passed with every day making it memorable as a Senior. The dreams we dreamed as freshmen have all come to be. As graduation approaches, I, too, have begun to realize that the dreams of yesterday are becoming the realities of my today.

Another way of showing our spirit is wearing a 77 necklace. Seniors really did have the spirit to get out in freezing weather to form their annual Senior circle at the final football game of the season. We feel it's really a big thing to show we have a lot of spirit for our school, so we show it by working together to make our hall the best ever. Melita Robinson, Shelley Phillips, Jana Patton, Jeff Darrow, Jennifer Smith, Randy Wilhite, and Scott Thomas talk about what they want to do after they get out of school. Some Seniors put in a lot of time and effort to put that float together for the homecoming pride, which won first place.

It is the thrill of victory and not the agony of defeat
that lures me into trying to be an athlete.
Losing won't kill me,
but when I win, it's fantastic.

Projections

Scott Thomas is the first to arrive and crunch his way through the homecoming banner. Bombers stare on star-struck as Generals make a touchdown. Buster Keasler is cold and the last game of the season was no warm night as the Generals knew. Coach Choate prepares the team for their second half, but all the Generals care about is getting warmed up and thawed out to go out and do it "again." The Vikings don't have a prayer as Generals got out on the field and carried the ball and their hopes away. David Lambeth reaches up and GRABS a Bomber.

Football Scores 4-7 Season

"The 76-77 football season wasn't a great one in the win-loss column but the team matured and gained valuable experience over the year," explained Head Coach Dean Choate. The record for the year was 4 wins against 7 losses.

The Generals' opponents were "tougher and more numerous than in previous years," said the coach. Three of the four teams in the class 4A semifinals were on their schedule.

The gridsters started the season on a sour note by losing to state champion Del City, 20 to 2. They rebounded by crushing Star Spencer 20 to 0, then lost to Putnam City and Moore before winning their Homecoming over the Capitol Hill Redskins by a 7-6 score.

They ended the season by posting two victories in their last three outings. They beat rival Southeast and Northeast.

The most impressive team this year was the Junior Varsity. They were 5-3 on the year while the Freshmen were 2 and 7.

Coach Predicts Improvements

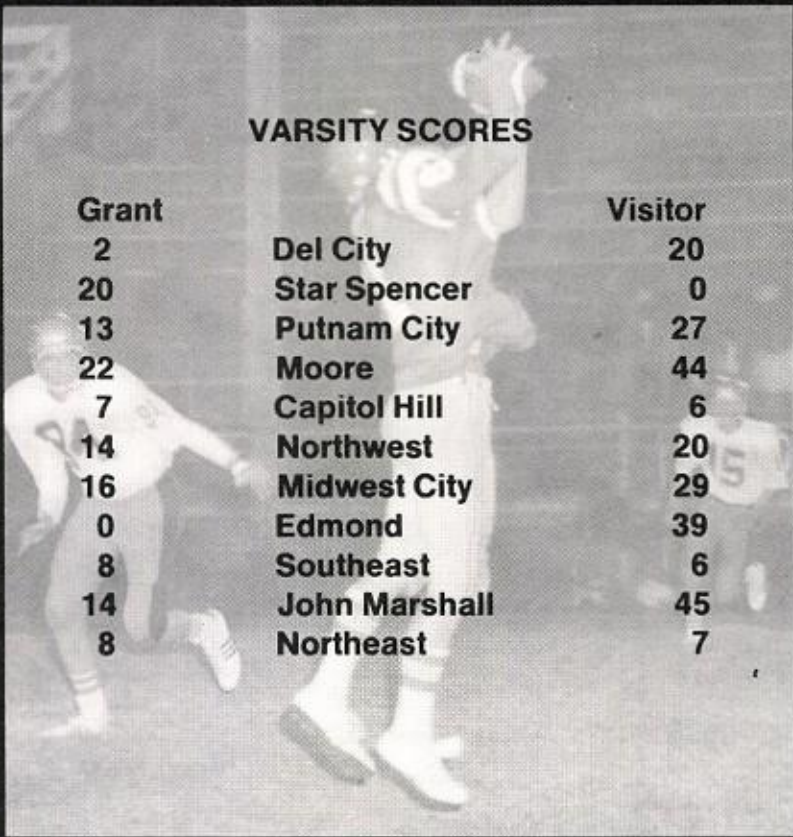

"This year we lost six starting seniors, compared to the year before when we lost 22. If we aren't better next year we'll never be better," explained Head Coach Dean Choate.

The team was powered by the play of the underclassmen, he said. Over 20 underclassmen started at one time or another. Many more have seen action.

He believes that the team will be "more physical" and if they are "mentally prepared things would go our way."

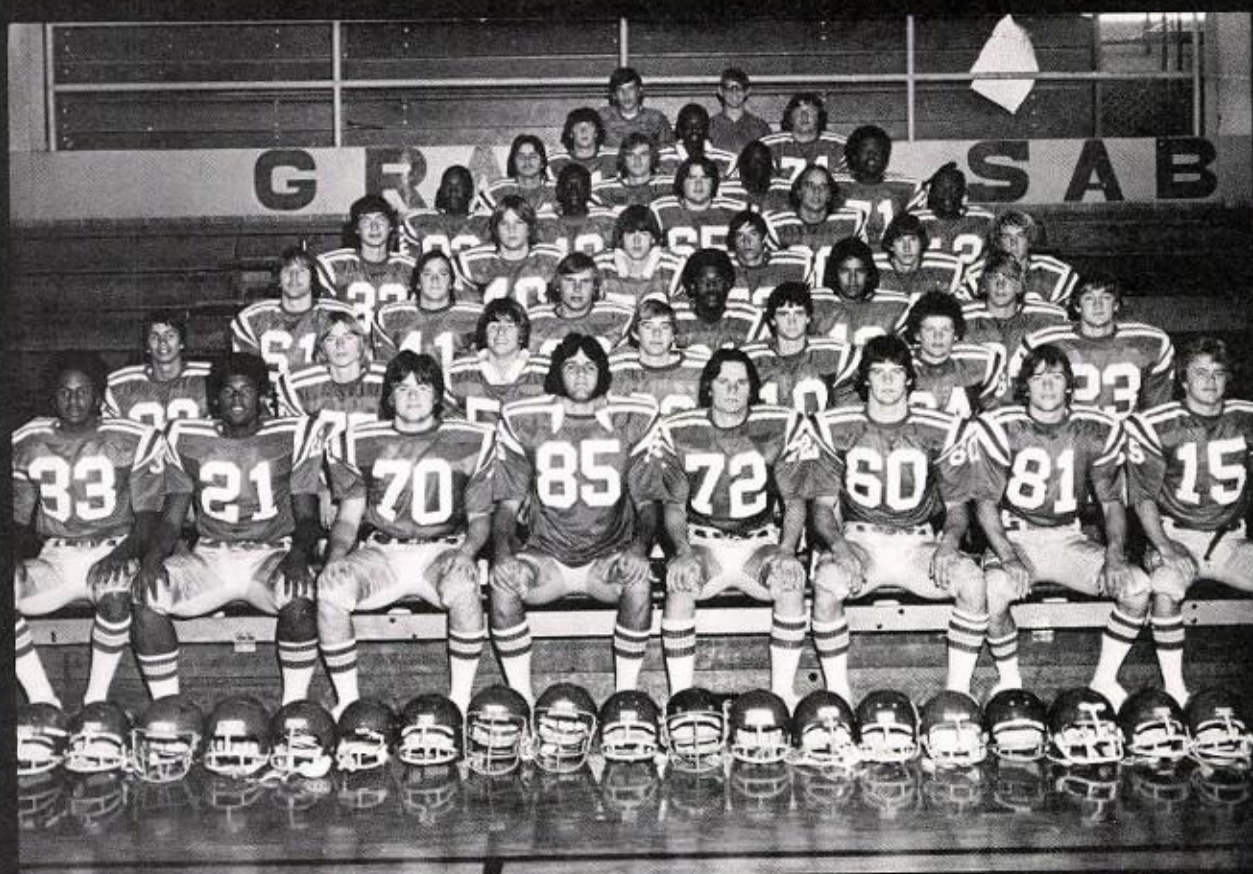

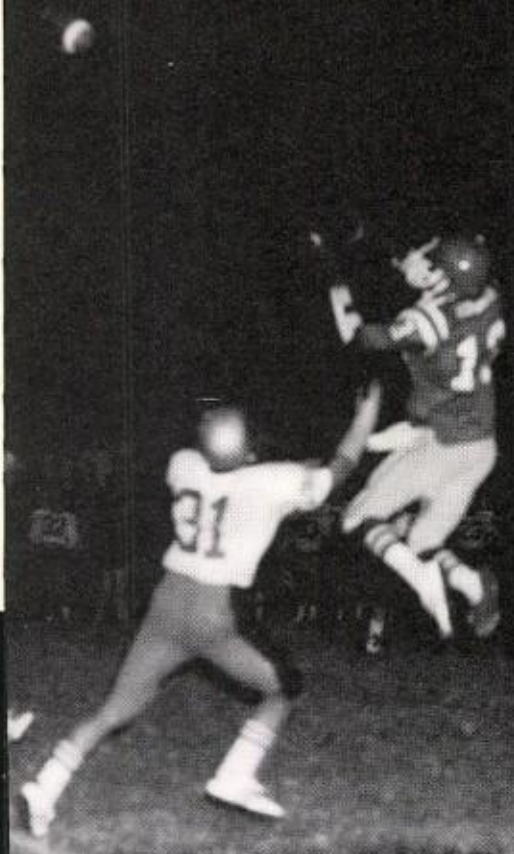

"As for the season," Choate continued, "the only game we lost that we should have won was to Northwest Classen."

Next year his goals are number one to win the conference and from there to win state. "We have the material to be as good as we want to be. It's just a matter of going out there and doing it."

Cagers Surprise Pollsters, 12-10

For the first time in 10 years, the Generals ended the year with a winning season. The roundballers finished regular season play with a 12-10 record.

In the pre-season poll, the Generals were predicted to end up last in the Midstate, but surprised the pollsters with a 2nd place finish. The cagers had big wins over Northwest, Putnam City, and Edmond to vault them into the thick of the conference race.

'Hindu' Leads Team in Scoring

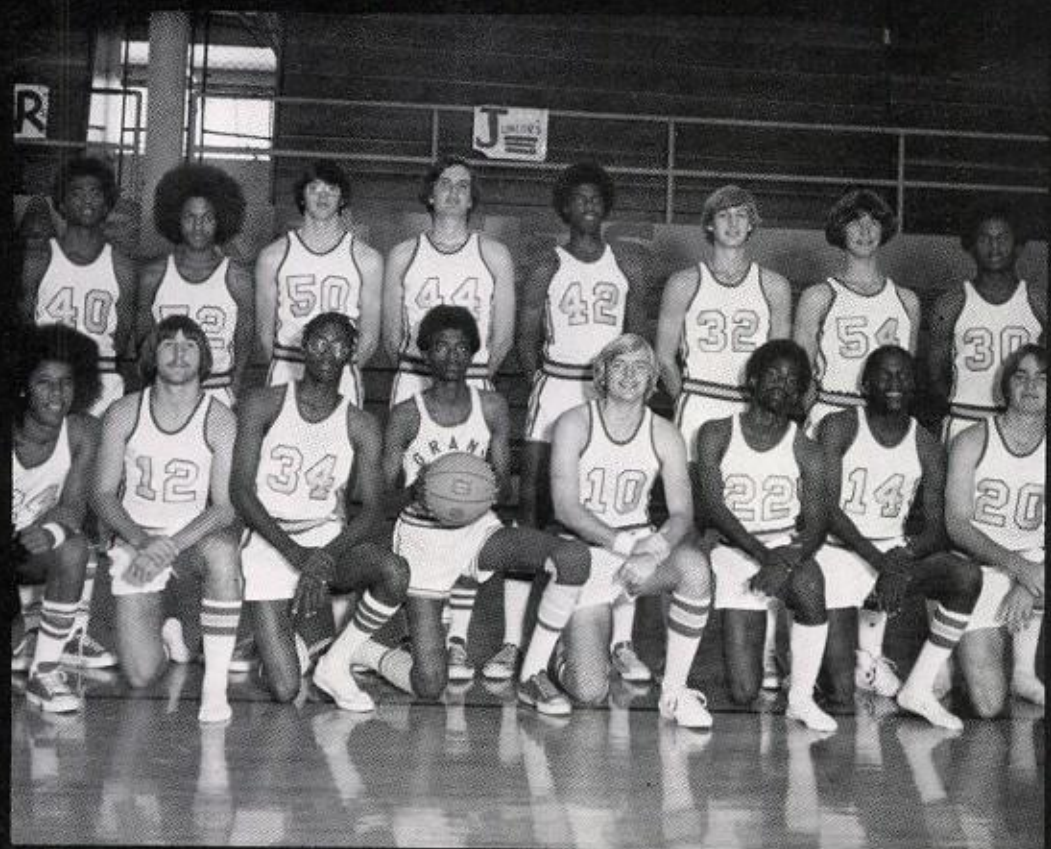

Top scorer for the Generals this year was sophomore Carl "Hindu" Henry. He led all other conference scorers with a 18-point average. He was also one of the top scoring sophomores in the state, and claimed tenth place in scoring among all players in class 4A basketball.

Other leading scorers were Rick Washington and William Kralik. On several occasions, Rick scored over 20 points. Wendell Fitchner, Scott Thomas, and Theodore Morgan also proved to be very valuable assets to the team.

Starke Predicts Wins Next Year

Coach Bob Starke anticipates another winning season next year, with the returning of four starters.

"The underclassmen players gained very valuable experience. This should help the team in years to come," commented Coach Starke.

Leading candidates for starting berths for next year are Wendell Fitchner, William Kralik, and Carl Henry. Also expected to be instrumental players for the varsity squad are Ted Norman, Dennis Taplin, Charles Rowland, Tyrone Galbreath, David Barton, Stacey Reese and Theodore Morgan.

"The absence of a second and third big man to play the boards will be our greatest weakness, but the team possesses very good shooters," added Coach Starke.

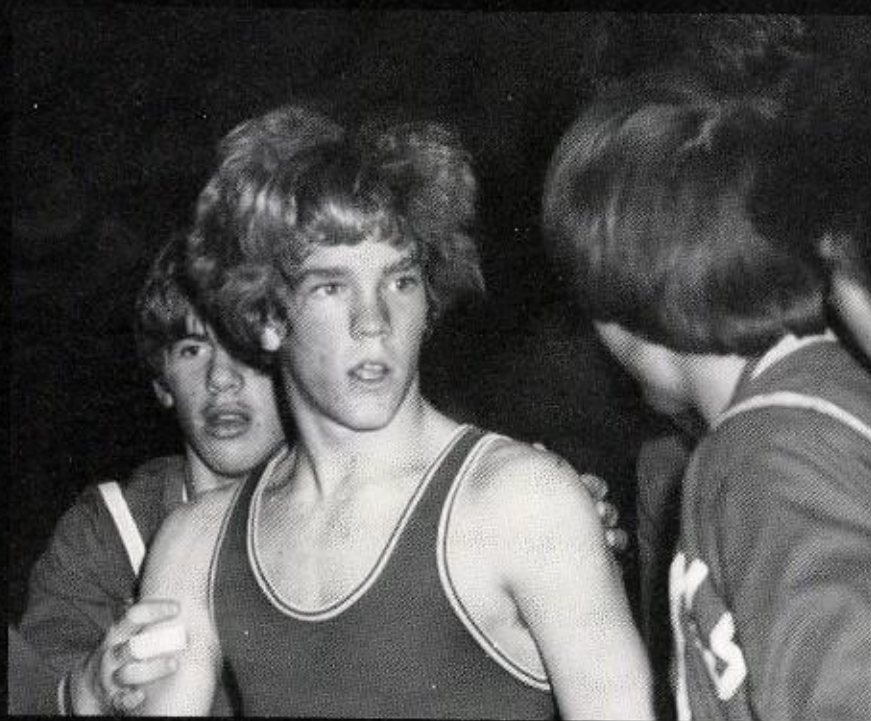

Wrestlers Take Fifth in Mid-State

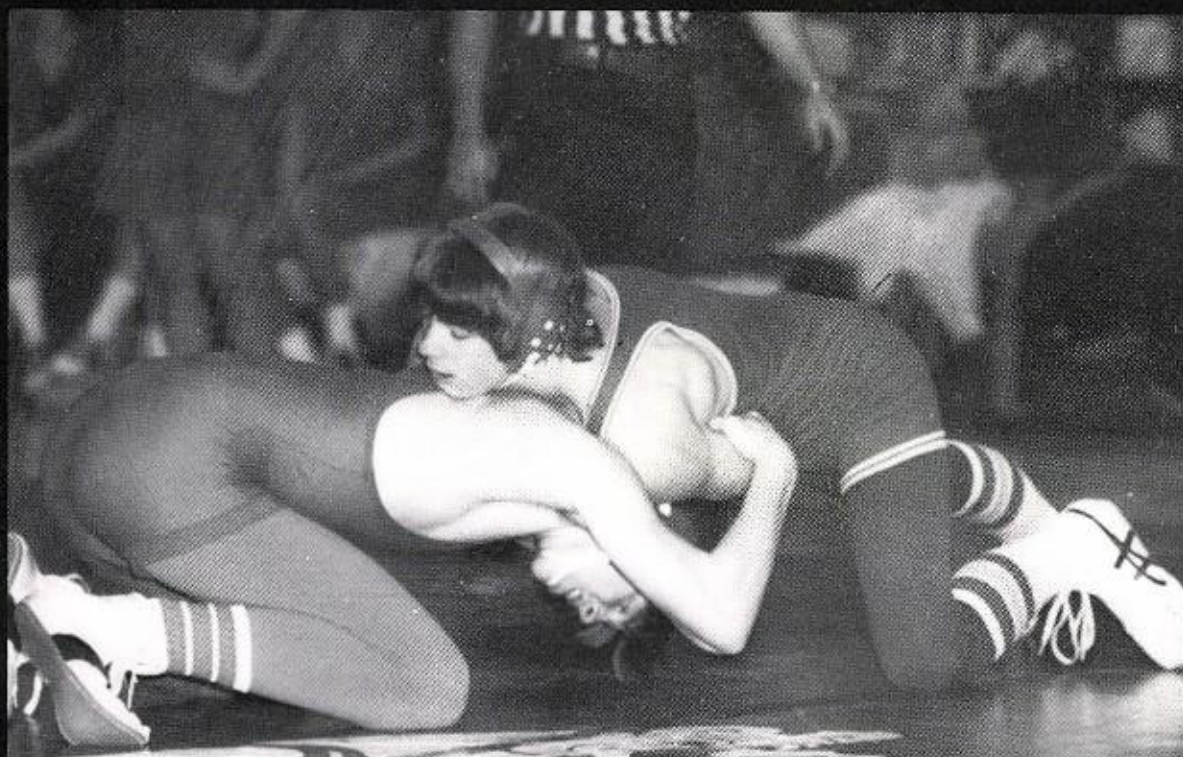

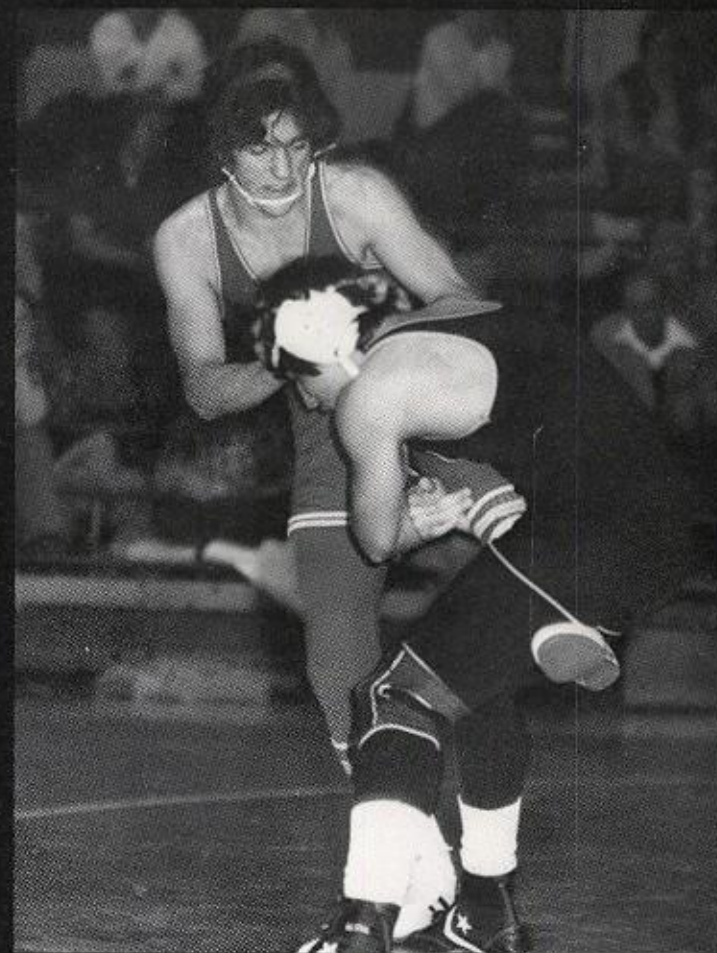

The wrestling team, under the leadership of rookie Head Coach Lewis Quintane, finished the regular season with a fifth place in the mid-state conference. They also recorded four dual victories.

Coach Quintane commented, "I'm very much impressed with the way the kids have wrestled this year. They wrestled well in every match," especially against number one rank Midwest City."

Quintane listed the team's greatest accomplishment this year as third place finish in the all-city wrestling tournament.

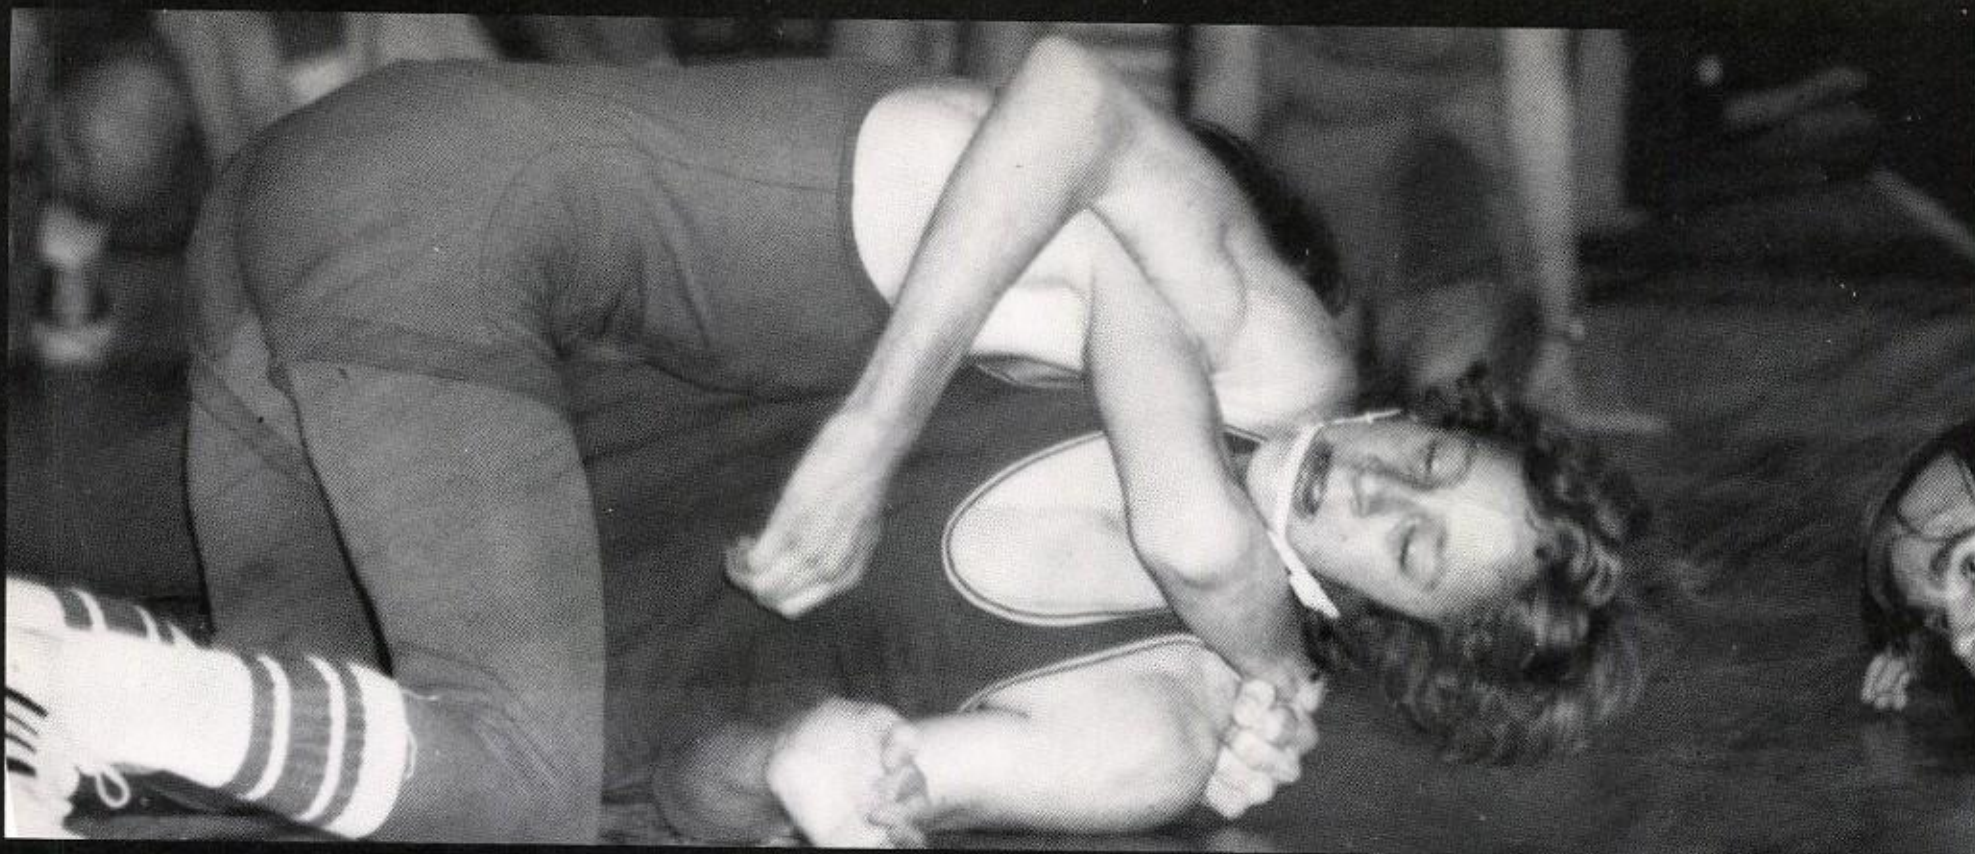

Leading wrestlers were Andy Taylor, James Roberson, and Jerry and Randy Wooton. Andy led the team in the wins with a 25 and 7 mark. He placed in every tournament that he entered except state where he lost in the consolation semi-finals.

Matmen Lose Only One Senior

The wrestling team this year graduated only one senior. Next year the team should "be better" in all but a few of the weight divisions, Coach Quintane said. Because they were a young team they have had a lot of "room for improvement." He said "We should be a better dual and an excellent tournament team, and if we progress quickly we'll become Mid-State contenders in a year or so."

The top prospects for next year are Walley Willis, John Bottoms, Randy Wooton, Jeff McKey, Phillip Hook, Jerry Wooton, James Roberson, Tony Gracy, Chuck Love, Doug Anderson and Alan Martin.

Hardballers

Open '77 Season With New Uniforms

During the 76 baseball season, the team was consistently ranked in the top five in Class 4-A. They were runner up in Mid-State conference. They finished with a 23-10 record, and tied for third in state.

Coach Glen Castle was predicting a favorable record as his hardballers donned new uniforms for the 77 season.

Among those expected to be key starters because of previous performance were Tommy Walkabout, pitcher; Todd Demeter, first baseman; Mike Anglin, shortstop and Randy Goodwin, outfielder.

Russell Demeter, senior and third year starter was elected to all metro and all city teams last year, so the coach expects another productive season for the celebrity.

Coach listed Northwest and Edmond, and possibly Putnam City top competition in the Mid-State, as well as Norman.

Infielder Mike Anglin robs an opponent of a base hit. Senior pitcher Tom Walkabout shows complete concentration as he hurls another pitch. Track Team Starts Season With More Strength

In his second year as head track coach, Mark Lyons was predicting more strength for his squad than they displayed last year.

With four men going to state tournament last year, Coach Lyons predicts an even stronger showing this year.

Two of the four state competitors returned to the squad this season. Events in which they represented the school last year were Brett Hayes, 2-mile run and Alfonso Alexander, 220-yard dash.

Expected to excel in competition this season are James Roberson, Rick Washington, Alfonso Alexander, Tyrone Galbreath, Brett Hayes, Scott Thomas, Chris Ball, Scott Kilgore, Randy Woods, and Pete Heirston.

Newcomers are Carl Henry, Mike Walker and Gregg Davis.

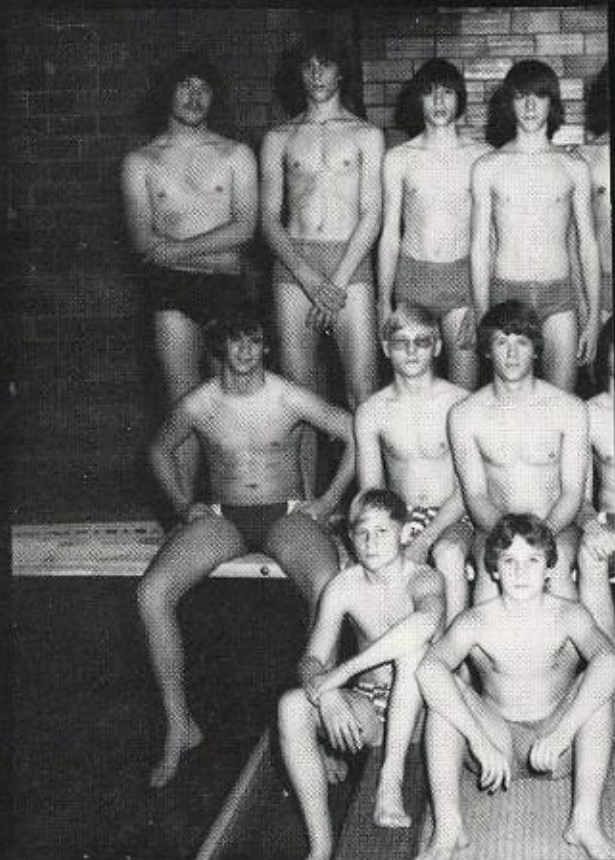

The strong events for the squad will be the 440 relay, 2 mile, 80 and 120 high hurdles, 100 yard dash, 220 yard dash and the high jump.

Coach Lyons believes he can send up to six men to the state track meet this year. "The team will be one of Grant's better track teams and with a little work we may have a State Champion," he said.

Perseverance is one of the main qualities a cross country runner must have, and Chris Ball is a good example as he finishes a five-mile run. Hours of practice help Jeff Keester to perfect his diving techniques. Running with friends makes the going a little easier for Shelly Motsenbocker, Nancy Effinger, and Candise McCowen. Runners Take Medals; Swimmers Win Meets Continuing as swimming coach was Mr. John Savage, and in his second year as cross country coach was Mr. Harold Crosley.

The swimming team won two meets and lost four meets. Heading the swim team were Keith Brown, Robert Merideth, David Foleman, Jeff Keester, and Jim Coffee.

The team this year was young over-all, with only four seniors; Coach Savage predicts a much improved season next year.

The cross country team took third in the city.

Cross country star Brett Hayes, only a sophomore, won medals in every meet in which he contended; he took ninth in regionals and twelfth in the state.

Other cross country runners who competed were Chris Ball, Wally Willis, Jerry Wooten, Randy Wooten, and David Rivers.

Females who ran cross country were Candy McGowen, Nancy Effinger, and Shelley Motsenbocker.

Golf, Tennis Go Into Season As Winners

Both the golf and tennis teams were anticipating award-laden seasons this spring after the golf team placed third in state in 1976 and the tennis team was all-city runner-up.

Coach Harold Crosley predicted that Kelly Clark and Jeff Baker would lead the team this spring. Coach Crosley indicated that he hoped to "finish in the upper part of Mid-State."

Among the golfers were Gigi Baker, Marcy Whittington, Jamie Davis and Jennifer Smith. The girls had difficulty finding opponents from other schools.

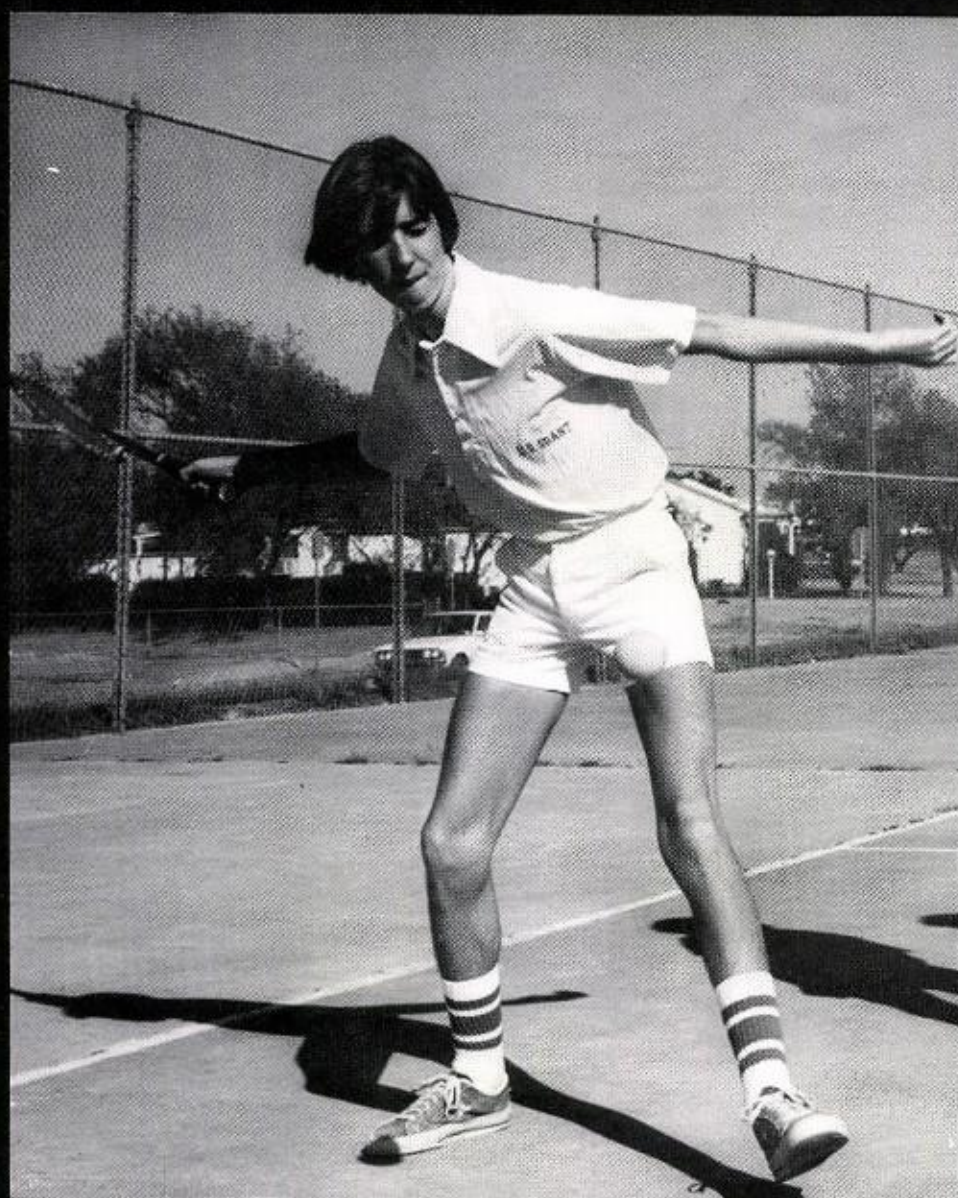

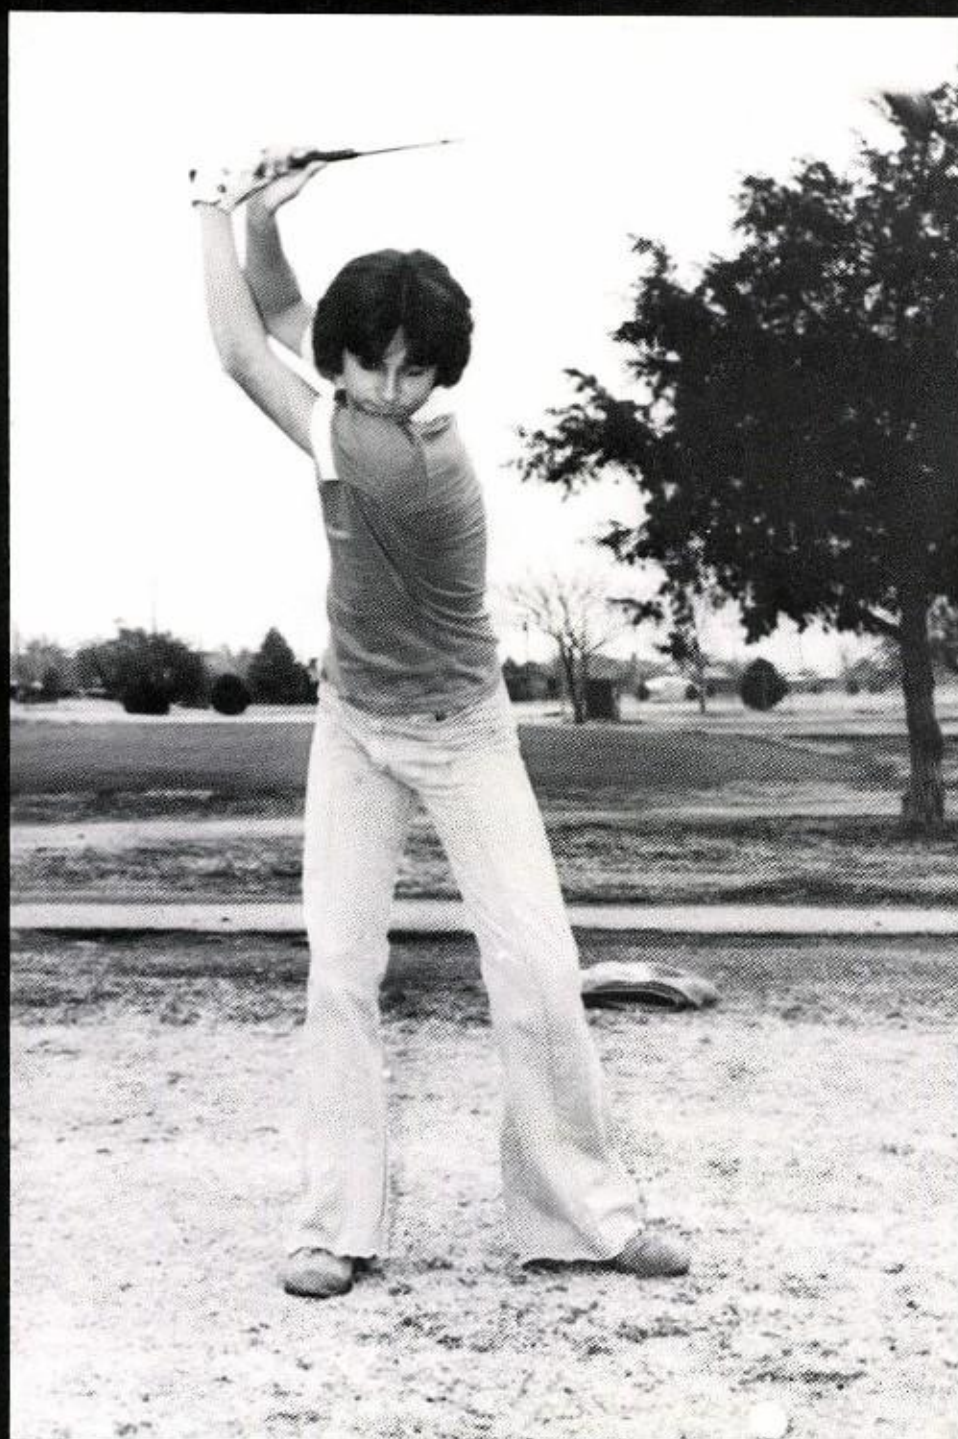

Other team members were Robert Camp, Steve Darnold, Sam Kirby and Dave Smith.

Tennis opened this season with four returning starters: Tim Moen, Jimmy Reynolds, Leland McDowell and Johnny Bailey.

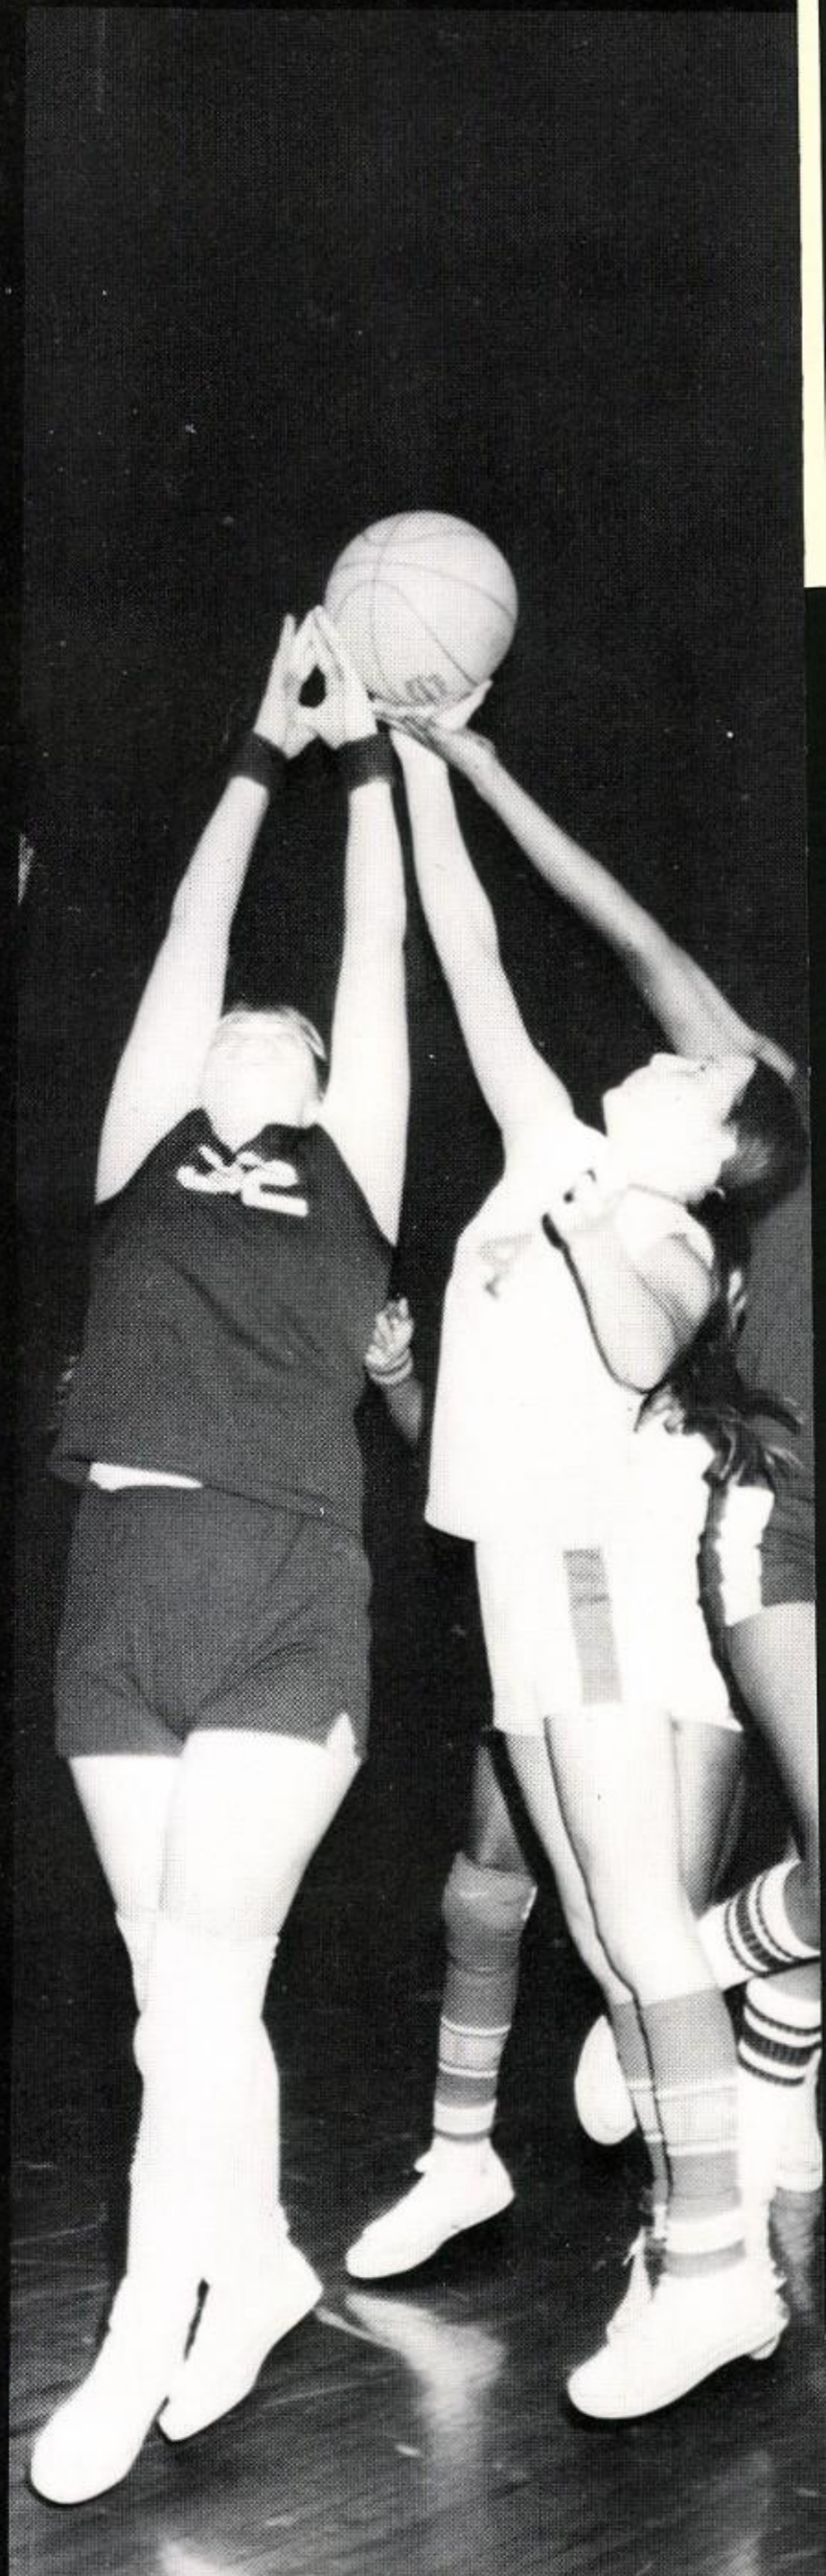

Coach Jim Faurot expected top prospects for the season to lie in Alan Switzer.

Girls on the tennis team were Tamala Shepherd and Florence Mathis.

Girls Take All City in Volleyball Hit Cager Defense

Girls' basketball excelled in defense this season, and the girls' volleyball team won the All City tournament. Miss Connie Ellis coached both groups.

The basketball team had four returning starters but over-all had an inexperienced squad.

Coach Ellis predicted a much improved team next year, expecting to lose only two starters.

Top players this year were Gigi Baker, Adrienne Cooper, Lydia Washington, Dana King, Cheryl Harris, Michelle Rowlan, Darla King, and Betty Stanford.

Coach Ellis predicted that the volleyball squad would again take the All-City title. She was hoping for an even stronger team this year than last year, with several returning starters and some new talent.

Girls' Basketball. Front Row: Betty Stanford, Gina Speegle, Dana King, Beverly Marble, Darla King, Lydia Washington, LaDonna Parrish, Tina Little. Second Row: Mrs. Connie Ellis, coach, Cindy Graham, Adrienne Cooper, Cheryl Smith, Lynn VanHorn, Cheryl Harris, Cindy Quintero, Sheila Parrish, Vickie Parker. Not Pictured: Michelle Rowlan, captain, Gigi Baker, co-captain, Donna Paddlety. Girls' Volleyball. Front Row: Tracy Adeock, Gina Holden, Tammie McCoy, Lydia Washington, Dana King, Darla King, Betty Stanford, Cindy Quintero. Second Row: Ruth Smith, Patricia Shannon, Beverly Marble, Adrienne Cooper, Brenda Allen, Donna Paddlety, Regina Martin. Third Row: Sheree Floyd, Cathy Curry, Linda Black, Tara Hefner, Mrs. Connie Ellis, coach, Patty Sanders, Candy McCown, Tina Little, Cheryl Harris, Dore Schilling. Coach Ellis and captain Michelle Rowlan discuss a quick strategy during a timeout. Cindy Graham goes high in the air for a blocked shot as Michelle Rowlan looks on. Dana King struggles for a rebound while being sandwiched by two opposing players. Darla King shows what effort it takes to volley the ball back.

Girls' Softball Takes City Championship, Track Expands

The girls' softball team took the City Championship with a 6-1 record in the city slow pitch softball league, and the girls' track team was expecting a lot of newcomers this spring, according to coach Ellis.

Top players on the softball squad were Tina Little, Dore Schilling, Cheryl Harris, Darla King, Dana King, Rhonda Hook, Betty Stanfor, and Gina Speegle.

Coach Ellis was expecting the next squad to be as strong as the last one because she was expecting to lose only two seniors.

Among the newcomers on the track team were Cassandra Rodgers, Connie Jacobs, Sylvia Marshall, Dana King, Stacy Gowens, Deanna Dixon, and Phyllis Morgan.

Because of the additional interest experienced by the girls in track, coach Ellis was predicting strong showings at the meets. She further predicted a much wider variety of entries.

Although the snow provides lots of fun in Oklahoma, an over abundance created a natural gas crisis in the north eastern section of the country. Dr. Jerry Smythe talks over proceedings with Mr. John Moham, Mrs. Francis Hendrix and Mrs. Dorothy Dean about the North Central evaluation committee. Dennis Mooney smiles with relief as he presents evidence of fulfilling his immunization requirements to Mrs. Pat Griggs. Human relations director Miss Wanda Humes, discusses with Lesa Splawn and Unice Spann the main purposes of the advisory period.

It seems that problems keep mounting for my world and me, but somehow I always manage to cope . . . somehow

It was hard to wait for the results from the ACT and then I still had to decide on a college and a jillion other things.

Robin Linduff prepares to register at OU. Mona Bridges and Anne Miller look over college brochures. Anita Street decides that after graduation working is the route to take, and she enjoys it at Streets. Wedding bells ring for Sherri Wynn after graduation, and Mary Perakis admires her beautiful ring.

The four-color cover for the 1977 General was donated by the family of Clint Rodgers in his memory.

"I'm not one who makes believe.
I know that leaves are green.
They only change to brown
when autumn comes around.
I know just what I say.
Today's not yesterday and all things have an ending."
